While the local unit of the Oregon National Guard is recruited up to full strength, there are still a few vacancies for deserving applicants, according to Captain Carl Y. Tengwald yesterday. He stated that old members may be discharged in order to give room for new and added that membership in the unit is being made more attractive in the early completion of a rifle range east of Medford and the remodeling of new club rooms in the armory.

Frank Kinney of Eugene has exchanged a Willamette valley property for the 250-acre Cove ranch on the Applegate river out from Jacksonville. The deal is said to involve $40,000. Fifty acres of bearing pear trees are included in the tract. Additional pears will be planted, and the place will be heavily stocked to consume the annual alfalfa crop.

Although he has been engaged in spare time in getting the map in place for two weeks, Raymond Mays of the city engineer's office is still laboring on the completion of the large city map which is being put in place in the city council room. Mr. Mays plans to paste small pictures of public buildings on the map, which is over 20 feet long and 16 feet high.

Altho no official announcement has been made, it is rumored that a city billiard tournament may be held this winter along similar lines as the one held two years ago and which was won by Chris Gottlieb. The tournament this year perhaps would not attract so many players as the last due to the absence of several who have moved away from Medford since that time.

Practical jokers have been busy during the past week and have caused several unsuspecting motorists to appear at the police station, as the result of leaving tags in their cars, notifying them that they had violated some traffic ordinance. One woman appeared at the station yesterday forenoon and handed the chief a yellow tag, telling her to appear at the city police court, where the judge, not knowing particulars of the case, referred her to the chief of police, who told her that she was the victim of one of the day's best practical jokes. He explained to her that the police use only one tag in bringing in violations. Shall the people elect the Circuit Court Judge, or shall we listen to a few disgruntled lawyers. 226*

While having a total of nearly $94,000 less than the total of Friday, yesterday was another busy day in the tax collection department of the sheriff's office, where a rush to pay taxes has been on the past week in order to make payments before taxes become delinquent tomorrow. Over $40,000 was received yesterday and over $130,000 was received the day before. The biggest check Friday was approximately $57,000 and was received from the Southern Pacific company.

For the purpose of reaching some solution in regard to the problem of electric meter locations on dwellings, a delegation of California Oregon Power representatives conferred yesterday afternoon with City Electrician Harry Rinsbarber in regard to making some ruling, whereby all meters were to be located in relatively the same positions on all houses. This would be a great aid to meter readers, it was pointed out.

A photograph by Verne Shangle of the model airport, now on exhibition in the display windows of the chamber of commerce, appears so realistic that it seems to be a photo of the actual airport taken from an airplane. The display was made in order to create further interest in the floating of a bond issue for the construction of such an airport for Medford in the near future. The photo is exhibited alongside the model airfield.

Harold Anderson, 29, a transient was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, by Justice L. A. Roberts of Ashland, yesterday for possession of moonshine, and his car was confiscated. He had been in this city for three days, and it is alleged, he sold all but nine pints of two gallons of moonshine, he procured shortly after his arrival.

A message on the wide spreading work of the Presbyterian church in this nation as carried on by its organized forces of men and women, will be given by Rev. Norman K. Smith at the morning service today. Mr. Smith is pastor of the Presbyterian church at Mt. Pleasant, Utah, and is visiting the Presbyterian churches of this state during the month of November.

Every merchant and manufacturer in Medford is urged to attend a dinner and joint meeting tomorrow evening at the Hotel Medford with the Retail Trade Committee of the Medford Chamber of Commerce to discuss plans for the Buy-At-Home week campaign, which is scheduled to begin November 19 and continue until November 24. During this time only home products will be featured by local establishments.

Following is an excerpt of a letter which was sent to all local merchants, by the chamber:

November 5th, at the Medford Hotel, there will be a meeting of all interested in these campaigns, at which time the purposes and mechanics of the two campaigns will be thoroughly explained to you. The principal speaker of the evening will be H. E. Cully, secretary of the Rouburg chamber of commerce, which has successfully conducted like campaigns in that city last year. This will be

Earl Fehl, Daily News Mail Tribune Oppose Chaney

Newton C. Chaney

In his 1924 primary and election campaigns, Newton C. Chaney had no newspaper support in Jackson County. Regardless of this, the people nominated and elected him.

In this campaign the Ashland Tidings is giving him whole-hearted support, but all of the Medford papers are opposed to him, and one of them, the Pacific Record Herald, published by Earl Fehl, scandalously attacks Mr. Chaney in every issue of his libelous sheet.

We have no criticism to make of reasonable and decent newspaper opposition to our candidate, but we do insist on fair and reasonable opposition.

Mr. Chaney may not be the kind of district attorney the Medford newspapers want, but if he suits the taxpayers, we should worry.

We are asking the taxpayers and business men to take up his fight and put him across by an overwhelming majority on November 6th.

(Signed) TAXPAYERS' COMMITTEE.

MEMBERS OF TAXPAYERS LEAGUE

We the undersigned citizens and tax payers of Jackson County, in order to effectively promote the candidacy of Newton C. Chaney for District Attorney do hereby pledge ourselves to use all honorable means to bring about his re-election. This committee of citizens and tax payers shall be known as "The Tax Payers Committee."

M. L. Alford

For City Recorder

Mr. Alford's business experience, his unquestioned successful management of the Recorder's office and his knowledge of the affairs of the City, make it particularly desirable that he be re-elected to succeed himself on November 6.
