MEDFORD WOMAN WENT TO SCHOOL WITH MR. HOOVER

Mrs. L. P. Belknap of this city attended school with Herbert Hoover and the following interesting account of the Republican candidate was written by her brother, A. B. Dorsey of Waterville, Wis., newspaper publisher and state representative. The "sister" referred to below is Mrs. Belknap: "Having been asked to give an article on Herbert Hoover, I eagerly respond by giving tribute to a boy I knew over forty years ago. An orphan, who had been living with relatives in the east, was sent all alone, to live with his uncle, Mr. Minthorn, who at that time was also superintendent of a Quaker academy, which had just been established at Newberg, Oregon, which my sister and I attended during 1885 and 1886. "He was put in the preparatory department of this academy, and being only 10 years old, and small for his age, he soon became popular as the youngest of the school; and much loved for his pleasant, gentle ways. "The uncle with whom he lived had no children of his own, and being an uncompromising disciplinarian, we other students thought he was extremely hard on Herbert, giving him heavy duties and responsibilities for a boy of his size and years. "It may be that the seeds for presidential characteristics were planted and nourished then; and the worthy man we now honor developed from the earnest, modest boy, with the teachings of self-discipline, and the hereditary background of impregnable Quaker principles of purity of living, earnestness, honesty, and simplicity of the individual, and an uncompromising position on important public questions—temperance in all things, and in opposition to slavery and war. "A great man, who, though by birth and education strongly opposed war, served this country so efficiently during the World War, teaching and supervising the conservation and distribution of food, and in supervising the supply of relief to the starving women and children of Europe, friend and foe alike. "At a time when the whole nation is calling for honesty, justice, moderation, self-discipline, and judicious simplicity of living, this great organizer, grown from the boy I knew, seems to hold the key to all these problems. "At a recent visit to the old school town, we were impressed, not by the pomp and boastful atmosphere usually surrounding a presidential candidate, but by the pleasant smile, the peaceful, almost prayerful helpfulness of the cultured people, the modest, quiet, honey town, a river flowing thru it, great shade trees on its banks, the little, old-fashioned college, still teaching its Quaker principles and sending them forth into the sea of life. Surely, with such a background the earnest boy grown to manhood is worthy of the presidency of the nation, and I urge all citizens to give him hearty support. "A. B. DORSEY."

Very little such naturalistic work of this sort has been done in Jackson county, and there may be other rich discoveries that await the attention of field collectors.

OCTOBER AVERAGE WEATHER RECORDS FOR MONTH SHOW

The meteorological summary for the month of October in Medford, as prepared by L. W. Dick, head of the local weather bureau, is as follows: "The monthly mean temperature, 53.1 degrees, exactly equalled the past average for October. There were no outstanding extremes of either high or low readings. The highest was 80.2 on the 8th, and the lowest was 24.9 on the 13th. Minima were below the freezing point on only four days. "The total precipitation also exactly equalled the October normal of 1.28 inches. Practically all of this amount fell on seven days, the 2nd to 6th and the 29th to 31st. From the 6th to 28th, inclusive, measurable amounts fell on only two days, and in those instances the amounts were light. "The greatest 24-hour fall was 0.52 inch, on the 4th. "Cloudiness was rather low for October. Lunar halos were observed on two days; light and dense fog formed on four, and light smoke was recorded on four days. Light frost, the first of the season formed on the 11th, and on the following day a killing frost, with a minimum temperature of 28 degrees, occurred. Thereafter no notes of frost were kept. "In general, wind movements at surface and aloft were rather light although some surface maxima were attained which slightly exceeded any recorded during September. The mean hourly velocity, however, was only 3.3 miles, slightly less than in the preceding month. The highest surface velocity registered was 21 miles per hour, from the northwest, on the 11th. The prevailing direction was from the north. "Max. Min. Mm. PHYSICAL CULTURE EDUCATION CLASS TO HOLD MEETING

The adult physical education class, which is being formed by Miss Maud Barriger, physical education instructor of the high school, will hold their first meeting Wednesday, November 14. A number of local business women and housewives have already signed up for the course, which is to include a series of recreational exercises and health instructions and dancing lessons. "The classes will be held at the local Methodist church hall every Wednesday evening from seven to eight. Reducing exercises will be prescribed and given to those who need such treatment, according to Miss Barriger, while those who are underweight will be instructed along opposite lines. "Basketball, volleyball, clog dancing and folk dancing are among

LONG SLEEP MAKES BABY HAPPY AGAIN

"Our baby kept waking us several times a night, until we started giving him a little Castoria after his last nursing," says an Iowa mother. "He slept soundly from the first night and it made him look and feel worlds better." Baby specialists endorse Fletcher's Castoria; and millions of mothers know how this pure vegetable, harmless preparation helps babies and children, with colic, constipation, colds, diarrhea, etc. The Fletcher signature is always on the wrapper of genuine Castoria. Avoid imitations.

Vitaphone Picture Hunt's Craterian

"Women They Talk About," is the Vitaphone picture now showing at Hunt's Craterian. "There is woman in politics, with cupid somewhere in the offing. Irene Rich is featured as the woman candidate for mayor against a former lover who is running for re-election. Audrey Ferris is featured as the daughter of the lady candidate, and the chaste, staid sweetheart of the mayor's truck-driving son, played by William Collier, Jr. Others in the all-star cast are Claude Gillingwater, Anders Randolph, Jack Santoro and John Miljan. "Vitaphone accompaniment is augmented by the voices of the players which in high moments of the action speak their lines with tremendous effect.

BIOLOGY TEACHER RECEIVES THANKS

E. M. Hassome, teacher of biology in the Senior high school, has a very appreciative letter from the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., thanking him for plant and insect specimens from Jackson county, recently sent to that institution as additions to their southern Oregon collections. Of these plant specimens, six are new to this locality, and of the insects, one butterfly, two moths and six beetles have not been reported before from this section of Oregon. "Very little such naturalistic work of this sort has been done in Jackson county, and there may be other rich discoveries that await the attention of field collectors.

SUCCESS

Better Government League wishes the voters of the First Judicial District success on election day in its effort to restore its judiciary to the time-honored place of confidence and esteem that for many years it occupied. All good citizens realize that you must respect and honor, and have explicit confidence in, the judge who occupies the bench. All realize that and know that you must not have one rule for one man and another rule for another. That a grand jury should be as well advised, and as free to indict one man or set of men as another. All realize that the condition that exists here today is due to the judiciary mixing in politics. Not in party politics, but in local politics. The great desire of a judge for re-election will cause him to do things for his political advancement. They cause him to lean to the cause of one lawyer, while slighting or turning down the right or justice of the cause of another. They cause him to write political letters and promises for support. They cause him to put himself into close association with the political boss of a district or county, and the clique or ring that always associates with such power. The people know and realize that politicians crave and use all of the power that they can command.

When the League undertook this task of helping the voters to purify the bench of this district, it found that Judge Thomas had built up, by his own advertising, a false record that only the facts could destroy. He had done this by going with great frequency to the press with things that boosted him in the public mind. No one could take the time to challenge this advertising. He created the impression that he had speeded up justice, and wiped out the technicalities of the law. That he had cleaned his docket as it had never been cleared before. That he had made the lawyers step lively at his command to prevent them from impeding his progress in this noble work. All this was sham, as an investigation showed. It has taken great detail and much work and expense to show the truth. It has meant that he record had to be printed, so that the public could read for itself, and know the facts. It meant that specific instances had to be published, so as to give Judge Thomas an opportunity to answer. This has all been done for your benefit. No assertion of ours has been successfully denied. Sham and business generalities mixed with bitter comment against us have been the only answer. But the facts, as shown by the record, still stand as we published them, undisputed.

Then Judge Thomas published that he had received the unsolicited endorsement of practically all the members of the bar. He claimed election because the lawyers, more than any other people, ought to know his fitness for the office. He claimed that the public could safely follow the endorsement of the bar. Then came the truth. The letter of Mr. Hanna and Mr. Fliegel showed the untruthfulness of his claim. No allegation of either of these letters has ever been met or denied. He did not have the endorsement of the bar. Now, more than 90 per cent of the lawyers who will practice before him in the event of his election are firmly opposed to returning him upon the bench because they do not have confidence in him. This is a deplorable condition but it is the fact. Now these lawyers whose endorsements were once so valuable to the public are now called by Judge Thomas and his supporters "rule or ruin political lawyers." They are charged in the press, over the signature of Judge Thomas, with maintaining suits to cloud the titles to real property and allowing these cases to hang for years in order to "blackmail" people in paying money to get rid of these cases. This aroused great resentment in the bar, as it ought, and as it certainly will in your minds.

A judge cannot work with lawyers about whom he has said these things. They cannot represent you before him without great danger to your cause. Fortunately, Mr. Norton is the best qualified man in the district for the office. Fortunately he lives in another county. Fortunately no political boss dominates or controls him. Fortunately he owes nothing to anybody whose appropriation of public funds might be investigated by a grand jury. Fortunately no grand juror could embarrass him by the asking of an honest question.

We have been criticised for the great expense to which we have gone. We have done it for the purification of the judiciary and to take it out of politics and beyond the control of any man or set of men. It is absolutely necessary to go into another county for a judge in order to accomplish this result. Whatever we have published has been from the record. If it discredits Judge Thomas it was he himself who made the record. The truth should hurt no man. Those who publish the truth should not be accused of mudslinging. Much less should they be libeled and slandered.

We are with you in this great effort. We appeal to you all to see that the vote is gotten out and the people have an opportunity to express themselves upon this grave issue.

BETTER GOVERNMENT LEAGUE.

Billie Dove at the Rialto Today

Sacrifice is the theme of "The Night Watch," now at the Rialto, a fascinating film drama, with the beautiful Billie Dove in the starring role, which is the most dramatic role of her starring career. The plot is a direct and simple one, but its dramatic power is heightened by its very simplicity and the characters of the story are few. Sacrifice of her own reputation to shield her husband—even though they are estranged—from an unjust accusation, is the high point of the story and the events leading up to it are both tense and colorful. "Almost the entire action of the story takes place in a single night, with a modern battleship as its unusual setting.

Stomach Troubles

"There are many symptoms of ulcers of the stomach, some of which are a typical chronic pain which occurs from one to three or four hours following the meal. It is a sharp, cutting, excruciating type of pain, present as soon as the stomach has emptied itself of food. "Chemically it is usually due to a hyperacid secretion. We also find a great deal of gaseous distention, a feeling of discomfort, distress and sometimes nausea which is characteristic of this ailment." The above is an extract from editorial by Phillip M. Lovell, N. D. "PEERLESS STOMACAL REMEDY has afforded thousands of people relief from Hyperacidity of the Stomach, Gas on Stomach, Heartburn, and Gastric Distress due to Hyperacidity. HARRY D. NORTON For Circuit Judge

Mr. Norton has been a leader of the Josephine bar for over thirty years and we have yet to hear the first criticism of his personal or political conduct. His relations with his brother attorneys have always been entirely harmonious. He is well known, in Jackson County as well as Josephine County, and we believe there is not a lawyer in either county who would hesitate to try a case before him. "Though always devoted to his profession, he found time to do a great deal toward the up-building of the community. Probably few, if any lawyers in the state, have devoted so much of their time and energy as he to work of this kind. He served for fifteen years as city attorney of Grants Pass at a salary of $25.00 per month when the regular salary was $125.00 per month.

Mr. Norton is personally and politically dry and is on record as being opposed to the modification of the eighteenth amendment or the Volstead act, and when Grants Pass went dry, Mr. Norton drew up the Ordinance putting the Prohibition regime into effect and this Ordinance has been pronounced by dry leaders to be the best in the state. Sections of this Ordinance were later incorporated into the State Law.

Following is a telegram received from the Rev. W. F. Shields, who for many, many years was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Medford, Oregon, and one of the ardent supporters of the dry cause during 1908-09-10 and 11 and for many years previous. The telegram reads:

"I am informed that Harry D. Norton of Grants Pass is a candidate for Circuit Judge of Josephine County. I remember Mr. Norton, a man of integrity and a good friend of prohibition. Friends of prohibition ought to be entrusted with the enforcement of the law. Support the dry candidate, regardless of party. (Signed) "WESTON F. SHIELDS." "Elect Harry D. Norton Circuit Judge. A man whose integrity, ability and fairness has never been questioned by anyone. "NORTON FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE COMMITTEE. "W. L. Miller, Chairman. Lydia M. Howel, Secy. "Paid Advertisement
