hour this week, beginning at 7:30. Mr. Rees will speak on "Fighting Under the Captain's Eyes." Young people are invited to make this Sunday evening service a rallying point. The young people's hour at 4:30 has for its discussion topic, "Friendships or Wars."

The Sunday school, under the leadership of Clarence Meeker, offers a thoroughly graded course of instruction for all age groups. The adult department is prepared to give parents an interesting and profitable time. Don't send the children to the church school, bring them. The sessions begin at 9:45 and last an hour and five minutes.

Mid-week meeting. Wednesday evening makes a fine half-way station for folks who need inspiration and Christian fellowship during the week. The testimony of those who are attending this mid-week meeting at the First Methodist church is that it is a means of grace and a spiritual lift on the journey of life. Plan to come this Wednesday at 7:45.

Salvation Army. Brigade General A. E. Baynton and Adjutant Ronald Eberhart, both of divisional headquarters of the Salvation Army in Portland, will visit the local corps at Medford, Sunday, November 11. Special meetings will be held all day at the army building, Fourth and Main streets. Adjutant Buchanan, local commanding officer, asks the public to attend. Good music, good singing and a good time is in store for those who attend.

First Baptist Church. W. H. Eaton, Ph. D., Minister. Sunday school at 9:45. J. J. Wortman, superintendent. School is gaining in membership and interest and we are looking forward to a banner year.

Men's Bible class, "The Brotherhood," under the leadership of Dr. Eaton, is forging ahead and we are looking for great things to happen in the next few months. If you are not attending any other Sunday school, we welcome you to our school Sunday morning. A hearty welcome is yours. Rev. E. Iverson, field worker of the Presbyterian church for Southern Oregon in the department of missions gave us a very interesting and instructive talk on the "World's Sunday school convention recently held in Los Angeles. It was a real treat to hear Mr. Iverson and we invite him to come again.

Dr. Eaton's subject, morning sermon, "The New Patriotism." Special by the choir "O Be Joyful in the Lord" (Lacy). Music by the orchestra. Evening subject by the pastor, "Christ, the Answer to the World's Need." Sing, male quartette. Try our welcome.

Senior and Intermediate Christian Endeavor societies will meet at 6:30 p. m. The two societies have over 50 present last Sunday night. The seniors will have one of the closing chapters on "The New Africa," a very interesting missionary study.

Remember the organ concert by the brilliant young Italian organist, Fernando Germani, to be given Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock in the church. Great audiences have listened with great attention to his marvelous playing on some of the greatest organs of the country. You will miss it if you miss it.

Central Point Christian Church. The Central Point Christian church, under the leadership of its present pastor, D. E. Millard, is making rapid strides forward in interest and growth. There have been eight new members added to the roll in the last month and the Sunday school running over the 100 mark, in fact the growth has been so gratifying to the congregation that they have decided to build on an addition, and to do so the church has purchased from the city an additional lot, and work has already started on an addition 24x28, which will be used as a Sunday school department, social room and banquet hall. It will have a kitchenette and modern sanitary conveniences will be added. The addition will cost over $500, which was raised in pledges at a basket dinner Sunday before last.

Mr. Pitts, a newcomer living on Beall lane, will have charge of the construction work, which will be rushed as rapidly as possible. The church at the present time is only having Sunday school services and preaching in the morning. The services are held at 11 o'clock and those attending are assured of hearing a thoughtful and challenging sermon that appeals to the modern mind.

SUNDAY SERVICE TO FEATURE ARMISTICE IN LOCAL CHURCHES

Armistice Day falls on Sunday this year and Medford churches are emphasizing its observance in their Sunday services. Not only are all ex-service men assured a welcome, but the ministers are urging the fitness of the day as an occasion for various political factions to declare a truce and meet together in the House of God.

Not a little fraternal bitterness has been aroused by local and national politics, and now that the campaign is over an armistice is due. The churches of Medford are exceptionally free from sectarian divisions and are in a position to invite warring factions to put up the arms of their warfare and meet on Armistice Day within their walls for a service of peace.

The loyalty campaign that is now on in the churches, lends itself admirably to this effort. Church people are keenly alive to the spiritual significance of Armistice Day and its place in the program of the Prince of Peace. They will want to rally at the call of their pastors and fill the places of worship in Medford next Sunday.
