

G. O. P. INVADES FORMER VISTAS OF BOURBONS

Hoover Opens Headquarters in House Where Democratic Chiefs Held High Councils — Near Wilson Home — Mr. Curtis Discusses the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP)—When Herbert Hoover set up his new campaign headquarters today he moved into the heart of a former democratic environment.

The big gray stone, slate-roofed home on Massachusetts avenue that he has taken as his new office and that is so reminiscent of the gray and blue of Paris streets, is the property of Mrs. F. B. Moran for years an active leader in democratic ranks.

The wide front room, with its triple windows opening on the leafy branches of the avenue's spreading trees, will see republican conclaves during the coming months, when leaders from every state assemble to consult. "The chief," but in other years its walls have listened to the high councils of democracy.

Just across from the corner occupied by the new Hoover headquarters and only a stone's throw away, is the Woodrow Wilson home still a center for democratic tradition.

Today the former democratic stronghold of the Moran home says not the vanguard of republican chiefdom, but an army of dusky-headed attendants with mops and pails, preparing for the new regime. In the cool square entrance hall opening on the street, and down the broad, curving staircase from the floor above, only slight splashes of water later hurry political leaders will come and go. But the task of moving files and office equipment, typewriters and mimeograph machines, from the Hoover home on S street, scarcely a city block away, was on.

WATKIN GLEN, N. Y., Aug. 29.—(AP) Tariff revision is the keynote of the eastern campaign of Senator Charles Curtis, republican vice-presidential nominee, who is carrying the brunt of his party's speaking drive in the east.

In an address at Syracuse yesterday the senator promised tariff revision to provide increased protection to agriculture as well as to industry and labor, and at Harrisburg tomorrow he is expected to emphasize this argument.

The vice-presidential nominee is continuing the practice of his western campaign, speaking three and four times a day. He rested in this quiet town today, however, after a strenuous visit to Syracuse.

There he delivered his principal address at the state fair grounds, but before that he spoke briefly at a reception, urging women voters to increased activity. He also visited a children's spelling bee, dined at the grand stand and the fair grounds race track, and went of an Indian village where he witnessed a war dance. He spoke briefly on each visit.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—(AP) The social welfare committee of the Inter-Parliamentary Union Congress unanimously adopted today a motion reported by Representative Florella H. La Guardia of New York recommending the proper care of narcotics victims of all countries. This motion was presented by Representative Stephen P. Porter of Pennsylvania last year and had been held over.

Mr. La Guardia then introduced a motion concerning with the criminal laws regarding the sale of narcotics. This will be considered next year.

Mr. La Guardia also was appointed the United States representative of the sub-committee which will report on a project for uniform laws for the protection of wives, mothers and children. This was introduced by Frau Louise Schroeder of the German Reichstag.

DOUGLAS FIREBUG SETS 75 BLAZES AND ARREST NEAR

ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 29.—(AP) A second attempt to burn timbered lands in the south Myrtle Creek district was reported last night when from 50 to 75 fires were started in the Weaver creek section. Fires were started through a week ago but were extinguished before any damage resulted. The fire protection agencies had anticipated further trouble in that district and had guards stationed at various points. The person who set the fires eluded the guards, however, but officers said they believed they had established his identity. They said an arrest was expected soon.

The fires were strung out for a distance of three miles in the district where incendiarism was responsible for a fire covering 6,500 acres in 1926. A preliminary report was secured on last night's fires and they were said to be under control today. Little damage resulted.

Six incendiary fires were also reported on Island ridge in the Cow creek canyon.

AMID ACCLAIM KELLOGG SAILS ON IRISH TRIP

American Envoy Paid High Deference By French — Erin President Stands at Attention, When Band Plays 'God Save the King'.

HAVRE, France, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Secretary Kellogg said farewell to France this morning, sailing on the cruiser Detroit at 11:00 o'clock for Ireland.

Havre, which first greeted the secretary on his arrival in France, gave him a fitting goodbye. The quay was lined with people when he went aboard the ship.

A French regimental band played "The Hymn of Departure" while the statesman stood at attention on the deck of the Detroit as the American flag was hoisted to the masthead and unfurled majestically in a strong sea breeze.

Mr. Kellogg arrived from Paris on a special train, placed at his disposal by the government. The train made fast time, as the tracks had been cleared as far as possible to facilitate his early arrival.

Railroad workers, villagers and country people all along the route were on watch for the special and waved their handkerchiefs and hats and cheered as the train went by.

This to the last the secretary was treated by the French people with the most respectful dignified deference, making the extraordinary precautions taken for his safety look ridiculously unnecessary.

President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State accompanied Mr. Kellogg from Paris and also embarked on the Detroit. He stood at attention at the head of the gangplank, while the band played "God Save the King."

Shortly before 11 the Detroit slowly moved away from her moorings amidst the strains of "The Hymn of Departure" played by the band on shore.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg came on deck when they heard the music and cheering and stood there until the cruiser had cleared the dock and turned for the channel. They waved their hands and handkerchiefs to the cheering crowd.

"You can tell everyone how I appreciate the welcome I received in France," was the secretary's parting words. "Foreign Minister Briand, the French government and the people everywhere have done more than I thought anyone could do or anyone deserve."

The secretary took with him the now famous renunciation of war treaty, which was signed in Paris on Monday.

WOMAN PAROLED FROM ASYLUM IS HELD A SWINDLER

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Arlene B. Willis, wanted in Los Angeles on a charge of grand theft and subject of much publicity recently in connection with a project said to have involved the purchase of the "Seminar," vessel owned by Commodore Von Luckner, German naval hero, will be given a hearing in the office of Governor Patterson tomorrow at 10 o'clock. The hearing will be on a requisition from California demanding her extradition.

After coming to Portland, Mrs. Willis was committed, on March 13, to the state hospital for the insane. She was paroled August 22 to her brother, E. A. Bryan, of Portland.

The complaining witness against Mrs. Willis is Albert K. Lucas, a Los Angeles attorney. His affidavit shows that she represented to him that she was the owner of 1300 acres of timber land in Douglas county, Oregon, valued at $20,000, that it was unencumbered and that the timber on the land was worth over $5000. She borrowed $5000 from Lucas, giving him a deed to the land as security, the money to be paid, his affidavit says in 30 days. She explained that she needed the $5000 to promote a motion picture deal and that if she did not get it she would lose thousands of dollars.

When the money was not paid as agreed, Lucas investigated. He says that he discovered that she had issued fictitious checks in the sum of $2000 and that she admitted she had misrepresented the property. The affidavit states that the timber had been sold, that there was a $2500 mortgage on the property and that taxes were behind four years.

John H. Nash and Mrs. Rose Bryan, deputy sheriffs from Los Angeles, brought the papers today.

STOCKING BANK IS LOOTED BY THUG

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 29.—(AP) A man who wore a star and fired two blank shots from his revolver to intimidate his victim, was being sought by police today after Alice Holand, rooming house proprietor, reported she was robbed of $159 in currency and a $190 fur cloak early this morning.

The man, police were told, demanded a room and told it was too early. When the woman attempted to close the door the star and gun in holster were flashed.

Inside there was a struggle, police were informed, and the man took the money from his victim's stocking after firing the revolver. He snatched up the fur cloak and disappeared. Only a meager description of the man was obtained.

BABES FIGHT FOR PISTOL, ONE DEAD

AUBURN, Wash., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Arthur Morris, a 14-year-old boy of Bellingham, died in a hospital here early today after being shot through the head in a struggle with his nine-year-old aunt, Katherine Welch, also of Bellingham, for the possession of an automatic pistol.

The accident occurred last night at the home of the boy's grandfather here where he had been visiting. The children found the pistol in a dresser drawer while playing and Katherine was trying to wrest the weapon from Arthur when it was discharged.

PEDDLER ATTACKS PORTLAND WOMAN

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Held captive in her own home for more than an hour by a man representing himself as a salesman of face powder, Mrs. Agnes Reynolds reported to police tonight that she had been brutally treated by the man. The report was made by the woman's husband after his wife's assailant had departed in a coupe. Mrs. Reynolds was found in a state of hysteria. The man gained entrance to the home by showing Mrs. Reynolds an array of face powder he offered at extremely low prices. Once in the house he crapped with the woman, threatening to choke her if she screamed.

MISS HERTLE IS WINNER WRIGLEY SWIM MARATHON

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Miss Ethel Hertle of New York won the Wrigley 10-mile swim for women on Lake Ontario this afternoon.

Thrashing the water with a tireless crawl, Miss Hertle swept into the breakwater 220 yards ahead of her nearest rival, Miss Gatterdam, and sliced ahead faster and faster over the last five-eighths of a mile to the finish line. To Miss Hertle went the $10,000 first prize. She led throughout the entire distance, successfully fighting off a stirring bid by Miss Olive Gatterdam of Seattle, Wash. Miss Hertle covered 14 miles in the Wrigley endurance swim last year.

Miss Gatterdam, finishing second, gained a $2000 prize. The other awards were $1000 for third place, $400 for fourth and $400 for fifth. The first five finishers are entitled to enter the race with the men competitors for the championship of the world next Wednesday over a 15-mile course.

The next nearest contenders were a mile behind Miss Hertle and Miss Gatterdam. At the start of the final drive for the finish Ruth Tower of Denver, Colo., came to third place and Gertrude Ederle of New York was fourth, several hundred yards farther in the rear. Jane Thomas of Terre Haute, Ind., was only 30 yards behind the English channel swimmer and was threatening Trudy's chances for fourth prize money.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—(AP) More than 50 women swimmers plunged into Lake Ontario promptly at 10 o'clock (Eastern daylight time) this morning in the third Wrigley marathon swim for the championship of the world. Thousands of spectators were massed along the waterfront as J. Allan Ross, the official starter, gave the signal which started the girl mariners on the 10-mile grind for prizes totalling $15,000.

Grease, in large quantities, played the leading part in preparations this morning by 54 women swimmers for the race. Grease seemed to be everywhere along the waterfront of the Canadian national exhibition as the feminine stars were smeared with their special preparations, each guaranteed to keep the chill from their systems during the long hours in the cold waters of Lake Ontario. It was on the grass, on the dressing tents near the starting line, on towels and on officials. Its odors, raised from a solid white to black, but all of it was sticky.

Rules of the swim required the wearing of bathing suits at the start at 10 a. m., but many of the women said they would shed their

Riley went down for a count of nine in the second and again in the third. He was clearly outclassed. Eddie Graham, Salem lightweight, lost a six-round decision to young Sam Langford after refusing to take the fight on a foul in the fourth round when Langford dropped a low punch into his groin. Johnny Woods, Seattle, won from Johnny Casebeer, Spokane, in the six-round semi-final. Fernandez Gonzales, Mexican, gave Billy Robbins a bad drubbing in another six-rounder. Luke Graham took the decision from Earl Ewede in the four-round curtain raiser.
