

NEW YORK SALES KEEP UP PRICES OF COAST EGGS

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 18.—(AP)—Fancy all white extra grade of eggs meeting the New York standard were in excellent demand on the market here today and, although the quotation to producers was maintained at 45c, several large shippers were paying as much as 47c per dozen.

Butter values were steady and unchanged with demand and supply fairly well balanced, although withdrawal of short-held storage stocks continued in small volume.

All classes of country dressed meats were decidedly easier this morning with receipts generally heavy and demand rather slow.

Heavy hogs about a cent lower at $10 1/2, while the top on best offerings of veal was around 22c. Receipts of lambs were light and prices about steady on desirable stock.

No changes were noticeable in poultry quotations and supplies of good fowls of all kinds were light. Heavy hens and broilers under two pounds met with exceptionally good demand.

Extreme dullness prevailed on wholesale fruit and vegetable markets with trading practically limited to small buying on the part of smaller retailers.

All varieties of local potatoes sold freely at $1.00 to $1.25 per cwt. while Yakima Settled Gents were steady at $1.00 to $1.25. Dry onions were likewise steady, best Oregon Yellow Danvers bringing as much as $2.75 per sack, while Yakima Yellow Globes moved moderately around $2.50 per sack.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR DEBATE TEAM AT HIGH SCHOOL

Indications are that Medford's debate team this year will be more powerful than ever before with much interest being already shown by students in this heretofore relatively minor activity, according to R. Bailey, instructor in public speaking, English, and manager of debate at the senior high school.

Mr. Bailey was a member of the University of Oregon varsity debate team for several years and since graduating in 1926 has been actively connected with high school debating. Last year he was a member of the Salem high school faculty.

Nichols, Hoffman and two others—W. T. Wickham and Walter Berg of Minam—were hunting near the fish hatchery on Wallova river. Hoffman separated from the others. Crossing a canyon they yelled to him they thought they had a deer located. He replied, "I'll get down the canyon where I can see better," later yelling to them that he was all ready. Wickham, who was helping to drive the deer, reported he heard a shot a few minutes later and Hoffman said, "I think I've got one." Then Hoffman called for help. The other hunters found Nichols dead with a bullet hole through the neck. "I thought he was a deer," was Hoffman's explanation.
