STATE LAW UPON FILLING VACANCY COUNTY JUDGESHIP

The death of County Judge Hartwell makes it necessary for the Republicans to nominate a candidate to be placed on the ballot to succeed the judge.

The law also provides that the Republican County Central Committee, or its executive committee, is empowered to fill such vacancy. The governor is also empowered to appoint someone to fill the vacancy, until a successor is elected, which would be until January 1, 1929.

The law covering this subject is as follows: Section 6, Article V of the Constitution of Oregon, as amended in 1922, says: "When during a recess of the legislative assembly a vacancy shall happen in any office, the appointment to which is vested in the legislative assembly, or when at any time a vacancy shall have occurred in any other state office, or in the office of judge of any court, the governor shall fill such vacancy by appointment, which shall expire when a successor shall have been elected."

and qualified, if any vacancy occur in the office of United States senator or in any elective office of the state or of any district, county or precinct thereof, the same shall be filled at the next general election, provided such vacancy occur more than twenty days prior to such general election.

Section 3975, as amended in 1925, reads: "Death or withdrawal—Vacancies. In case any candidate nominated under the provisions of this act shall die, withdraw, or for any reason be ineligible, or if there shall occur a vacancy by death, resignation or otherwise, in the office of United States senator or representative in congress, or in any elective state, district, county or precinct office, on or after the day set by law for holding primary nominating elections, or if such vacancy occur before such nominating election but within such a time that a candidate for such vacancy could not be nominated at such election, either the state, congressional or county central or executive committee thereof may nominate a candidate for such vacancy upon the call of the chairman of such state, congressional or county committee, and the name of the person so nominated for such vacancy shall be certified to the proper officer by the chairman of such committee."
