Mrs. W. J. Warner reviewed the fascinating book, "Homes of Our Ancestors," in which beautiful descriptions and illustrations of what ever was best in our early American homes is given. Mrs. C. A. Meeker gave Jane DeForest Shelton's "Salt Box House," in which methods of dress and living were presented. She also, in very few words, painted a charming word picture of an old flower garden of fifty years maturing as described by Earle.
 Mrs. W. E. Crees reviewed an article from "Asia" describing the young emperor of Japan, a modern product of education in books, sports, travel and human quality, combined with an inherent faith in divine right and a specialized training in the subjects of engineering.
 The club will meet again in three weeks, on November 7.
 Mr. and Mrs. David Griffiths have returned from their two weeks' honeymoon trip to San Francisco and other points in California.
Mail Tribune Employees Plan Hallows' Party
 The employees of the Mail Tribune are planning a masquerade Hallows' party, which will be in the form of a dinner and dance, and will be given at Blue Flower Lodge Tuesday evening, October 30. This will be for all employees and their families.
American Legion Auxiliary Meets Monday Night
 The American Legion Auxiliary will have their regular monthly business meeting at the Armory Club rooms Monday evening at 8 o'clock.
 Mrs. George Coddling will have charge of a short business session, followed by an interesting program.
 Mrs. H. A. Theroff, delegate just returned from the national convention, will make her report.
 The Misses Alice Walsh and Dorothy Patmore of Prosser are guests of Mrs. Myrtle Blakeley, who will give Miss Walsh and Miss Patmore graduated with Nina Blakeley last year from Mount Angel Academy and Normal.
Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Entertain Oregon School Alumni Club
 Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Thompson entertained the Oregon State College club of Medford Monday evening, October 15, at their home on West Eleventh street.
 After a brief business meeting in charge of C. D. Thompson, acting as president for Lloyd Moss, who was called out of the city, the members enjoyed a dinner. There were about fifty members present, many of whom were new alumni who have moved to Medford in the past three months. Refreshments were served, after which the meeting adjourned until the third Monday in November.
 The next meeting will be held November 19 at Mrs. William Warner's residence on South Oakdale.
 It was voted that all members who intend to take in the Oregon and O. S. C. game to leave in a caravan if possible. About 20 members gave their intentions of going.
 W. C. T. U. Meeting to Be Held in Y. W. C. A. House
 The W. C. T. U. will meet Thursday at 2:30 in the Y. W. C. A. A full attendance of members and friends is urged, as yearly reports will be given by the officers and heads of committees. Mrs. J. E. McDonald and Mrs. Goddard, delegates to the Y. W. C. A. state convention at Eugene will have interesting reports of the meetings there.
 Mrs. Kate Young, Mrs. Helen Minkler and Mrs. R. E. Hampton left this morning for a two-day motor trip to California and Mexico.
Alpha Delta Class Entertain Everyman's Class at Dinner
 The Recreation hall of the First Christian church was the scene, Tuesday evening, of a very delightful Hallows' affair, when the ladies of the Alpha Delta class entertained their husbands and the members of the Everyman's class and their wives.
 A chicken pie supper was served at 7 o'clock to about 75 guests seated around a beautifully laid banquet table. The decorations were the usual Hallows' ones, with Virginia creeper, and baskets of grapes and apples. A huge fire in the fireplace added to the comfort and gaiety of the festivity.
 Mrs. Maybelle Church acted as toastmistress in her charming manner, and the theme of the toasts was "The Ideal Man." This was very cleverly carried out in the different toasts. After the address of welcome by Mrs. Hon. president of the Alpha Deltas, and a response by Clyde Hon. president of the everyman's, the first toast was given by Mrs. R. L. Ray, "A Friend." A second toast, "A Lover," was given by Mrs. Herbert Berland, followed by toasts, "To a Husband," by Mrs. Wilnot, "To a Father," by Mrs. Latham, and was closed by Mrs. Church responding with a toast, "A Christian."
 Very clever little songs by the women were interspersed throughout the program and the Rev. Charles E. Mell delighted the assembly with a group of three beautiful solos. The program closed with the singing together of the Scout song, "Day is Done," and "First of the Month." The Rev. Mr. Mell gave a benedictory prayer. The remainder of the evening was spent in greeting and conversation, and the event will be long remembered for the comradeship it engendered in the hearts of the two classes, making a beautiful and promising beginning for the fall program of Bible school work.
 Mrs. E. M. Wilson left Saturday for San Francisco called by the illness of her daughter.
D. A. R.'s Have Meeting U. S. Hotel at Jacksonville
 The meeting of Crater Lake Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held on Saturday afternoon at the old historic P. S. Hotel at Jacksonville was one of the most interesting ever given by the chapter.
 The paper prepared by Mrs. J. O. Grey on "Early Missionaries and Churches of Southern Oregon" gave a vivid description of the fine Christian work done by such men as the Rev. J. H. Wilbur, J. S. Smith, T. E. Royal and H. Howlett, Methodists; Rev. M. A. Williams, Presbyterian, affectionately called "Father Williams"; Arch. Bishop Houshert, Revs. James Crapse and J. F. Pireaux, Catholics; and Rev. A. M. Russell, Baptist.
 Mrs. Tou Velle told of the school for girls at Oxford, Ohio, founded in honor of Caroline Scott Harrison, first president general of the National Society, D. A. R. A silver offering was taken to help pay the remaining indebtedness on the memorial school.
 Mrs. M. J. Norris spoke of "How to Get Out the Vote." She urged us to not only get out the vote but to do it ourselves.
 The chapter voted to have letters of thanks written to the ones who contribute to the success of the erection of the marker which was unveiled on September 27. Among them were Mr. H. A. Theroff of the Big Pine Lumber Company, J. H. Freeman, merchant at Central Point; George Wyckoff and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunlop for donation of land; Mr. W. E. Morris and Mrs. L. C. Shafter, Table Rock; Mrs. Hattie Cameron and Murray Abstract Company of Medford, and others for donation of time toward this patriotic undertaking.
 Mrs. Knight of Jacksonville sang three songs, "Rose Marie," "The Answer" and "The Night Wind," accompanied by Miss Severance.
 Mrs. Knight is a newcomer in the valley, but her beautiful voice will soon gain her many friends.
 Mrs. Lowry as hostess was assisted by Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Tou Velle.
 Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. C. C. Murray were welcome guests.
 Mrs. W. H. McGowan and Mrs. Chas. Swenney accompanied the Mrs. Knight Society left Thursday for a sanitarium near San Francisco where Miss Swenney expects to remain several months.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenkins in Love With Mechanics
 Mr. Frank Jenkins of Eugene, accompanied Mr. Jenkins to Medford last week and spent two days driving over the valley and meeting and visiting friends.
 Mr. Jenkins is the speaker at the merchants' meeting on Friday evening.
 Both Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins are lovers of Medford and the southern Oregon climate, scenery and people, and are always glad to visit here, and their friends are always delighted to see them.
 Mrs. Jenkins as well as her husband is active in the University of Oregon, and newspaper circles and is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and other civic organizations.

 A number of new books have been ordered by the school library, for the chemistry classes. These reference books have also been purchased for this division. All of the books are ordered according to departments, such as history, English, science, and commerce.
 John Mann, of Mann's Department store, gave to the high school a large number of pep caps, caps with pennants attached, and football badges. The caps and pennants were sold to the members of the Pep club, and the five hundred badges were given to the first ones at the serpentine Friday evening.
 The Commercial club, under the supervision of Mr. L. J. Knott, will be re-organized next week. Members of the commercial department, who are interested in the work carried on by the club, will be allowed to join. The club has two projects in view for this year: A reading shelf on vocations to be established, and a card catalogue of technical commercial works will be made. This catalogue will represent the minimum of commercial words that a student in this department should know. An arrangement is being made with a number of business men to hire seniors in this department to work after school, and on Saturdays, which will give them experience in this line, and a finish to their work.
