

ELECTION PLANS NOW BEING MADE BY COUNTY CLERK

Final arrangements for the general election, November 5, are under way in the county clerk's office, and the work of preparing the copy for the ballots was completed this week. A copy of the ballot is sent to the secretary of state, and closely checked for errors. The ballot this election will be one of the roughest in many years, and besides the regular candidates, there are eight initiative bills to be voted upon.

In this city the election of a mayor and councilmen is an added duty for the voter.

The work of posting election notices on the polling places throughout the county was completed 19 days ago by the sheriff's office. The clerical force of the clerk's office is busy classifying the registrants, and listing them in poll books. The count of the registrants by party started late yesterday.

The sheriff's office will start the work of distributing the ballots and election material to the various polling places four days before election, going to the far reaches of the county first and going to Ashland and Medford last.

The polls, as in all elections, will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 8 at night.

A movement is under way to have the county court sanction the appointment of a counting board in the Medford precincts, to facilitate the count. The counting board is authorized by state law, and provides that the board shall count the ballots as cast, and are prohibited from giving out the results until one hour after the polls are closed. The counting board eliminates the slow count, and the strain of a 24-hour siege upon many of the election officials.

CAMPBELL'S URGE SEEN IN GOTHAM NIGHT CLUB RAID

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Four men and four women were arrested today in a police raid on a night club in Fifty-third street, the first made since Maurice Campbell, prohibition administrator for this district, pointed out to District Attorney Jacob H. Banton how city officials might aid in closing objectionable places.

The raid was made by four city detectives. The women were charged with disorderly conduct, the men with possession and sale of liquor. About 100 men and women patrons were ordered to the street by the police and a guard was placed at the door.

In his letter to the district attorney, Mr. Campbell said that if Mr. Banton was sincere in his desire to close night clubs he had a weapon at his disposal. The weapon, Mr. Campbell said, was contained in section 22 of the national prohibition act which says: "An action to enforce a nuisance defined in this title may be brought in the name of the United States." Any prosecuting attorney of any state or any subdivision thereof.

In commenting on a recent case he had under investigation, where an actress who later died was reported to have been beaten in a night club, Mr. Banton said the night clubs were the hangouts of criminals. Mr. Campbell said he conferred with this view and that an exchange of evidence between himself and Mr. Banton might prove profitable to both. He offered similar aid to Mayor Walker a year ago but had received no response to his letter.

The district attorney's only comment on the letter was that "Mr. Campbell should put the matter up to Mayor his boss."

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 18.—(AP)—Seal sales for the Oregon-Washington football game to be played here next Saturday reached the 15,000 mark Wednesday. Seattle will send the largest delegation of fans that has ever attended a game outside of the Washington bowl. It was announced today, East Campbell, graduate manager of Washington, telegraphed a "rush order" for one thousand additional tickets, indicating that there will be more than 5500 Seattle fans here for the game.

University of Oregon students will arrive here on special trains from Eugene, two leaving Friday and two more Saturday morning. Jack Oregon, graduate manager of Oregon, said the Webfoot rooters' section will contain at least 2500 students, the largest number to attend any game outside of Eugene.

WARRANTS ISSUED CALIFORNIA MEN ON STILL CHARGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Three well known northern California men yesterday were named in federal bench warrants charging operation of a large still in Contra Costa county.

Those named in the warrants are: Marvin W. Hotchkiss of Berkeley, son of W. J. Hotchkiss, Oakland millionaire landowner, dairyman and banker.

Byron A. Beeson of San Mateo, organizer and former president of the "Tide-water-Southern" railway.

Lawrence Edwards, prominent Stockton lawyer, former state assemblyman and erstwhile commander of the Stockton post of the American Legion.

The warrants were issued as the result of a seizure of a still on Bethel Island, Contra Costa county. The island is said to be owned largely by the Hotchkiss family.

J. Fred McDonald, attorney for the three men, said he would surrender them tomorrow.

COMMUNIST SHOT LASHED TO CHAIR

LUCCA, Italy, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Michele Della Magliore, a communist, convicted of assassinating two fascists, was executed this morning behind the Forte Mungaianni cemetery.

Magliore is the first person to be condemned to death in Italy since 1869 and his execution was in the form usually reserved for military offenders or war-time traitors. Della Magliore was tied to a chair. A platoon of 12 fascist militiamen fired and killed him outright.

Oregon Woman Flays Al Smith

STATE COLLEGE, N. M., Oct. 18.—(AP)—Declaring that Governor Alfred E. Smith is "the fail, if not the death and decay of the Tammany tiger," Mrs. Alexander Thompson of Portland, Ore., a Democrat opposing the candidacy of Governor Smith brought her speaking tour of New Mexico to a close here yesterday.

Mrs. Thompson charged that Governor Smith was nominated by a well oiled machine, which rode over the nativity of Hamilton and declared that Smith is a product of Tammany which organization has been an outrage to Democratic principles.

She charged that Smith was trained by Tammany and has been obeying Tammany for more than 30 years.

Mrs. Thompson concluded her talk with a eulogy of Herbert Hoover, saying that "never had our nation offered a man more fitted for the presidency."

Screen Life in Hollywood

By Wade Werner

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Albert Valentino, brother to the famous Rudolph, at last has made his debut on the screen. Rumors that he would be seen in motion pictures began to be heard shortly after Rudolph's death several years ago, but one thing and another prevented their fulfillment.

Some months back it got around that Albert was having his nose reshaped by a plastic surgeon to give him a better profile for pictures and incidentally to lighten the romantic lines between himself and the life star. The notion now is a matter of record in celluloid, and fans can judge for themselves how his talent compares with his brother's by watching him make love to Leatrice Joy in "Tropic Madness." He is not however, a Latin lover in this picture, nor does he pose as the hero. George Barrand plays the hero, while Valentino is an Englishman who, in the early part of the picture, fills the "other man" angle of a domestic triangle.

Dues by Machine

The gods of ancient Greece had a habit of appearing unexpectedly to mortals, either swooping down from high Olympus or popping up from hidden places. But movie directors, even when they are women, will forget their mythology. So when Dorothy Arzner sought an athletic young man who could look like a handsome Greek god in the film prototype of "Manhattan Cockney" she absconded with the studio office in the unlikely way. Instead he leaped into the studio out of a cemetery.

After the excitement was over it came out that he was just a young fellow from Belgium named Georges Hennegeman, who for months had been trying to get into the studio in the orthodox way. In desperation he

HEAVY INSURANCE FOR FARM HELPER ACCIDENT VICTIM

TUSCULA, Ill., Oct. 18.—(AP)—Walter McAllister's death in a grade crossing crash last week had become today something of a mystery.

McAllister was a farm hand, working on Emil Carroll's place. He was killed about 2 o'clock last Friday morning when the automobile in which he and Carroll were riding was struck by a train at the crossing of a lonely country road.

There was nothing about the accident, a coroner's investigation found, to mark it from any other grade-crossing tragedy. Since the request, however, the state attorney's office has become interested, chiefly because of five insurance policies on the farm hand's life.

Each policy names as beneficiary Mrs. Emil Carroll, wife of the dead man's employer, or "the McAllister estate." There also were three other policies on McAllister's life, but they were not indicated in whose favor they were drawn, or the amounts.

There are other circumstances under investigation. A mysterious
