LUCAS GIRLS HOME IN ASHLAND AFTER MONTH'S ABSENCE

Wary of traveling but determined to keep going, Geneva, 14, and Laurie Lucas, 12, young Ashland girls who disappeared from their home nearly a month ago, were located in Ashland yesterday as they were passing through, en route from Oroville, Calif., to Portland and other points north. They visited a school chum there Tuesday and had planned to leave Ashland without calling on their parents.

They recited an interesting story of how they forged their mother's name to an excuse slip for presentation to their teacher, explaining why they were not at school the day before and upon learning that the teacher discovered the forgery, they feared a severe reprimand, possibly a whipping at home. To escape punishment, they decided to run away from home.

Setting out on foot, they found little trouble in obtaining free rides and soon found themselves in Oroville, Calif., where they worked for three weeks in the olive orchards in that section. They became somewhat homesick for southern Oregon and came to Ashland to ascertain if everything was as they had left it. They had planned to visit only this one school chum while there. Although their clothes, which were the same ones in which they had left, had become ragged and unkempt, the girls were determined to continue their wanderings, but nevertheless, seemed to be joyful when they were brought back to their parents.

III Johnson Improves. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—(AP) Senator Hiram Johnson, III at the Mark Hopkins hotel here, was reported better. He was still confined to his bed with influenza, but his fever had abated.

Carl Rostel, who would have been 80 years old on the 25th of last month, well known citizen of Jackson county for years past, having lived in Jacksonville, Medford and Central Point, died suddenly at his home on the southern outskirts of Central Point at 1 o'clock this afternoon, from a stroke and hemorrhage. Mr. Rostel, who had been in fairly good health for his years, came into the house from the yard and hardly was aware that he was seized with a stroke and had hemorrhage, which caused death almost instantly.

Mrs. Rostel hastily summoned medical assistance and their two sons, Ernest Rostel, member of the Mail Tribune editorial staff, and Bert Rostel, a teller at the First National bank, were summoned from Medford.

Carl Rostel was born in Fieheine, Germany, and came to the United States 70 years ago, lived in New York for a time, then followed the seas, finally locating in San Francisco for a time, and then coming to this county, residing in turn at Jacksonville, Medford and Central Point, at which places he was engaged in business. He had resided in Central Point since the year 1904, where he owned business and other property, and he also owned property in various parts of the county.

His widow and two sons, Bert and Ernest, survive him. No funeral arrangements have yet been announced.

My Head Used To Pound! Every day I used to have a pounding headache and queer dizzy spells. I would go to bed at night 'all in' and couldn't sleep on account of my nerves. I would get up in the morning a wreck, with a terrible taste in my mouth and my tongue all coated. I really believe I was on the verge of a collapse when a sister of mine wrote and told me to try ox gall, saying that she had the same trouble on account of sluggish liver and that ox gall fixed her up fine. On her advice I began taking Dioxol tablets and in an unbelievably short time the old headache and nervousness had disappeared and I was feeling 100 per cent better.

When the liver becomes weak and sluggish it fails to cleanse the blood of the poisons formed in food waste. These poisons spread throughout the system, causing a toxic condition which in turn causes high blood pressure, stomach disorders, kidney trouble, chronic headache and "nerves". Natural ox gall extracted from the liver of the ox is recognized as the finest tonic for the human liver. It is a natural liver stimulant and through its action on the liver literally rejuvenates the entire system. The pure, genuine ox gall is to be had in dainty, tasteless form in Dioxol tablets. Each tablet retards 10 drops of pure ox gall and cost less than 7¢. Genuine Dioxol has picture of ox's head on package. On sale at all good druggists. Special agent, Jarmin & Woods Drug Store.
