

Today By Arthur Brisbane

Ten Years Away. What is Beyond. Hoover and Germany.

The biggest vote ever cast is assured, biggest by many millions. This is due, not alone to deep interest in the issues, but especially to the radio, carrying THE PERSONALITY OF CANDIDATES into the homes.

Whereas, in former elections, a few hundreds of thousands heard speeches and arguments, in this campaign tens of millions listened, heard distinctly and based opinions on voice and personality, more than on arguments or promises.

The two issues brought to the surface, and a third that should influence no vote, but that influences millions, unfortunately, aroused the strongest human emotions.

The big issues, openly discussed, on both sides, were PROHIBITION AND PROSPERITY. Prohibition argument is based on much sincerity, and much bitterness. Prosperity is a question of common sense.

The ending of a big war is already ten years back in history. A short time for men of 60, a long time for young people.

Boys and girls of 20, now shaping the next generation, were only 10 years old when the biggest war was stopped. It is as unreal to them as the Civil war.

The questions on each Armistice Day are "When, if ever, will another such war come to curse the foolish white race? What can we do to keep out of it, if it must come?"

The answer to the second question is: "Keep ready for it."

We were NOT ready last time and the fact is that it cost us fifty billions of dollars and might have cost millions of lives, but for the sudden ending.

Einstein, relativity scientist, about to announce another great discovery, declines to indicate its nature, or to tell whether, like relativity, "Only eight men in the world can understand it."

This writer, having read three or four books on relativity, can testify that the authors do not understand it.

The universe should be either infinite or limited is unthinkable to our feeble minds. Finite insects, we cannot grasp infinity, and we cannot imagine "an end" to space.

Einstein says the universe is not infinite; it goes so far, about one million light years, then curves back on itself.

Ignorance replies, "Very fine, but what is outside of the curve?"

Silly was the effort to persuade voters of German birth or descent that Herbert Hoover was "an enemy of Germany" in the war.

Captain Lehmann, of the Zeppelin, who led on Mr. Hoover on arriving in the big airship, knows something about what Mr. Hoover did for the German women and children.

He said: "Had it not been for Herbert Hoover and his efforts for the relief of Germany, thousands of our people would have starved after the war."

President Wires Hoover Election Endorsement of Administration—Can Now Retire in Contentment—Curtis Also Congratulated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—President Coolidge today telegraphed President-elect Hoover that his election "and the endorsement of the administration are of great satisfaction to me."

"With the endorsement," Mr. Coolidge wired, "I can now retire from office in contentment. I send you my most cordial congratulations on your victory."

The full text of the president's message read: "The success of our party with your election to the presidency and the endorsement of the administration are of great satisfaction to me."

"It is a special satisfaction to congratulate you on your election to the office of vice-president because I know your peculiar fitness for that position."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Expressing great satisfaction to his associates in the White House regarding the outcome of yesterday's election, President Coolidge was up early today inquiring as to latest returns throughout the country.

Special interest was displayed by the chief executive regarding the outcome in Massachusetts. All new reports regarding the situation there were brought to him immediately throughout the morning.

G.O.P. ADDS MAJORITIES CONGRESS

Six Seats Gained in Senate—Kentucky Margin Aids Shift in House to Larger Republican Majority—Four Democrats Seaboard States Lose Seats.

By Francis M. Stephenson, Associated Press Staff Writer. Substantial Republican majorities in both the senate and house were rolling in today behind the tide of Hoover votes.

In the senate, where they now have only a plurality of one, the Republicans have captured six seats now held by Democrats, and have apparently held on to all of their own 12 at stake in yesterday's election.

The Hoover wave in Kentucky carried with it nine Republican members of the house of that state's representation of 11, and six of these Republicans replace Democrats.

Four Democratic senators along the Atlantic seaboard were bowled over, Bayard, of Delaware; Bruce of Massachusetts; Gerry, Rhode Island and Edwards, New Jersey.

Senator Joseph P. Kamp, Democrat of West Virginia, is being held behind his Republican opponent, and Senators Kendrick, Democrat of Wyoming, and Dill of Washington, Democrat, have had battles on their hands, but are leading.
