

SHIELDS STORE IS PURCHASED BY R. C. HADLEY, INC.

One of the largest deals of the season was completed Saturday with the sale of the Shields company merchandise store on South Central avenue to R. C. Hadley of Portland, owner of the R. C. Hadley, Inc. operators of the Cinderella Shops now doing business in Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oregon. The purchase price was announced at $15,000 and the deal was consummated through Walter H. Leveette, realtor.

L. F. Ferguson has been ordered to take charge of the establishment and will dispose of the present stock in a huge sale, regardless of cost or consequences. The store is closed for invoicing and re-marking all present sale prices down to even a lower figure. The opening of the store, which is expected soon, will be announced in a short time by Mr. Ferguson, who said today that the buying public will be given rare merchandise bargains upon the opening of the sale.

Upon the completion of the sale, the interior of the store will be refinished and re-decorated and the front, according to present plans, will also undergo changes. A new stock, similar to that carried in other Cinderella Shops, will be put in place, giving Medford one of the neatest establishments of its kind in southern Oregon.

HAL HOSS FOR SECRETARY STATE

Hal E. Hoss, regular Republican nominee for secretary of state. Mr. Hoss has been a resident of Oregon City for a number of years, is part owner of the Daily Enterprise.

Who in conjunction with our sheriff's department, secured the confessions from these murderers.

The undersigned are the "assistants" above referred to, who took down the confessions in shorthand, are thoroughly familiar with all the facts and personally know that Newton C. Chaney was not even present in the room, while these confessions were being made, which contained from eight at night until about six the next morning. Post Office Inspector Jefferson and Lane questioned these murderers, as shown by the record, and to the best of our knowledge and belief, Chaney returned to Medford shortly after midnight, after the confessions were half way completed.

On account of our past connection with the District Attorney's office, we have been reluctant to and have refrained from answering the misstatements, distortions of fact and paid affidavits printed in the paid ad in behalf of Chaney's candidacy, but this travesty on truth, in regard to the DeAutremont confessions, force us, as a matter of principle and in support of truth and right, to give the facts to the people of this county.

We have been advised that Bert Anderson would advance for a retraction of the false statement made in the advertisement mentioned, regarding these confessions. However, in order that the truth may be known, we request the publication of this letter.

prison of that city and has always been active in the upbuilding of the state.

He was private secretary to Governor Patterson, but resigned when he became a candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state.

When Secretary of State Kizer resigned recently to accept the position of budget commissioner, Governor Patterson appointed Mr. Hoss secretary of state, to fill the unexpired term, because he was the regular Republican nominee.

Mr. Hoss, according to his friends, is especially qualified to fill this position and will give the state a business administration.

Communications

Upton Answers Nealon.
To the Editor:
Referring to Mr. Emmett Nealon's communication derogative to Mr. Cornwell as a candidate for county school superintendent and endorsing Mrs. Carter, this is not surprising, as it is well known that Mr. Nealon is a strong and ardent advocate of the school unit system which Mrs. Carter endeavored to foist upon the rural districts of Jackson county in 1927. It is my opinion that the centralized power with authority to tax to carry on elaborate and expensive school plans and enlargements is the glittering gem which attracts some to the unit plan, rather than better and more efficient schools for rural communities.

It is my understanding that Mr. Cornwell was tendered a position with the Medford schools for this year and declined it. He has been in the county a number of years. He graduated from O. A. C. with distinction, and seems in every way qualified to fill the position of superintendent satisfactorily.

There is, however, one qualification lacking in Mr. Cornwell. A qualification which seems to be necessary in this day to be a successful candidate, and that is not a POLITICIAN like some others.

In regard to his claiming support and the backings which Mr. Nealon claims are fictitious: Mr. Cornwell's claims are more reasonable than many other candidates for office at this time. All claim that they will be elected and that the other fellow hasn't a chance.

FRANK E. UPTON,
Central Point, Nov. 5.

She adhered to her story that she had inflicted the injuries herself, putting her legs, arms and head in the small opening of a furnace, "for purity and love."

There is on record, among horrible stories of torture inflicted during the middle ages in the name of religion, that an old Jew, who endured torture, at intervals, for six months, steadfastly refused to give false testimony concerning the alleged "blood atonement."

He was tortured until he could stand no more, returned to his cell to recover, taken out and tortured again. Still he would not tell the lie that was wanted, condemning brother Jew to death, and he died under torture.

The strength of the human will, in exceptional cases, passes understanding.

A blizzard in mountain states temporarily interfered with transcontinental mail last week and the foolish will say, "You can't rely on airplanes." Middle-aged men remember when every little snow drift could stop the railroad train. Then came the giant snow-plow and uninterrupted traffic. Giant planes with powerful engines will pay no attention to blizzards and winds. And thanks to President Coolidge and Postmaster General New our postal service encourages airplane progress.

Those who believed yarns relating that wind had shaken all the fruit from the trees in Florida will be interested in a statement by the United States Department of Agriculture that Florida's citrus crop will amount to 18,000,000 boxes, about 45,000 carloads, a crop never exceeded except once.

It takes more than a high wind or a gang of real estate sharks to injure permanently such a state as Florida.

A recent statement by Mr. Raschob will cause many fathers and mothers to break one of the commandments and envy him. He says that not one of his eleven children smokes or drinks. Nevertheless he is opposed to prohibition.

Many other fathers are opposed to prohibition because their children so smoke, and drink poisonous stuff, secretly — and, like many of their fathers, are rather proud of their ability to cheat the law.

STOCKMEN JUDGE LIVESTOCK SHOW

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Expert stockmen, called from all parts of the country to act as judges in the Pacific International Livestock exposition, went to work in earnest today as class after class of pure-bred stock was called into the ring.

The competition between the individual fat steers was to be completed at the close of the day. Classes in the dairy and beef cattle divisions proper are to begin on Tuesday.

The day was a busy one for the members of the boys' and girls' club members, who were called upon to show their pets in the junior department.

Misleading Statement Corrected

To the Editor:
The Republican Central committee wishes to state to the voters that when it wrote the advertisement in Sunday morning papers, and headed: "Newton C. Chaney and the DeAutremont Case," it did so on hastily assembled information and with little opportunity to re-check on the data at hand. The committee had the telegram from Harry S. New, postmaster general. It had the court record showing Mr. Chaney had presented the confessions to the court and asked that life sentences be imposed, but there was no record to show just what happened the night before in the jail when these confessions were secured. At this point the committee had only hearsay.

Therefore, we frankly confess error in that part of the ad where we stated that Mr. Chaney secured the confessions after the department of justice and post office inspectors had failed. Chas. Hildford, post office inspector in charge, was solely responsible for securing these confessions.

The facts are that each did his part and there was the fullest harmony and co-operation existing at all times between the post office inspectors and the district attorney's office.

This committee is glad to make this correction, for there are enough good things that are true to say about Mr. Chaney, without deliberately invading the field of fiction.

COOLIDGES LEAVE FOR HOME STATE TO CAST BALLOT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge will leave here late today for Northampton, Mass., where tomorrow they will cast their ballots in the general election. They will remain in Northampton only two hours, planning to be in Washington again by early evening.

While in Northampton, in addition to voting, they expect to call on Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, Mrs. Coolidge's mother, who has been in a hospital, there since last December.

Campaign Closed.

To the Voters:
Our campaign on behalf of the Republican candidates is now closed, and we wish to take this opportunity to thank our friends among the general public for their co-operation and assistance, and especially KMED and the Jackson county press for their unflinching co-operation, fairness and courtesy.

We sincerely hope that we can greet our opponents on Wednesday morning with a smile and that the sun still shines on southern Oregon, JACKSON COUNTY REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE.
Frank Farrell, Chairman.
Vern Marshall, Sec.-Treas.

Crowds
To the Editor:
In a county town there are always "two crowds." Citizens who dislike each other so cordially that they retain community progress with their quarreling. Frequently the citizen abused most venomously is the most useful and upright.

We still think this is a great country.

JACKSON'S FIRST PAYMENT IS SENT

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 5.—(AP)—The first payments of the last half of state taxes were received by the state treasurer today from Curry and Jackson counties. Curry sent in $10,297.22 and Jackson $73,708.04, a total of $84,005.26.

side of the usual freak wagers, there has been little betting.

The Mail Tribune will broadcast over KMED, and megaphone the results of the election, with the first returns from the presidential vote, coming in about 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Cloudy weather is predicted for tomorrow. Public offices and banks will be closed.

It is not necessary for voters to bring with them to the polls registration certificates which were issued during the past several months, according to County Clerk Stevens Meyer, who said the certificates were issued only for the convenience of the voters in order that they might ascertain the location of their precinct.

She urges voters to cast their ballots early, preferably in the morning, thus eliminating the usual last minute rush which often makes it impossible for election boards to begin the counting of votes for an hour after the polls are officially ordered to close.

In a list of polling places published recently, precinct No. 38 was inadvertently omitted and it is located at the Roosevelt school.

SUNDAY AUTO ACCIDENTS

sustained painful bruises, when a car which her husband, Lester Cash, was driving, left the Pacific highway yesterday morning, this side of Phoenix and crashed into a telephone pole, damaging the machine beyond thought of repair. Mrs. Cash, however, was not seriously injured and was able to be out yesterday afternoon. Her husband sustained no injuries.

A cow on the Crater lake highway late Saturday night, or early Sunday morning, caused heavy damage to a car driven by Cecil Parkhurst of this city. Unable to see clearly ahead because of rain and mist, Parkhurst struck the cow head-on, damaging the front of his machine to the extent of a bent fender and a ruined radiator. While he was surveying the damage, another automobile, driven by F. C. Miles of Medford, crashed into the rear end of the Parkhurst machine, causing a broken frame, a ruined gasoline tank and a bad dent in the body.

thority, that the "good news" about General Motors, suggested by Mr. Sloan, will take the form of a splitup, which will give stockholders two and one-half shares for one, new shares paying 3 per cent, which would be equivalent to 7 1/2 per cent on the present shares.

The new arrangement would give little people a chance to speculate in General Motors, which is difficult at the present price, with a thousand shares costing about $224,000.

When the stock exchange was closed in war time, and Otto H. Kahn advised friends to buy General Motors and make themselves independent, the equivalent of the 1000 shares could have been bought for $2340. These things improve in this country, when they are well managed.
