

LOCAL PIONEERS TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC OCTOBER 4

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 25.—The annual picnic of the southern Oregon pioneers will be held at Jacksonville, Thursday, October 4.

A health meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Hanna on September 28 at 2:30 p. m. A talk will be given on "Nutrition." All are cordially invited.

A meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of Jacksonville was held at the high school auditorium last Friday evening.

There was a delightful musical program, consisting of several selections by the Jacksonville orchestra, vocal numbers by Miss Geneva Dorothy, readings by Mrs. Lavinia Scaulberry and baritone selections by Mr. George Wendi.

After the program there was a business meeting. An interesting feature was the presentation of two beautiful pictures to the high school. One was a picture of Abraham Lincoln in a characteristic pose, and the other was a picture entitled "The Pioneers."

E. R. White gave the address of welcome to the teachers. Mr. E. C. Coe, principal responded in behalf of the teachers.

Miss Shelley's room won the vase for having the largest number of parents present.

After the meeting adjourned, delicious refreshments were served. Every one had a good time and are looking forward to the spelling bee and box social to be given by the Parent-Teacher association Friday evening, October 5.

Severance home Monday evening. Mr. Wintler and Mr. Severance were on their way to Stanford university and Mr. Johnson is leaving to attend the Portland Dental college at Portland.

23 POLICEMEN IN PHILADELPHIA HELD FOR GRAFT

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—(AP)—The arrest of a captain of police and 22 other members of the force, charged with extortion, bribery and conspiracy in collecting money from bootleggers and speakeasy proprietors, was one of the most dramatic scenes ever enacted in the corridors of city hall.

Shortly before last midnight, policemen began emerging from the office of District Attorney Monaghan. Their faces wore a serious look and there was no conversation among them as they were ordered to wait.

Presently Patrick J. McKewen, chief of the county detective force, attached to the district attorney's office, came out and took up his position with a typewritten list of names in his hands.

"As I call your names," he said, "I want you men to step out here and line up in double file."

When he called the first name, a policeman shuffled forward.

"Come on, make it snappy," McKewen shouted.

As other names were called the men answered "here" and took their places in the line.

Last came Captain Charles Cohen, commander of one of the police districts. "Get at the head of the line," said McKewen, and the police commander obeyed as silence reigned. It was a scene unparalleled in Philadelphia police history.

Then at another command, the column moved forward in the dim light of the long, wide sixth floor corridor of Philadelphia's immense city hall. Slowly it marched into the central police station on the same floor and into the big cell room, where the grand jurors of the law were placed behind the bars to await a hearing.

Political Talks on Air Tonight

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Political speakers over the radio tonight will be:

Rally of Actors, Authors and Artists League for Smith over National Broadcasting company's red network to Pacific coast, from WRAP at 9:20 p. m., eastern standard time. Trivia Berlin will sing with Willie Collier, comedian, as master of ceremonies, assisted by George M. Colman, Elsie Dowling and Gene Buck.

Republican talk by Senator Frederick H. Gillett at 7:30 p. m., from WOR and network.

Republican talk by Judge John B. McClure at 8 p. m. from WOV.

Greatest King of All NICE, France, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Riviera is accustomed to dukes, but not to kings of Italian. Therefore when newspapers printed an erroneous announcement that Gene Tunney would arrive on a certain train the crowd at the station was hilarious that ever gathered for the usual royal visitors.

Announcement of the engagement was made by Miss Stone from the office of her fiancé here.

Discovery of the two girls, who gave up society for artistic careers, living in poverty created quite a stir at the time. Their father had been considered a wealthy man and it was believed he had left a large estate. Their plight was blamed by relatives on their "strongheadedness" in insisting on artistic careers.

Miss Stone revealed that she met her future husband through her writing. He accepted some poems she had written and then she expressed to him her desire to marry him as her future husband.

No date has been set for the wedding, but when they are married Miss Stone says it will be an "ultra modern Greenwich village affair." They will live in the village, however, in a house Miss Stone recently purchased.

Both Miss Stone and Mr. Harrison are 25 years old. He was formerly editor of the Greenwich Village Quill and now edits and publishes annually "The Green Street Book of Verse."

PRIZES AWARDED ON RALLY DAY AT FOOTS CREEK

FOOTS CREEK, Sept. 25.—The following program was given rally day at the Foots Creek school house:

Piano Solo—John Ferry. Song—"Good Morning"—Primary Class.

"Oh, Children, Can You Tell?"—Primary Class. Ten Commandments—John Short. One Hundredth Psalm—Lucille Vienna.

Poem, "Work"—Elizabeth Ferry. Scripture Cake Recipe—Intermediate Girls.

Song—Intermediate Girls. Song—Mesdames, Ferry, Short, Lamb.

Poem, "Self Control"—Francis Ferry. Song—Intermediate Girls. Violin Solo—J. C. Smith; Zelma Smith at piano.

Duet—Dorothy Biles and Laura Smith. Duet—John and Carle Short. Piano Duet—Mrs. Ferry, John Ferry.

Trio—Mesdames, Ferry, Lamb and Short. Piano Solo—Dorothy Short.

The cake recipe taken from the Bible was the unique feature of this program. After all references were read the young girls were presented with a beautiful cake by the superintendent, Mrs. George Lance.

The program was closed by presenting the pianist, John Ferry, with a book to show the appreciation felt by the Sunday school for his steady work of the past year. Young Mr. Ferry leaves Wednesday evening for Palo Alto, Calif., to attend the university there.

At the close of the rally day service a most delectable dinner was spread on the new tables under the oak trees. Rev. D. D. Randall and D. M. Ferry arrived in time for lunch and were heartily welcomed. The feast was concluded with watermelons and muskmelons furnished by Miss Dorothy Lamb. Miss Lamb was obliged to treat the Sunday school because she was the leader of the losing side in a recent contest.

After dinner Mrs. J. C. Smith took pictures of the entire group. We hope they will be excellent pictures for everyone had a happy time.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend Sunday school regularly.

Casualties of the Air Service

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Lieutenant W. L. Cornelius, one of the army's "three musketeers of the air," who figured in the recent Los Angeles air races, met death almost instantly here yesterday when his plane crashed with another in mid-air at Rockwell Field, North Island.

Cornelius was one of two surviving members of the trio, Lieutenant J. J. Williams having been killed at the air races at Los Angeles two weeks ago. Lieutenant Irving A. Woodring now is the sole survivor.

The "three musketeers" were members of the 95th pursuit squadron and formerly were on the same flight at Selfridge field, Michigan, when they were attached to the First Pursuit squadron, Lieutenant Cornelius' home was at Fort Smith, Ark.

Lieutenant Roger E. Williams of Spokane, Wash., is said to have been injured seriously in the mid-air crash, which caused the death of Lieutenant Cornelius.

Unconfirmed reports here say that planes piloted by Williams and Cornelius locked wings while flying in battle formation. Cornelius is said to have jumped from his plane with a parachute which failed to open. He was killed instantly when he struck the ground.

Army headquarters said that a detailed official report would be made public later in the day.

RESCUED FLYER SAYS HE WANTS TO TRY AGAIN

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Bert Hassell, American flyer, who arrived here today from Greenland with his trans-Atlantic companion, Parker Cramer, announced that he would make another attempt next year to fly from the United States to Stockholm by way of Greenland.

Hassell and Cramer who were rescued in Greenland after having been stranded in the Arctic wastes, arrived at Copenhagen on board the steamer Fulton. They were accompanied by Prof. William H. Hobbs, leader of the University of Michigan Greenland expedition which had brought them to safety.

The flyers were greeted by H. Percival Dodge, United States minister, Mrs. Dodge, General Carter, president of the geographical society; the president of the Air Traffic association and Foreign Minister Type Rothe.

Hassell told the Associated Press that the "Greater Rockford," the plane in which he and Cramer flew in Greenland, would probably never take the air again. Though undamaged by the landing in Greenland, later storms played havoc with the machine.

The newspaper Politiken this afternoon gave a large reception in honor of the Americans.

Highway Load Limit Placed at 1600 Pounds

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Load limit of 1600 pounds for vehicles on the state highways was fixed by the state highway commission late yesterday, effective from October 15 to April 1, 1929.

The commission announced it would not grant a franchise for a proposed toll road between Umatilla and Wallula, as that would invalidate federal aid. The commission promised that a road would be built, but could not fix the time. The federal road bureau will co-operate.

Douglas county road problems came before the commission, which advised the delegation that the super-road district on the lower Umpqua would vote $110,000 to speed up construction of the Umpqua road from Reedport to Drain.

The commission granted a request of Springfield, Oregon, that the line of the McKenzie highway be changed from the city limits to Phette Place, then easterly to Casswell Hill.

Hassell was still limping from the effects of his mountaineering experience in Greenland. Never the less, he fairly jumped on the deck of the Fulton when he saw morning mist. "Gee! What a morning! And the coast of his Cramer is asleep and missing in the misty garden rising out of the glorious view," he exclaimed.

It's bouquet that counts - - not mere strength

Vanilla is produced from the vanilla bean - - the seed pod of an orchid - - the most delicate of flowers. So vanilla is a bouquet of orchid essences.

+++ The finer the vanilla orchid, the more delicate the vanilla essences - - more delicate in flavor and aroma, and far more delightful. That's all you find in Schilling - - none of the cheaper, harsh, more pungent vanilla oils that smother dainty dishes in a raw flavor.

+++ Your money back if you don't like Schilling's best!

STARVING HEIRESS GETS HUSBAND AS RESULT OF POETRY

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Isobel Stone, daughter of the late William A. Stone, one-time governor of Pennsylvania, who was found last summer living with her sister on an abandoned farm in Sherman creek, is to marry Henry Harrison, poet and publisher.

Announcement of the engagement was made by Miss Stone from the office of her fiancé here.

Discovery of the two girls, who gave up society for artistic careers, living in poverty created quite a stir at the time. Their father had been considered a wealthy man and it was believed he had left a large estate. Their plight was blamed by relatives on their "strongheadedness" in insisting on artistic careers.
