

Today

By Arthur Brisbane

State Socialism.
Wise General Electric.
Come See Me Die.
Tomerlane's Skulls.

(Copyright, 1928, by Star Co.)

Otto H. Kahn says truly: "An amusing incident in politics is the complete misunderstanding of Herbert Hoover's statement that the Democratic program is a program of 'government socialism.'"

Democrats accuse Hoover of calling Governor Smith a Socialist and Governor Smith repels the accusation eloquently. "As a matter of fact, Mr. Hoover made no reference to socialism, as ordinarily understood. He referred in plain words to 'state socialism' established by Bismarck to combat real socialism."

"Mr. Hoover compared the Democratic program of paternalism to the 'state socialism' that puts unemployed men on the 'dole' in England, and that Bismarck devised to fight real socialism."

Nevertheless, a large percentage of Democrats will always believe that Hoover called Smith a Socialist. It is not sufficient to use terms correctly; you must foresee how others will interpret them.

Mr. Swope and his General Electric Company apparently made a better deal with Russia recently than was supposed. Russia bought $25,000,000 worth of electrical equipment from the General Electric and Russia arranged with the General Electric to include a sum sufficient to make up for General Electric properties confiscated by bolshevism.

Berlin says it is a convenient way to settle the General Electric claims without "establishing a precedent."

Swope probably doesn't care how it was done.

In Huntsville, Texas, "Bo" Silver invited his friends to see him "sit down in the chair."

At the last minute Governor Moody commuted his sentence to life imprisonment.

"Bo" remained: "My friends sure missed a wonderful party."

Men sentenced to death frequently issue invitations for their last appearance. Carlisle Harris, a young medical student who murdered his wife, requested a newspaper acquaintance to see him die and tell his mother all about it.

When Tamerlane ruled in Asia he had a habit, after taking a city, of cutting off heads of soldiers and other inhabitants and building them into pyramids. When they dried up from the inside as a warning to his enemies.

Bootleg whiskey builds its pyramids of coffins, not skulls. In New York yesterday 18 miserable victims of bootleg poison whiskey, each in a pine box, were piled up on the deck of the municipal ferryboat Colonel Clayton bound for Potter's field. There they rest a warning that will not be warned.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific the airplane "Yankee Doodle" flew in 24 hours 51 minutes. If a light airplane can do that now, at the beginning of aviation, how long will it take fully-developed planes to cross this continent. Those lines will cross in six hours and less. Railroads operating trans-continental lines take notice.

In the past three months General Motors has earned $79,266,639. In nine months that gigantic company has earned $249,334,613 more than in any 12 months previous.

BOOS MARK AL'S TALK IN PHILLY

Charges Fly In Speeches of Smith and Texas Chief Borah Assailed—Wife of Nebraska Senator for Hoover—As Is Mail Order King.

By Walter Chamberlain (Associated Press Staff Writer) PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Carrying his speaking campaign into Pennsylvania, Governor Alfred E. Smith tonight opened an attack on republican leaders who have been shooting at his recent utterances and accused them of attempting to bedevil the issue before the American people.

Speaking in the arena of the democratic standard for seven years ago in Philadelphia, he addressed an audience which backed every seat and jammed the aisles to be quiet so he could talk.

"The gallery boos can come down here after I get finished," he shouted at one juncture. A little later he told the crowd of it would wait until he was done, that he then would stay and listen.

Each time the governor appealed for silence, his requests were punctuated with applause.

References by the nominee to Herbert Hoover, his rival for the presidency, were greeted with boos. The crowd also booed the mention of the name of Charles E. Hughes, Secretary Mellon, and Senator Borah of Idaho, who is stumping the country for the republican ticket.

Turning his verbal fire again on Mr. Hughes, this time on prohibition, the governor said he would assure that gentleman there was no sham battle being fought. "Sham battle," he asked, "does Governor Smith mean by that?"

"This is a real fight and it is not a fight upon the merits or demerits of the eighteenth amendment or the sustaining legislation; it is a fight against bribery, corruption, lawlessness, intemperance, and disregard and disrespect for all law.

After the applause had died down, the speaker asked: "And the American people do not fight sham battles when these questions are at issue?"

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—(AP)—From the normally Republican state of Pennsylvania Governor Alfred E. Smith tonight charged into three chieftains of the opposing party—Herbert Hoover, Charles E. Hughes and Secretary Mellon—whom he accused of sponsoring statements which were belittling the issue and were intended to mislead the American public.

The Democratic presidential nominee, in a speech prepared for his one personal appeal to the voters of the home state of the treasury department head, also affirmed his stand on the tariff and reiterated his declaration at Louisville, Ky., that business, whether it be big or small, had nothing to fear from Democratic success at the polls week after next.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Accusing the Republican party of corruption, misgovernment and discrimination against the south since the Civil war, Governor Dan Moody of Texas declared here tonight, in his first speech supporting the national democratic ticket, his confidence that the normal democratic majority in Texas will be in evidence in the November elections.

Governor Moody admitted, amidst cheers, that he did not agree with Governor Smith on prohibition, reaffirmed his own devotion to the eighteenth amendment, flayed Senator Borah of Idaho and declared that Borah was "indirectly responsible for the death of President Wilson."

McCOOK, Neb., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. George W. Norris, wife of Nebraska's senior senator, will not follow her husband into the Alfred E. Smith camp, she said, while visiting at her home here before going to Omaha to be present at the meeting where the senator spoke tonight.

RASKOB DOUBTS DIGEST POLL; CHEERS AIDES

County Chairmen Told Enemy on Run, And To Strive For Honest Count—Predicts Victory For Smith In Letter to Henchmen.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, addressed letters to all democratic county chairmen in the country today assuring the accuracy of the Literary Digest national poll and predicting victory for Governor Smith. He warned the organization leaders to be prepared to protect the polls and see that an honest count is obtained.

"The enemy is on the run; victory is ours," he wrote in conclusion. "Out of the 19,000,000 ballots distributed by the Literary Digest only 2,688,397 have been returned. Of these 1,539,617 were returned from people who voted the Republican ticket in 1924 and only 643,308 were returned from those who voted the Democratic ticket in 1924."

Mr. Raskob said the Literary Digest may have mailed the ballots to as many Democrats as Republicans and undoubtedly took every precaution to insure a fair poll.

"Manifestly the result of a poll in which out of every 3,000 votes received 2,300 are from the 1924 Republicans and only 1,000 from 1924 Democrats cannot accurately forecast the result of an election."

Vote On Sunday Baseball Key to Deal for Diamond Star—All Concerned Enter Denial Trade Completed.

'LIE DETECTOR' INVENTOR, NOTED EDUCATOR, DEAD

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Dr. Albert Schneider, 66, internationally famous as an educator in pharmacy and as a criminologist, was found dead here today at 6:45 A. M. on the sidewalk near the North Pacific College of Dentistry, of which he was dean of pharmacy. Death was thought to have been caused either by a heart attack or cerebral hemorrhage.

Following a custom which he had followed for the past two years, Dr. Schneider left his lodging place about 9 A. M. to go to the school to do two hours' work before other instructors and students arrived. Death overtook him as he walked to the school.

Dr. Schneider came to Portland six years ago. He had previously been with the University of Nebraska for 20 years and for many years previously to that period he had been connected with the University of California.

In connection with his research work, Dr. Schneider drew international attention from time to time. In 1927 he introduced in Portland a "lie detector" similar, he said, to one used by Lombroso, famous Italian criminologist.

FARRELL BEATEN FOR WORLD TITLE

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Walter Hagen, British open golf champion, defeated Johnny Farrell, American titleholder, 3 and 4 in the fifth and final 36-hole match between the pair to decide the unofficial world's golf championship at the St. Louis Country club today.

Starting the afternoon round four down, Farrell was pressing and hooking his drives, while his putter also failed to work satisfactorily. Hagen played a steady game.

Farrell went out in 37 this afternoon, with Hagen scoring 38. Hagen was one over par this morning with a 72, while Farrell took 75.

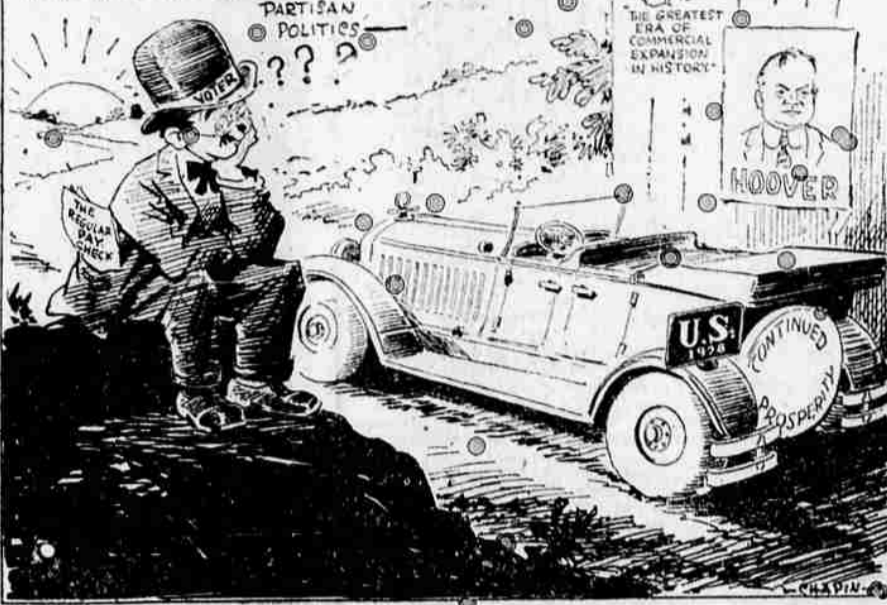

SCHOOL RIVALRY BRINGS TRAGEDY

POMONA, Cal., Oct. 27.—(AP)—A street battle between students of the Chaffey Union and Pomona high schools, which is held annually as an incident of their athletic rivalry, it was learned today, resulted in the death of one student and serious injury of two others.

A Question and the Answer

—Chapin in Philadelphia Public Ledger.

WHO IS BETTER ABLE TO BE MY NEXT CHAUFFEUR—
A MAN WHO IS A KNOWN SUCCESS AS AN ORGANIZER AND EXECUTIVE IN NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS OR A MAN WHOSE EXPERIENCE HAS BEEN CONFINED TO THE NARROW LIMITS OF STATE-WIDE PARTISAN POLITICS?

HORNSBY SALE AIR LINER SET OREGON SOLON TO GUBS WAITS FOR OCEAN HOP FLAYS ETHICS UPON ELECTION AT EARLY DATE MANY USES

Vote On Sunday Baseball Key to Deal for Diamond Star—All Concerned Enter Denial Trade Completed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Reports that Rogers Hornsby, baseball's "man without a country," had been traded by the Boston Braves to the Chicago Cubs for a sum approximating $50,000 gave die-hard followers something to get excited about today. The report, printed in the New York Sun, met prompt denial from officials of both clubs. The Sun continued to run its story through all its editions.

According to that newspaper Hornsby has been traded for $200,000 in cash and three Chicago players, outfielders Earl Webb and Cliff Heathcote, and second baseman Freddy McRae.

William Veeck, president of the Cubs, said the deal was "no further advanced than when the first rumor of it was floated six weeks ago."

Ed Cunningham, president of the Braves, said: "We will take no action in the Hornsby case until after election day."

Voters of Massachusetts are to decide at the polls whether they want Sunday baseball, and while the predictions are that the plan will be defeated by citizens outside the city of Boston, the Braves apparently intend to await the returns before trading away their expensive manager.

With Sunday games at Graves field, Judge Fuchs' club should earn enough money not only to afford a $4,000 manager, who already has signed at that reported figure for three more seasons, but also to build up the playing strength of the team by purchases of star minor league performers.

BOMB BURSTS IN CHICAGO VOTING

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Dynamite exploded tonight in a garage at the rear of the apartment building where Judge William J. Lindsay, democratic candidate for state's attorney of Cook county, resides, giving rise to fears that the November 6 election might be preceded by disorders such as preceded the April primaries.

The explosive wrecked the frame garage and shook the neighborhood. It did not damage the apartment building, however.

Zeppelin Crew Ready for Return Trip When Wind Right—To Follow Great Circle To Avoid Storms—Sailing Date Indefinite.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 27.—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin will be ready to begin its return flight to Germany tomorrow, but a combination of favorable circumstances will be necessary to accomplish an actual takeoff before Monday or even Tuesday.

Zero hour for the ground crew was set for five o'clock tomorrow afternoon, but that is merely a "stand ready" order and means that the ship will not leave until then. It may not, on the other hand, leave until a day or more after that.

It is necessary to have favorable ocean weather map and also good local conditions which permit taking the ship out of the harbor. It is quite likely that crosswinds may delay the departure one day or more, just as those winds delayed and at last caused abandonment of a projected inland flight.

Passengers were told today to stand by at their homes and hotels tomorrow on the possibility that the Zeppelin might leave in late afternoon.

They were told to limit their baggage to 50 pounds each and to provide themselves with flying coats and other warm clothing.

JAPANESE FEUD IN METROPOLIS CLAIMS VICTIM

PORTLAND, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Japanese revolvers rang out again early today and took the second life in a feud which has smoldered in Portland's oriental district since last March. K. Hayano, contractor of Japanese labor for companies, died in his bed in a hotel here when he was shot six times in the head and neck by an unidentified assailant who escaped.

Later in the day police inspectors arrested M. Teubel, 26, who was questioned all afternoon and who was held tonight for further investigation in connection with the killing. Authorities said he was the only subject of importance yet picked up.

That Hayano had expected a visit from an assassin was indicated by the fact that he always had a revolver near him and ordered that his room door be kept locked.

Sen. Steiwer Shows How Campaign Cash In Denver Speech—Oil Scandal Croicism Held Ill Timed.

DENVER, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Prefacing his address with tributes to Roosevelt, Lincoln and Hoover, United States Senator Fredrick Steiwer of Oregon launched an attack on Governor Alfred E. Smith as the Democratic nominee for president here today.

He said he made no defense "for those involved in oil scandals, who have betrayed their government," but added that "it behooves the Democratic candidate to question the public morals and the financial operations of other oil persons."

Evidence taken by an investigating senate committee showed, he said, that George H. Van Namee, a member of the New York state public service commission, had collected a total of $170,000 for Smith's pre-convention campaign fund from W. F. Kenny, who is the head of two companies engaged in the contracting business, 90 per cent of which came from the public utility files.

"Could you imagine that Commissioner Van Namee, armed with power to fix rates, would have any difficulty in telling utility companies to place their contracts with Mr. Kenny?" Senator Steiwer asked. "By the ethical standards of Tammany Hall, the procedure relative is a correct and proper procedure."

TOLERANCE PLEA TO LADY VOTERS

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 27.—(AP)—A plea to the voters of the nation to "cast aside religious intolerance and bigotry by electing Al Smith to the presidency" was made here tonight by Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former Governor of Wyoming. Mrs. Ross addressed a capacity crowd in a theater and made her appeal chiefly to women voters.

The former woman executive said she believed the time had come to elect a "well-qualified Catholic to the presidency to answer for all time the question whether a Catholic citizen in this democracy is ineligible to all the privileges of citizenship."

Mrs. Ross lauded Smith for "unflinchingly approaching the prohibition question."

COLLEGE BOYS ADMIT KILLING FOR 'THRILLS'

Bloody Garment Leads to Arrest of Pair, Who Robbed Nightly—One Takes All Blame—Both From Prominent Families.

ATLANTA, Oct. 27.—(AP)—A pair of blood-stained trousers in a dry cleaning establishment furnished the clue on which two Oglethorpe university students, both with prominent local connections, were arrested today charged with a long series of hold-ups, and the slaying of two men for "a thrill."

George Harsh, 19, sophomore, was taken into custody on the university campus this afternoon and shortly afterward, police said, confessed to the hold-ups and slayings and implicated James B. (Dick) Galley, 18, of Atlanta, a freshman, who was arrested at Athens, Ga., where he was watching the Georgia-Tulane football game.

The series of hold-ups, during which E. H. Meek, a grocery clerk, and Willard Smith, a druggist, were slain, and L. C. Ellis, manager of a chain store, wounded, began early this month.

Detectives found the blood-stained trousers and traced them to Harsh, who says his mother is a widow of Milwaukee, Wis., and his arrest followed.

Harsh, according to A. Lamar Poole, chief of police, said that in each instance he committed the hold-ups, while Galley remained outside in an automobile to keep his retreat covered.

Harsh, shaken under questioning, detailed to officers how he and Galley made almost nightly excursions to rob neighborhood grocers and drug stores "for a thrill."

Taking all the blame of the two slayings, police said Harsh told them he opened fire on the men because he wanted a greater "thrill."

Harsh, shaken under questioning, detailed to officers how he and Galley made almost nightly excursions to rob neighborhood grocers and drug stores "for a thrill."

Taking all the blame of the two slayings, police said Harsh told them he opened fire on the men because he wanted a greater "thrill."

Harsh, shaken under questioning, detailed to officers how he and Galley made almost nightly excursions to rob neighborhood grocers and drug stores "for a thrill."

Taking all the blame of the two slayings, police said Harsh told them he opened fire on the men because he wanted a greater "thrill."

Harsh, shaken under questioning, detailed to officers how he and Galley made almost nightly excursions to rob neighborhood grocers and drug stores "for a thrill."

Taking all the blame of the two slayings, police said Harsh told them he opened fire on the men because he wanted a greater "thrill."

STATERS 29 HUSKIES 0; FROSH WIN

Maple's Broken Field Running Thrills—Washington Unable to Check O. S. C. Squad—Second Team Given Chance—Oregon Yearlings Beat Rooks.

STADIUM, SEATTLE, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The Oregon State College Beavers showed the University of Washington Huskies their place in a one-sided football fracas here today. The Huskies had little to console themselves for the small end of the 29-to-0 score.

From the start of the game until Coach Beaver's quarterback, who was arrested at Athens, Ga., where he was watching the Georgia-Tulane football game.

The series of hold-ups, during which E. H. Meek, a grocery clerk, and Willard Smith, a druggist, were slain, and L. C. Ellis, manager of a chain store, wounded, began early this month.

Detectives found the blood-stained trousers and traced them to Harsh, who says his mother is a widow of Milwaukee, Wis., and his arrest followed.

Harsh, according to A. Lamar Poole, chief of police, said that in each instance he committed the hold-ups, while Galley remained outside in an automobile to keep his retreat covered.

Harsh, shaken under questioning, detailed to officers how he and Galley made almost nightly excursions to rob neighborhood grocers and drug stores "for a thrill."

Taking all the blame of the two slayings, police said Harsh told them he opened fire on the men because he wanted a greater "thrill."

Harsh, shaken under questioning, detailed to officers how he and Galley made almost nightly excursions to rob neighborhood grocers and drug stores "for a thrill."

Taking all the blame of the two slayings, police said Harsh told them he opened fire on the men because he wanted a greater "thrill."

Harsh, shaken under questioning, detailed to officers how he and Galley made almost nightly excursions to rob neighborhood grocers and drug stores "for a thrill."

Taking all the blame of the two slayings, police said Harsh told them he opened fire on the men because he wanted a greater "thrill."

Harsh, shaken under questioning, detailed to officers how he and Galley made almost nightly excursions to rob neighborhood grocers and drug stores "for a thrill."

Taking all the blame of the two slayings, police said Harsh told them he opened fire on the men because he wanted a greater "thrill."

RECKLESS DRIVER FACES TRIAL ON AUTO FATALITY

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 27.—(AP)—John L. Hunt, 55, died today at a hospital from injuries received Thursday when he was struck by an automobile operated by C. W. Clauson of Portland. Hunt's death was the fifty-fourth traffic accident fatality since the police fiscal year began.

Clauson will be charged with involuntary manslaughter as a result of Hunt's death, police said. Traffic accident investigators said Clauson was driving 30 miles an hour and dragged Hunt 15 feet when he hit him. Clauson was arrested on a charge of reckless driving at the time of the accident.

Four persons were injured, two of them seriously, when their automobile crashed head on into Mount Scott street car today. Those seriously injured were Mrs. O. E. Schwelzer, 33, of Lorick, Ore., internal abdominal injuries; Guy May Schwelzer, 15, fracture of right arm and right wrist, bruises and shock.

Lineup and summary: Washington O.S.C. 0 0 0—0 O.S.C. 157 0—29 O.S.C. scoring touchdowns: Hughes, Striff, Maple, Whitlock. Points from try after touchdowns: Whitlock 2, place kicks: Maple place kick; Carroll safety.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 27.—(AP)—The University of Oregon freshmen eleven strangled the Oregon State College Rooks in an avalanche of passes and long runs here today 27 to 0. The result from the university had the best of it throughout the thrilling game, and were either scoring or marching to a score of most of the afternoon.

Elderly Oregon freshman outscored the first touchdown for his team, when he scooped by blocked kick and raced 15 yards over the goal line. The points came in the first three minutes of play. Demers, Oregon fullback, converted.

The most brilliant run of the day came in the second quarter when A. I. Brown, fresh quarterback, broke through tackle and shaking off a down tackle, sped 53 yards to the goal. Brown's run was from which point Nevada's fullback crashed over the line. Demers again converted.

After a scoreless third quarter.

(Continued on Page Six.)