SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Five minutes walk from the Palace Hotel, and—

You can be in Little Italy. Or in China. Or among the ships of the Seven Seas.

Last evening we walked down to the Ferry building and along the water front.

Instantly we were in another land. Cheap lodging houses for sailors, picturesque dirty, pool halls, a perfect polyglot of tongues.

There are American middle-class men of war, Jap sailors, and common bums—also a coffee house with saw dust on the floor.

Observe that one drunk. Around the corner we met up with a Salvation army worker and asked him if there was much drinking on the water front now.

years ago," said he, "there is none. Do you remember the saloons here before the fire. Well the saloons used to go from their ships to the saloons, and not leave until their money was gone.

Also it has charm, spirit, dash, and probably the best all around food anywhere on the western hemisphere.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

PROGRESS IN MINOR SURGERY. A policy or practice that has been imposed upon me by years of experience is this: I must never send anybody bad news.

My daughter, aged 13, must have her tonsils removed. Some say spring is the best time to have it done.

My brother, aged 40, has cataracts in both eyes and is anxious to have them removed.

Have been reading your articles claiming there is no such thing as auto-intoxication.

Other industrialists will combine to turn out 5,000,000 automobiles a year, and the country will absorb them all.

Neither of our presidential candidates is shy on candor.

What about usury on a big scale, that enables banks and other financial institutions to extort at the rate of $10,000,000 a year of pure usury from brokers' loans alone?

What about the conspiracy to put finance on a usury basis, with the Federal Reserve encouraging the conspiracy?

A Broken Heart. PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Grief over the death of his wife two years ago, caused Daniel W. Hart, 78, to fire a bullet into his head yesterday.

Joseph Ferraro, Tony Lombardo's assistant, was also shot, but Tony Lombardo, first lieutenant of the distinguished Al Capone, was shot to death with effective dum-dum bullets in Chicago.

Chicago is nearly 1000 miles from Vale's grave, but the world of sawed-off shotguns has long arms, and reached out for Frankie's supposed killers.

Hyde Park—Famous Refuge

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

LONDON—When the famous Sir Leo Money and pretty little Miss Irene Savidge went and sat in Hyde Park together, all on a spring-time eve a few weeks ago, they certainly started something.

As will be recalled, Sir Leo and Miss Irene were acquitted in popular court on a charge of improper conduct.

I have seen a prisoner beaten until the blood streamed down his face during a third degree in an American police station, and nobody got very excited about it.

At birth the contest does begin, if life or death is going to win. The persistent, continued strife. A contest lasting all through life.

If nature's forces we employ, we can master nature and its dread. It will conquer us instead.

Decay—the thing that causes blight. Lack of vigor to defeat the wrath of nature's law, will end in death.

The source that promotes life and growth—both. Such is the law of all life's lot; Sun and air withers, the rain will not.

To "The Spirit of St. Louis" Oh, air-plane cruisers of the sky, Your speed's admired greatly.

You rise with ease and seemly pride. When to the sky you're mounting—E'en far above the highest cloud.

At will you sail across the sea, And o'er the mountains darting. 'Tis not for you such risks to see, When on a journey starting.

Like feathered arrows from on high, The strong winds may be blowing. You seem to drop from out the sky When to your landings going.

Oh, air-plane pilots of the sky, With strength so brave and willing. Each time I see you passing by, It seems most awful thrilling.

W. G. Knips and E. T. Knips.
