

Local and Personal

The Red Cross Thrift shop, located over the Rex cafe, has some particularly good bargains in children's school clothing. There is a big demand for garments of every type suitable for wear in cold weather, according to Mrs. M. Murray, who is in charge of the store. Anyone who has discarded articles which might be remodeled is requested to call 456, or deliver the bundles at the shop.

Despite the general impression that golfers are apt to stretch the truth a lot when it comes to telling their scores, at least, it has been shown that some of them are inherently honest. When Greenskeeper Horus of the Rogue river valley course at Medford, played here Sunday he lost a $5 bill. A notice was published on the club bulletin board and Tuesday evening about dusk A. K. Cass picked it up and returned it. Other members of the club assert that Mr. Cass' bank training made it possible for him to see the bill, even in the growing darkness.—Grant's Pass Courier.

"THE HOME OF BREAD LIKE MOTHER MADE"

ABOUT POTATOES

Klamath Falls is marketing one of the biggest potato crops ever and potatoes are cheaper than for years—Because of the low price the growers are grading very close and are sending many potatoes to market that in former years would have been thrown out, making it difficult to get good potatoes.

Realizing this, we are making weekly trips to Klamath Falls selecting our own potatoes—A car bought last week is in and another trip has been made and another car bought—Dozens of trucks are running every day and we could buy our potatoes with a lot less trouble but we couldn't be sure of the quality—sure the spuds would be of Groceteria quality.

Within a short time we will have a car of hand sorted fancy bakers; so when buying your winter potatoes—be sure to compare quality—good potatoes are always cheapest.
