

ARMISTICE DAY PARADE PLANS WORKED OUT

More Than 500 Persons to March—Lineup at Washington School—Veterans Three Wars Included—Starts 11 A. M.

Elaborate plans for the Armistice Day parade to be held here Monday morning were being perfected here this morning by Chairman Earl Davis and his committee of workers. More than 500 persons are expected to take place in the lineup which will start from the Washington school at 11 o'clock.

In addition to the American Legion which will turn out in full force in memory of their departed "buddies" of the World War, the remaining veterans of both the Civil and Spanish American wars will have a prominent place in the procession.

All the schools in the county have been urged to enter their students in parade, which is expected to outnumber any marching body ever formed here. The high school, St. Mary's Academy and the various grammar schools of the city will participate.

All fraternal and civic organizations, including the Masons, the Knights of Columbus, Woodmen of the World, Odd Fellows, the Boy Scouts, the Eastern Star, Rebekahs, and the Elks will also be represented. The parade will be led by the Elks band, the American Legion drum corps and the high school band.

Immediately after the parade the American Legion post will be host to all ex-servicemen at a venison feed at the Elks club. Veterans of all wars are invited to participate in this affair which will be free.

The football game begins at 2 p. m. and in the evening there will be staged the annual Armistice Day ball at the Oriental Gardens.

NEW DIAL PLACE FOR RADIO FANS, STARTING SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Radio listeners tomorrow will find almost all of their favorite stations at different points on the dial.

The federal radio commission's reallocation plan goes into effect at 3 a. m. The commission's engineers and a majority of the commissioners feel that the new plan will eliminate a large amount of heterodyne interference, and fading and bring out distant stations with greater clarity. In the regional and small stations fields particularly, reception is expected to be improved because of the wider separation of high powered stations.

The full benefits of the reallocation probably will not be immediately apparent, Commissioner Skyles said today.

"In the first place, it may take a few months for some of the stations to become adjusted to their channels, so that they will not interfere with their neighbors on distant channels. In the second place, many of the cleared channels will not be equipped for several months to use the power authorized by the commission.

"Just as soon as the reallocation has been given a fair test, the commission will undertake to correct whatever fault that may have appeared.

ELTON BEESON IS VICTIM OF LUGER PISTOL ACCIDENT

Elton Beeson, 29, died at the Sacred Heart hospital last night from a pistol wound, accidentally inflicted, according to the authorities and the attending physician, Dr. A. F. Kresse. The tragedy occurred about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the home of his brother, Everett, near Talent.

According to Dr. Kresse, Beeson was unfamiliar with the mechanism of Luger arms, had taken down a 22 rifle preparatory to going rabbit hunting. A Luger pistol in a holster was on a shelf. Beeson took it down, and in some manner unexplained, it was discharged. The bullet passed just below the heart, and through the upper part of the body.

His brother, Everett, working in the barn, heard the shot and met Elton as he staggered into the yard holding his side. In response to a query, Elton said: "I've shot myself."

He was rushed to Sacred Heart hospital. He was conscious for about ten minutes and said to Dr. Kresse, "I don't understand how I shot myself. I had no business fooling with that gun."

Death came about seven o'clock. Beeson, a member of a pioneer southern Oregon family, is survived by a wife and six year old daughter. His home was in this city, where he recently built a house on Quince street. There will be an inquest at 7 o'clock this evening, according to Coroner Conger.

Funeral arrangements have not been made, but will probably be held next Tuesday.

GIRL HIKERS NOW IN M'ALLEN, TEX.

Miss Pearl Coss and Miss Barbara Ricker, who started out on a cross country hike six weeks ago, are now in McAllen, Texas, where Miss Coss is acting as superintendent of the McAllen hospital there temporarily. McAllen was the scene of considerable strife on election day, which made hospital business rushing, according to a card received from the local girls.

Miss Coss and Miss Ricker will reach the south through the cold winter months, when they will take a boat from New Orleans to New York and continue their journey up into the state of Maine, where Miss Ricker's mother lives. Their plans from then on are not yet decided.

CHASE QUITS AS RANGER IN PARK

It has just become known that John W. Chase, who had been chief ranger of the Crater National park for the past six months, resigned a week ago and left for Eugene. His successor has not yet been named by Superintendent C. G. Thomson.

It is understood that Captain Chase, who has had several years of experience in the timber and logging business, will not re-engage in it, and that he expects to resume his university training in business administration. Mrs. Chase left last September to resume teaching of a school at Mable, near Eugene.

CHICKEN THIEF GETS DROP ON OFFICIALS, FORCES ESCAPE AID

COFFEYVILLE, Kans., Nov. 10.—(AP)—After kidnapping unaided two police officers sent to arrest him and forcing them to aid in his escape, a man identified as Dick Gregg, Oklahoma convict and bank robber suspect, was at large today in the hilly, wooded country 25 miles east of here.

His flight in a stolen automobile was halted late yesterday when the police officers, Chief of Police Earl Hackney and Detective W. H. McMurry, who had been released 25 miles east of here, caught up with their abductor in a commandeered automobile, and opened fire on him.

The man, who forced the officers into his car at the point of a revolver when he was caught stealing chickens in Coffeyville at noon yesterday, leaped from his automobile and ran after it suddenly veered from the road, crashed through a fence and into a tree.

He dropped twice as the officers continued fire, but got up each time and finally escaped in the underbrush.

WILD TURKEYS IN JOSEPHINE COUNTY GIVEN FREEDOM

GRANTS PASS, Ore., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Forty-eight wild turkeys were liberated in Josephine county today. They were freed in two sections of the county and will be watched closely during the winter by Deputy Game Warden Fred Merrill, under whose supervision the birds were turned loose.

The turkeys were raised on shares by a local farmer, under an agreement with the state game commission. The old turkeys, freed here a year ago, were captured and penned, a half of the increase being turned back. The young turkeys weigh from seven to ten pounds. When let out of the coops some of the birds started feeding and others sought the branches of high trees. The exact localities in which the turkeys were turned loose are being kept secret to prevent hunters from killing them.

AIMEE'S STORY IS ONCE MORE UNDER GRAND JURY EYE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson's tale of a strange abduction, now nearly two years old, has been flung again into the secret quarters of a grand jury. Newspaper stories put it there. They had linked the Angelus temple evangelist's experiences before another grand jury to recent indictments charging the district attorney and seven others with gross corruption.

This last twist to a flood of investigations which have poured out of the grand jury's rooms upon the heads of several prominent citizens, found newspaper men, bundles of documentary evidence pressed beneath their arms, facing the inquisitorial body yesterday.

They were there to tell of the sources of their stories and to divulge evidence, claimed to have a direct bearing on the McPherson kidnaping case. It was reported that the evidence had been secured from the evangelist's own mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy.

The stories, published shortly after the grand jury had aired its indictments against District Attorney Asa Keyes and others, concerned reports that the dismissal of charges against the evangelist had been tainted with corruption. She was charged with obstruction of justice after a grand jury had investigated her tale of kidnaping which she presented as an expansion of a sudden disappearance nearly two years ago.

The grand jury's indictments against Keyes, the district attorney, had been accused of a conspiracy to secure the dismissal of charges against defendants in several notable cases, particularly the promoters of the Julian Petroleum scandal. The McPherson case had not been named in the grand jury indictments.

SHOW GIRL GETS ROTHSTEIN MONEY FOR TEN YEARS

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A former show girl is to receive one-sixth of the income from the estate left by Arnold Rothstein, the slain gambler, under terms of a will signed on his deathbed.

Although the will has not been filed for probate, its provisions were made known by the slain gambler's associates. His estate is estimated at $10,000,000, but much of this is said to consist of heavily mortgaged real estate and loans granted gamblers.

The girl legatee is Inez Norton, who has been living at the Fairfield hotel, owned by Rothstein. Of her his associates know little, except that she had been a show girl and was a divorcee. Her one-sixth interest in the income is to run only for 10 years.

Rothstein's widow, from whom he had been estranged but who visited him at the hospital after he was shot last Sunday, receives the income from one-third of the estate for life. At her death the money is to go to charity.

ROD BAKER MAYOR OF BUTTE FALLS; COUNCIL ELECTED

BUTTE FALLS, Ore., Nov. 10.—(Special)—City officers elected at the general election Tuesday are: Mayor, Rod Baker; councilmen, Merle Rainard, Ray Spencer, Horace Gephart.

Two years ago the pupils of the fifth and sixth grades were members of the Junior Red Cross. The chief aim of this organization is to promote world peace by getting to know and understand and love each other.

In 1928 we wrote to a school in Szentes, Hungary, asking to exchange portfolios with them. On November 1, 1928, we received a portfolio. The length of time required was due to a misunderstanding. Usually the time required for an exchange of work is from two to three months. The portfolio received is a work of art, and is on exhibit at the grand school for those who wish to see it. It has given the pupils a better idea of the work, play, school life, etc., of that nation. We feel as if they were friends.

If there are other schools in the county who belong to the Junior Red Cross and who have portfolios from some foreign country, we would like to exchange with you. Our first meeting for the new organization was held Monday. The following officers were elected: President, Leslie Casey; secretary, Velma Vincent; treasurer, Calvin Stoddard. The following committee was appointed to collect and take charge of material for our portfolio: Dwight Short, Mae Lee Jorgenson, Deloris Squire, Frank Lindstrom.

C. T. BAKER PRAISES BUSINESS INSTITUTES, ASKS CONTINUANCE

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Co-operation of educational institutions and chambers of commerce in spreading knowledge of advantages of Oregon and the northwest was advocated last night by President W. J. Kerr of Oregon State college in an address to the association of chamber of commerce secretaries in semi-annual meeting here.

President Kerr said the state, in the past, has not fully appreciated the value of advertising.

President C. T. Baker, Medford, head of the association, and other visiting secretaries, praised business institutes started last year and asked their continuance. After spending most of yesterday consulting with specialists on the agricultural program of the state, the secretaries today devoted time to their own business affairs, including consideration of state publicity.

KNOCKOUT PUNCH BY VERNON WINS FROM CARTWRIGHT

Bobby Vernon of Portland knocked out Eddie Cartwright of Los Angeles, at the Army, in the ninth round of a slam-bank affair. The colored boy who led on points throughout the battle, was clipped over the head and on the chin, and crumpled over the ropes, in a rally by Vernon. Both boxers mixed freely and it was a good bout with plenty of action.

Cartwright was the more scientific, but after the third round seemed in constant danger of losing his lights. It did not seem to worry him.

Frankie Wernecke of Portland was ten much for Jimmy Weir of Klamath Falls, who is getting slightly bald. He slapped his younger foe into the ropes in the second with a wild haymaker, but after that he covered up and let Wernecke poke him in the ribs. Finally his seconds mercifully hoisted in the towel.

Hickey Riley of this city and Silvini Tomasco started the show. In the first round Tomasco was floored a couple of times, and seemed to be difficult about fighting. In the second round, Riley went after him with great ferocity and was stretched out on the canvas by a chance wallop to the chin. He managed to stagger to his feet at the count of nine and weathered a shower of blows, to knock out Tomasco with a solid clout to the chin.

HARD RAIN WETS MULTNOMAH GRID

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10.—(AP)—A gridiron as wet as four days' hard rain could make it was the object of much solicitude today as painstaking plans were executed and a small army of men endeavored to keep the dampness before the Washington State college and the University of California at Los Angeles football teams took the field. The game today marked the last Pacific coast conference football match in Portland for the season.

Both teams were in good condition, their coaches said.

FOOTBALL RIVALRY IN ARMISTICE TILT STRONG AS EVER

The Medford and Ashland high school football teams clash Monday afternoon at Van Scoyoc field, in their annual Armistice Day game, and the fires of rivalry burn as fiercely as of yore, in both camps. Last evening students of both schools held rallies, and the Medford school burned a fiery "M" upon the sides of Roxy Ann.

The Medford team held a hard scrimmage yesterday afternoon, and this afternoon will go through a light drill, in preparation for the game. There will be no over-confidence in the local squad, and they are all grimly determined to win.

The Ashland team has been defeated by Klamath Falls twice, but always puts its best foot forward in the Medford games, and, in fact, have taken no other contest with any seriousness. They want to topple the "Happy Warriors" from their high perch. Ashland will probably depend entirely on a forward passing game, as they are outwitted. In Sonny Loedon they have one of the flashiest halfbacks in the state-high school circles.

The game will be called at two o'clock, and is the main athletic feature of the local Armistice Day program.
