PROHIBITION MEN GET OPERATIVES HIGH CLASS STILL

One of the cleanest and most modern moonshine stills ever captured in Jackson county was sold yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Louis and Paul Jennings, near Gold Hill. A. King, 62, H. Good, 22, E. Adams, 29, and Fred Adams, 21, were arrested by the officers as the owners and operators of the outfit and were scheduled to have preliminary hearings this afternoon in Judge Taylor's court.

King was placed under arrest yesterday forenoon when the equipment was seized, and was brought to Medford yesterday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock. The remaining trio was arrested at 5 o'clock when they came to the location of the still, where the officers were awaiting their possible arrival.

The apparatus was not in operation and had been dismantled, but its parts were conveniently lying around when the officers arrived. King was on the premises and was immediately arrested.

The equipment consisted of a 50-gallon still, a copper condenser, fuel oil removing apparatus, 13 50-gallon mash barrels, 50 gallons of mash, a 35-gallon copper vat, a gasoline burner and a pressure tank. The burner had the appearance of having been kept in good condition and was polished on the inside as well as the outside. It is believed to have been in use for sometime.

COUNTRY ROADS PLACED IN SHAPE WINTER'S TRAVEL

The country roads of the county have been put in shape for winter travel, with the exception of some scraping after the next rain, according to County Engineer Rynning. The macadam stretches are too dry until they are dampened for scraping. All major repairs have been made.

W. M. Briggs, Sr., of Ashland appeared before the county court today and asked that some protection be installed on the Dead Indian road, where it makes a hairpin turn above Emigrant creek. Attorney Briggs said he had received a hundred complaints this summer from people who viewed the turn as dangerous and feared to drive the road at night. Judge Sparrow told the county engineer to install proper protection at the point.

The road program for next year calls for a widening of the road at that place.

The county engineer's office reports that the Lake Creek market road survey for this season has been completed.

Chevrolet Branch Manager Visits Local Agency

W. J. Richmond of Portland, branch manager of the Chevrolet Motor company, was in Medford today conferring with G. H. Green, district manager of the company, with headquarters in Medford, and W. W. Allen, local manager of the Pierce-Allen Motor company, the southern Oregon district manager. Mr. Richmond is always glad for an excuse to visit Medford and southern Oregon and enjoys the sunshine and hospitality of his many friends.

BOYS PAJAMARINO ADVERTISING GAME SET FOR TONIGHT

In case local femininity is unfamiliar with the character of a "Pajamarino" they are asked to look attentively at their windows tonight and be ready to give more than 100 boys who are expected to join in this frolic a generous amount of appreciative applause. A "Pajamarino" according to Stanley Wilcox, high school year leader, is to be heard as well as seen.

The 100 or more high school boys will meet in front of the Junior high school tonight and form a serpentine, which will make its way thru all the main streets, stopping beneath the windows of local hotels, the Y. W. C. A. and other residential places where a goodly sprinkling of the fair sex are staying. This will be an advertising feature of Saturday's game.

The Girls' League of the high school are holding a special party at the school tonight which has necessarily left a number of dateless Bioncos on hand for the serpentine, according to the yell leader.

SETTLERS NEEDED TO SHARE TAXES HAMILTON THINKS

High taxation is not the problem confronting the Oregon residents, but the attraction of new settlers to the state to distribute the tax burden, said R. S. Hamilton of Bend, president of the state chamber of commerce, at a joint banquet of the Ashland and Medford chambers of commerce last evening.

In his speech, Mr. Hamilton reviewed land settlement work in Oregon and told of the benefits it has already brought. He also explained the workings of the state chamber of commerce, lauded the work done by the chambers of commerce of the individual cities of the state and stressed home town loyalty.

Last night's meeting marked the payment of Medford's loss to Ashland in a chamber membership drive a short time ago, Ashland winning by nearly 25 more new members than Medford.

John C. Mann was the toastmaster of the evening and other speakers included Senator George Dunn and W. Schofield of Ashland and Ted Baker of Medford.

CLASS DEBATING FOR BEST TEAM BEGINS NOVEMBER

The interclass debates which will decide the school championship team, are to commence the first week in November, according to Ralph Halley, debate coach of the high school. A series of six debates will be held between the classes, each class having both an affirmative and a negative team.

Tryouts were held this week and the representatives of the various teams are as follows: Freshmen—affirmative, Gordon Williams, Ray Washam and Betty Cudy; negative, Maynard Wilson, Jane Robinson and Lella VanDenmark. Sophomores—affirmative, Robert Fry, Leneve Simkins and Barbara Drury; negative, Fred Colvig, Earl Carlin and Doris Rundy. Junior affirmative, William Dougherty, Ed Heams, Josephine Taylor and Roberta Stearns; negative, Charles Barnes, George Winne and Norris Porter. Senior—affirmative, El-low Mae Wilson, Betty Evanson, Homer Platt; negative, Vivian Wilson, John Redden and Fern Harbaugh.

The question of the debates throughout will be, Resolved, That the policy of federal subsidies to the states with supervision should be abolished.

MORE ABSENTEES VOTE THIS YEAR

Over two dozen absentee voters' ballots for the general election next month have been issued thru the county clerk's office, with many of them local students at University of Oregon, the Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Washington.

More absentee ballots were issued this year than ever before, according to County Clerk Della Stevens Meyer, who added that many applications were received but could not be filled. According to the state law, only absentee ballots can be issued to students, commercial salesmen, railroad employes and government employes. Other people away from home for other causes can not exercise their franchise.

OCCUPATION CLASS GIVEN INSIGHT BY PRACTICAL TALKS

With a list of well known speakers, representing the various industries and professions in Medford appearing periodically before the new occupation class and giving an insight into the phase of work they represent, that course is proving one of the most interesting and stimulating experiments ever tried out in the local high school. Movies are also used to supplement the lectures in many cases. At the present time a series of moving picture films on electricity are being shown and were used to illustrate the talk given by P. O. Crawford today. Mr. Crawford spoke on electrical engineering. Walter Lovette, local realtor was the first speaker of the series, and spoke on his work. Earl Tully followed with a talk on insurance. Robert W. Rubi, editor of the Mail Tribune presented the various phases and angles of the newspaper profession, and G. M. Roberts followed with a talk on the law profession.

Mrs. Dean Stacy motored in from her home in the Phoenix district this morning and shopped for a few hours.

A bounty warrant was issued at the county clerk's office yesterday to Guy Walton of Trail for the killing of one coyote.
