Just how and why a model A miles an hour was explained by Ford coupe is able to jump from R. S. Beatty, lubricating engineer the highway over a four-foot bank for the Ford company of Los and land safely in a 200 foot Angeles, before a group of 35 men spot of sand at the rate of 55 in the show room of the Gates Auto company last night.

In addition to the description of feats accomplished by the engineer during a seven months' motor trip, during which time he performed the steering wheel stunt at least 21 times, he showed a group of pictures illustrating his talk.

Tonight Mr. Beatty will repeat his program at Ashland in the Claycomb garage.

REALTORS ADOPT ROSENBERG PLAN TO SELL ACREAGE

A plan, submitted by Dave Rosenberg, member of the irrigation board, to sell the remaining 309 acres of land in the Medford irrigation district on a monthly installment basis, was unanimously adopted by the Realty Board today at their regular weekly luncheon at the Hotel Medford. The board in whose hands the sale of this land has been placed, have so far disposed of 45 per cent of the acreage.

The remaining land, according to the plan adopted, is to be divided into small home sites of around five acres each, and disposed of at the rate of from $2 to $4 down and monthly ayments of from $2.25 to $3.50 per acre. These payments will absorb the irrigation tax for the duration of the contract.

Other business of today's meeting included the election of the Bannister agency to membership on the local Realty Board, and reports of the various committees.

BIDS RECEIVED FOR BLEACHERS FOOTBALL FIELD

In accordance with the school board's advertisement, bids will be received today for the new bleachers for the high school athletic field, which will give an additional seating capacity of 600 to the present bleachers.

The new bleachers section, which will have a band stand in its center, will be erected on the east side of the field, opposite the present grand stand, and will be 120 feet long and 15 feet high with tiers of circus-like seats. It is the intention to have the new bleachers all completed by October 12 in time for use when the big home football games of the schedule begin.

When the present grandstand was built about two years ago, in order to pay for its construction the school board stipulated that all grandstand admissions—not ground admissions—should go into a fund to pay for the structure.

This fund, up to date, amounts to a little over half of the cost, and in providing for paying for the new bleachers, the school board has stipulated that the grandstand admissions will be continued until both after the remainder of the cost of the band stand is all in, and the cost of the new bleachers has been collected.

DRUM CORPS MEN DANCE SATURDAY

The Medford post American Legion drum corps tomorrow will give the first dance in their series of Saturday night affairs scheduled for the winter. Hilarity hall has been renovated and an accoustic shell built for the orchestra, giving greater resonance, for the music in all parts of the big pavilion.

The Pep Peddlers, the organization which has been playing during the past months at Jackson Hot Springs, will furnish music for the drum corps' affairs. The orchestra is now under the leadership of Ike Porter, a dance band specialist formerly with Dwight Johnson's Multnomah Hotel Strollers.

The veterans are expecting a large crowd at their opening dance and hope to continue the Saturday night entertainment for dance lovers throughout the winter in order to help defray expenses of maintaining the drum and bugle corps at its present high standard.

WINNING BOYS AND GIRLS EXHIBIT TO STATE EXPOSITION

The winning exhibits of the boys and girls clubs of the county at last weeks' county fair will form the usual exhibit of those clubs at the state fair next week at Salem, for which place they were shipped today. The pastries and the like which will be entered by the members of the girls clubs will be sent later by express and mail.

The boy and girl winners at the county fair last week, by their fine showing won the right to attend the state fair. County Agent R. G. Fowler will have charge of the boys, with whom he will leave Sunday to spend three days at the fair, which opens Monday morning. The girls, who will be in charge of Mrs. Florence York Conkle, will leave next Wednesday to spend three days at the fair.

Of general interest to the members of the boys and girls clubs is the fact that, in addition to the other prizes, gold watches will be presented to the two boys and two girls who score highest in club projects at the state fair.

The boy and girl members who will represent Jackson county at the state fair, are the following:

ROSARIAN CHIEF TO GIVE OPENING TALK C. OF C. DRIVE

W. C. Culbertson, member and director of the Portland chamber of commerce and prime minister of the Royal Rosarians of that city, will be the principal speaker at the forum luncheon held at Hotel Medford Monday noon, as part of the program of the competitive membership drive held the first three days of next week by the Medford and Ashland chambers of commerce.

Another development of the program to be followed by the committee in charge of the drive is the plan to exchange selected membership teams between the two cities, who will solicit membership for the rival chambers.

The Medford membership which is now 350, is expected to reach a goal of 500 members, while the Ashland chamber is out for an increase which will bring their enrollment up to the 100 mark. The winning city in the contest will be entertained by the loser at some function yet to be named by the general committees.

FIRE DANGER IN COUNTY INCREASES

Although the fire danger was much lessened by Sunday's storm, during which much rain fell, after the many lightning fires started by that storm were all extinguished, gradually rising temperature and the fact that strong winds have been blowing at the high forest elevations for the past three days, are fast bringing about a dangerous condition again, which causes the lookouts, rangers and other outdoor employes of the Crater National forest to be up on their toes, ready to discover fires as soon as they break out.

Several small fires in various sections of the forest broke out yesterday which were easily extinguished, but another fire which was discovered burning in timber at 5:20 p. m. yesterday at the head of Tamarack creek in the Applegate district, on the divide along the Oregon and California border, was still burning today, as far as the forest headquarters office here knew, because nothing had been heard since from the several men dispatched to the scene to combat this fire.

The high mountain forests are being fast dried out by strong easterly winds that have been blowing at the high elevations the past three days, amounting at times to gales of from 35 to 50 miles an hour.

The visibility throughout the Crater National forest, which had been bad because of drifted-in smoke early in the week, is again about normal, thus enabling the lookouts to easily "spot" fires.

SALVATION ARMY ASKS CLOTHING

The Salvation Army in the city of Medford is in need of a great quantity of cast off clothing and furniture, stoves and anything that can be used for relief of the worthy poor of our community.

Adjutant and Mrs. J. A. Buchanan of the local corps earnestly ask anyone having articles to spare to not destroy them but call the Army, phone 358, and the same will be called for promptly. The fall season is drawing near and as the year advances the need becomes greater. Please remember the Army.

FINAL RITES FOR MRS. R. W. STEARNS

The funeral service for Emma K. Stearns was held at the First Methodist church Thursday, September 20, at 2:30 p. m. Rev. T. H. Temple impressed the large attendance of friends during his service, telling of the wonderful and beautiful life Mrs. Stearns had led, and what a loss the community will suffer with her passing.

George Maddox rendered two beautiful solos, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and "Crossing the Bar," with Joyce Maddox accompanying him.

The wonderful array of floral offerings, completely filling the altar, were beautiful and expressed the deep sympathy of her many friends.

The pallbearers were: O. C. Boggs, B. F. Van Dyke, Olen Arnspiger, W. J. Warner, Cole Holmes, T. W. Miles. Interment was in the Medford Memorial Mausoleum. Perl Funeral Home had charge of the services.

Special Saturday for Housewives

The Procter & Gamble Co. are making an unusually interesting offer of a large dishpan and an assortment of soap and washing products for one week beginning tomorrow.

These will be on sale at a number of grocers in Medford and other cities of the county, a list of whom appears in this paper.

This offer coming from a reliable firm and being products that are used daily, will be of special interest to the housewives.

Republicans to Nominate Judge Next Thursday

The date of the meeting of the Republican County Central Committee to select a candidate for county judge, has been set for Thursday, Sept. 27th, at the Medford hotel at 2:30 p. m.

Notices have been sent to all members of the committee and there will probably be a large attendance. Each member will have a vote for his choice.

Several of "those mentioned" have declined to be candidates.
