Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Whiteside on Ross Lane was the scene of a merry party Saturday night, Nov. 3rd, guests being invited to help celebrate the Whitesides' silver wedding anniversary.

The house was artistically decorated for the occasion with Old English ivy, autumn leaves and chrysanthemums in many delicate shades.

Four tables of progressive five hundred were enjoyed, prizes for high score going to H. H. Dietrich and low score to A. W. Childers.

During the evening a mock wedding was performed, the bride and groom of long ago, again promising to love and obey after listening to a humorous document read in solemn tones by LeRoy Smith of Jacksonville.

Late in the evening a supper was served, with C. L. Hamilton of Central Point acting as toastmaster.

A table laden with beautiful silver gifts will help to remind Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside of their silver wedding and the kindly feelings of the guests who departed with the wish to gather in the future for a golden wedding party.

Among those present were: Mrs. Margaret Noble, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Peart, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. W. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Enjoyable Party At The Wright Home.

Mrs. Ray Wright, assisted by Mrs. Leland Holbrook gave a delightful party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wright, 60 North Orange street, the evening of October 31.

The occasion occurring on Hallowe'en the ladies decorated the home as befitted the date. Many were the black cats and wierd decorative animals straying around. The soft light from yellow candles falling on yellow chrysanthemums added to the effect and a very happy party sat down to two tables of bridge and two of Five Hundred.

First prize in Five Hundred was won by "Doc" Wright and consolation by Mrs. M. C. (Doc) Wright.

First prize in Bridge was won by Mr. R. C. Ward, and consolation prize by Mrs. Wilcox.

Refreshments for the occasion were delectable and in keeping with the decorations and color scheme, which was augmented by beautiful boquets of flowers, placed advantageously about the rooms.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Drake, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ward, Mr and Mrs Clarence Fryo, Mr. and Mrs. M. C Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Holbrook and the host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sparrow spent last week in Portland attending the stock and horse shows.

Wednesday Study Club Have Enjoyable Meeting

The Wednesday Study club met on November 7 and enjoyed a program on Early America.

Mrs. E. H. Porter was a guest of the club and the two new members Mrs. John Lawrence and Mrs. B. G. Harding, attended.

Mrs. L B Humphreys read a most interesting paper explaining the economic background of Early America. She gave the reasons for first settlements, the problems encountered and how solved, their effects upon the individual and the community, the ensuing contrast between the northern and southern sections, in fact she made a graphic sketch of Early America not overlooking woman's place in the economic scheme.

Mrs. John Carkin then reviewed "Hawkers and Walkers" by Richardson Wright. In this book the curtain of years is drawn back and we glimpse the covered wagon of a hundred years ago, the horseback rider with his pack train of 200 years ago, and stop to study the hawker and walker of 300 years ago. We see the early peddler shrewdly bargaining in the settlements, bravely facing the perils of the enterlying wilderness and then becoming a well-to-do and respected permanent factor in some community. Nor is the peddler of the word overlooked. Mrs. Carkin made the relation of demand and supply a romantic thing and her hearers were loathe to have those buying and selling Early Americans put back between the covers of a book.

Mrs. Grey closed the program with a discussion of the current magazine, "The Living Age." She explained that it was first printed in 1844 and though it has twice changed in size it has remained a survey of of the world's opinion. Articles on literature, science and travel also make of it a magazine of unusual merit for library reference.

Mrs. Grey called special attention to the article on artificial gasoline and to the latest contribution of the Gobi Desert. Roy Chapman Andrews described his latest find as the largest fossil in existence, as big as the Woolworth building "lying down."

The next meeting of the club will be on November 21.

Mrs. Frank Roberts, who underwent a major operation at the Community hospital, is doing nicely and has been removed to her home at 23 North Orange street.

Junior High P. T. A. Have Meeting

The Junior high school P. T. A. met in regular session Friday afternoon at three o'clock. Mrs. Fred Cummings presided. The attendance was good, and an excellent program, which had been prepared by Mrs. Bert Lowry, was given. Two junior high school pupils took part in the entertainment. Ruby Stone delighted the audience with a piano solo. She was followed by Adra Edwards who gave two clever pianologues. The principal speaker of the afternoon was the Rev. Carmen E. Mell of the Christian church, who spoke on "Partners in the Discovery and Development of Youth." He urged the necessity of co-operation between teacher and parent.

Fathers' night will be observed Friday evening, November 23. The fathers will have charge of the entertainment.

A program is being prepared that will be of unusual interest to parents of children who will soon be entering high school. Supt. E. H. Hedrick will be present to discuss the various courses offered in the local high school.

The following committees have been appointed:

Membership, Mrs. H. D. Powell.

Visual Education, Mrs. Hamilton Patton.

Juvenile Education, Mrs. Perry Crawford.

Publicity, Miss Annette Gray.

Reception, Mrs. Leon Brown.

Lay member, Mrs. S. A. Kroschel.

Americanization, Mrs. A. J. Hanby.

Refreshments, Mrs. W. D. Roberts.

Program, Mrs. Bert Lowry.

After the program, delicious refreshments were served by Mrs W. D. Roberts and her committee.

The Davis Family Meet In Portland

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davis of 117 Cottage street, left Friday evening for Grants Pass where they included their daughter, Mrs. Ambers Watson, in a party and proceeded to Portland in their new Chrysler sedan.

In Portland they will meet their daughter Eunice, and son Dana, who will come down from Seattle to visit with their family over Armistice day.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will return to Medford about the middle of the week.

Miss Eunice Davis can be heard over KFSW from Seattle each Wednesday evening at 7:15 when she sings and plays her own accompaniment.

Daughters of the Nile Hold Meeting in Grants Pass

Zuleima Temple No. 13, Daughters of the Nile, met at Grants Pass Masonic Temple on Saturday afternoon, with Mrs. W. H. McNair, queen of the temple, presiding. Luncheon was served at the Hotel Del Rome.

Plans were completed and committees appointed for the purpose of making arrangements for the sending of Thanksgiving boxes to the Shrine hospital for crippled children in Portland. A committee was appointed from each of the towns of Medford, Ashland and Grants Pass, the Medford committee being Mrs. R. A. Holmes, Mrs. Chas. T. Sweeney and Mrs Gus Newbury.

The next regular meeting of the temple will be held in Medford in December.

Greater Medford Club Card Party This Week

The Greater Medford club will hold its first evening card party in the downstairs reception room of the Holland Hotel on Friday at 8 p m. The committee in charge, Mrs. R. V. Williams, chairman, Mrs. Louis Humphrey and Mrs. M. N Hogan, have a surprise in store—namely the initiation of the new card tables, cards etc., which the board decided to purchase now that the new club house is a certainty. Refreshments are to be served and the committee hopes by this successful evening party to have the men as well as women "save the date" for these evening parties in the future.

To reserve tables please notify: Mrs. Luke Ryan, 381-R; Mrs. R. O. Davidson, 1035.

The Greater Medford club held a board meeting at the library on last Wednesday with seven members present.

Lady Elks Club Will Meet Wednesday

The Elks ladies will meet at the Elks club Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 5. Committee in charge, Mrs. H. T. Hubbard, Mrs. Hal Platt and Mrs. R. G. Beach. Cards, pool and refreshments.

Visiting Lady Elks always welcome.

American Legion Auxiliary Postpone Regular Meeting

The American Legion Auxiliary will not meet Monday evening of November 11 on account of the date being Armistice day.

The members of the Auxiliary are requested to meet at the northwest corner of the park and be there in time to take part in the Legion parade.

Those having cars and are willing to drive them in the parade call Mrs. Chaney, 1247, so that arrangements may be made to accommodate all who have no cars.

A meeting was held by the members of the Auxiliary at the Armory club rooms last Monday night. It was a called meeting that was attended by about thirty people who sewed, chatted and attended to a few business details.

Refreshments were served and the time was pleasantly spent.

This meeting was to take the place of the one which should have been held on the second Monday of the month.

The next regular meeting will be as usual on the fourth Monday of the month.

Medford Garden Club Awards Many Prizes

At the meeting of the Garden club, Wednesday evening, the president, Raymond Miksche, introduced Mr. Thompson who showed splendid pictures of delphiniums grown by the iris and delphinium specialist, Om Pudor of Puyallup, Washington.

Many quotations were given from beautiful poems and shown along with the pictures.

True, "One is nearer God's heart in a garden than any place else on earth."

Delphiniums should have light, sandy soil—gray clay not good for them.

Give them bone meal in late summer and early fall.

Plant bulbs such as hyacinths, tulips, etc., now; put in your fertilizer now so that the spring plants will get the benefit of it as it is a slow worker. Bone meal lies dormant all winter. Then put in more of it in spring.

Use fertilizer often, not just once.

"Backache, fertilizer and water" given in large quantities produce abundant bloom and gratifying results.

Great improvement in home gardens were noted this season by the judges, Mrs. E. H. Porter, Mrs. Chas. Furnas and Mrs. Ernest Biden, who used much time and gasoline going from place to place in season to examine gardens and flowers. The results were as follows:

College Women's Club Holds Monthly Meet.

The November meeting of the Rogue River Valley College Women's club met at the home of Mrs. Frederick H. Johnson on Siskiyou Heights the afternoon of Nov. 10. A short business meeting was held presided over by Miss Florence Hurd, president. Mrs. J. C. Collins then sang a group of songs, "Der Nussbaum," by Schumann, "Stars with Little Golden Sandals," Franz; "Neimand Hats Gesehen," Lowe. She gave a description of the songs that made them appreciated.

Mrs. Rawles Moore accompanied her on the piano.

Mrs. Chas. Wing very charmingly gave the review of one of the late books "Biography of Havelock Ellis," by Houston Peterson. Some who know Peterson's literary books do not know his psychological books as they are published by different companies.

Mr. Peterson's work, "Havelock Ellis," is said to surpass any other biography. His father was a sailor and away from home most of the time, so the boy was a companion of his lonely mother —the outstanding event of his early life was a trip around the world with his father. His first diary was begun at 10 years of age.

His first literary effort was "Precious Stones," based on the Bible. Later he wrote on "Books I have Read." He delighted in art galleries with a decided taste for the Renaissance. At 16 he had read some of Darwin's works and "Human Physiology," by Dr. Nochols. He took a medical course. He preached long enough to become sympathetic but not long enough to become calloused. He spent most of private life in working. He wrote "Psychology of Sex". He has surveyed the sexual world with a new perspective.

Most important of his works, "His Philosophy of Life". He thought he was near the end of life at 59, but spring came again to him and he realized that man alone can hear the melody in a blackbird's song.

The refreshments served by Mrs. Glenn O. Taylor and her helpers and the social hour was enjoyed by all.

Social Events of Church Societies

Woman's Association Have Meeting

The Woman's association of the Presbyterian church held their regular monthly meeting and a covered dish luncheon on Tuesday, November 6, at the church.

About thirty-five members sat down to a sumptuous repast at one o'clock that was presided over by Mrs. W. W. Howard.

During the luncheon Miss Alma Lawrence entertained with beautiful piano selections, which were greatly appreciated.

After the luncheon in the dining rooms, the ladies adjourned to the woman's parlors where a business meeting was held. This was conducted by Mrs. Newton C. Chaney, president of the association.

Later the ladies sewed on some sewing needed by a family of deserving people in the community. It is a good thought that "Charity begins at home."

The next regular meeting will be the first Tuesday in December.

Mrs. P. Heeterby Hostess Missionary Society

The regular social meeting of the Missionary Society of the M. E. Church South, was held at the home of Mrs. Phil Heeterby on South Central on October the 16th with a large attendance. Mrs. L. W. Thomas was leader for the afternoon, the subject being "Winning My Community." Rev. James Conde was present and gave a very instructive talk. The guests were also favored with a beautiful solo by Mrs. Harold Burnett. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

The Jubilee Week of Prayer was held at the church on the afternoons of Nov. 6th and 7th and the evening of the 7th when the Thank Offering was taken at the Service of Lights and Golden Gifts.

The business meeting of the society was also held on the afternoon of November the 6th when the annual election of officers was held. The next social meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bray on Lozier Lane.

Lutheran Ladies Will Have Hope Chest

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid invite attention to their Hope Chest, just completed, to be displayed in various down-town store windows in the near future. This chest, filled with linens and other beautiful hand-made articles, will be given at a dinner some time in December.

Beneficial Meeting Methodist Missionary Society

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church met Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors, with President Miss May Phipps presiding.

The program rendered was as follows:

Song, "I Love to Tell the Story."

Prayer, Mrs. Raymond Rees.

Report of branch meeting recently convening in Portland was ably given by Mrs. A. S. Bliton.

Vocal solo, "Lord, I Want to Be a Christian" (Harry T. Burleigh), Mrs. W. M. Van Scoyoc, Mrs. Van Scoyoc playing her own accompaniment.

Reports of District Missionary convention, held at Ashland last week were given by Mrs. J. A. Daron and Mrs. Riley D. Henson.

Mrs. O. E. Osborne led the study. Topic, Friends of Africa.

Mrs. Ralph Stearns gave the book review.

Song, "From All the Dark Places."

Prayer, Mrs. O. E. Osborne.

During the social hour, Mrs. B. J. Palmer, assisted by Mrs. C. M. Howell and Mrs. W. M. Van Scoyoc served refreshments.

Missionary Society Addressed By Oregon Missionary

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Christian church was held in the recreational hall of the church Monday afternoon, Nov. 5 with over sixty members and friends in attendance.

The meeting was opened by singing America followed by a very devotional prayer by Mrs. P. C. Latham. A plea for relief for the stricken area of Porto Rico, having been made previously and renewed at this meeting, resulted in a fund of $22.50 being raised for this most worthy cause.

The worship period was in charge of Mrs. I. H. Gore, the theme being, "New Men In Christ."

The scripture reading was from Colossians 3:8-11 and was beautifully illustrated by the leader.

A vocal solo by Mrs. Jas. Grigsby, "Father Lead Me by the Hand" was a fitting climax to the worship period.

Miss Goldie Wells, a missionary to Africa, home on furlough, was asked to speak at this time and delighted her hearers for over an hour, relating many of her experiences on the Congo.

Miss Wells is an Oregon girl sent out by the United Christian Missionary society and will sail for Africa Dec. 29.

At the close of her talk she was presented with a gift from the society, Mrs. Herbert Berrian making the presentation in a most charming manner.

A group of young people from the church gathered in the evening to listen to an address by Miss Wells.

Parent-Teachers' Associations

Mrs. Hamilton Patton, chairman of usual education for the Junior high school, would appreciate it if mothers or teachers would report to her any moving picture shows they can fully recommend as being suitable for children or young people. Mrs. Patton is working with Mr. Hunt along this line, but it is increasingly difficult to know beforehand just what a play will contain. So that individual recommendation will be of real value.

Parent-Teachers Convention

There is something new in Parent-Teacher conventions. For many years our good mothers and teachers have attended annual state conventions. Last month we sent six delegates, Messrs Watterniire, Fichtner, Phipps, Powell, Schreeengost and Neilson to the regional convention at Roseburg and they came home with many new and splendid ideas.

The regional convention is itself a new idea and a good one. It saves the expense of long trips each year and has the advantage always possessed by the smaller and more homeogenous groups. Three met, one in Portland, one in Pendleton and one in Roseburg.

The people of Roseburg were most hospitable—taking a keen interest in the event, as shown by their furnishing two full programs.

Mrs. Fred Strang, formerly of Medford, delighted the assembly, with her beautiful songs, in solo and quartet.

One of the most enjoyable events was caused by the absence of the governor, though that is not a fair way to put it. But he sent his secretary in his stead, Miss Beatrice Walton, and she gave a fine address on "The State and Education," bright, nice and witty. She mentioned the remarkable fact that though people may complain over heavy taxes for education, nevertheless the cost of keeping up the penitentiaries is one-eighth greater than that of keeping up our schools.

Miss Walton gave the seven aims in education as follows: Sound health, worthy home membership, mastery of tools, technique of learning, vocational efficiency, wise use of leisure, ethical character, faithful citizenship.

Our beloved Dean Jamesson made a plea for the independence of youth. She said that since boys and girls must live their own lives, it was only fair to consult them as to the training they took and not force them into courses distasteful to them.

Miss Hare of the U. of O. spoke on the education of parents. Parents, she said, should be educated for their important and vital work, just the same as professional men.

The University of Oregon has originated a plan for home education, consisting of five different courses. This matter will be talked of later.

Good Books Mentioned at the Convention.

Parents and teachers.

Higher powers of mind and spirit.

Life of Prayer in a World of Science.

Meaning of Faith.

Guidance of Youth and Childhood.

Psychology of Youth.

Resolution Passed at Convention.

Whereas the use of cigarettes is apparently on the increase by the mothers of our children and by the younger generation who are future mothers, and since the result is detrimental to health, we deplore the increasing use of cigarettes and urge the enforcement of all laws which restricts the sale of tobacco to minors.

WEDDINGS

Characterized by a quiet charm the marriage of Miss Virginia Hathaway, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Burns to Otto Bohnert, son of William Bohnert was solemnized at the Christian church at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, November 4th.

The church was very attractively decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and ferns.

As Mrs. Lorraine Maben of Medford played Lohengrin's wedding march, the bride came down the aisle on the arm of her great uncle, J. F. Gilmore, of Portland, with her sister, Miss Fern Hathaway, as bride's maid.

The bride and attendants were met at he altar by the groom and his brother, John A. Bohnert, as best man, and the officiating minister, D. E. Millard, who united the happy couple in the holy bonds of wedlock, using the beautiful ring ceremony.

The bride was most attractive in a frock of shell pink satin crepe with cream over-lace, with a close-fitting headdress of lace and orange blossoms. She carried a shower boquet of pink carnations.

The bridesmaid was lovely in lemon yellow silk taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

From the church the bridal party, relatives and a few close friends repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bohnert, where Mrs. Bohnert served a dainty wedding breakfast. Those present were, Rev. D. E. Millard, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burns and daughter, Bessie, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gilmore and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Decker and daughter, Elva Anita, of Portland, Mrs. H. G. Wortman, Jr., and son, Chas., of Weed, Mrs. Lorraine Gearhart Maben of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gilmore; the Misses Fern Hathaway, Emma and Louise Bohnert; Messrs. Roger Von der Hellen, Wm. Bohnert, Eugene Merritt, John A. Bohnert; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bohnert, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bohnert and Norrene and Don Bohner. Mrs. Bohnert was assisted by the Misses Emma and Louise Bohnert in serving. Just before breakfast was announced Rev. D. E. Millard sang "At Dawning" by Cadman. The living and dining rooms were tastefully decorated in yellow and white chrysanthemums while pink tapers graced the table.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bohnert are well and favorably known, having lived here the greater part of their lives. Mr. Bohnert is a progressive and successful young farmer and truck gardener, while Mrs. Bohnert has held stenographic positions since graduating from the Central Point high school.

After a honeymoon spent in California and Arizont, where both have numerous relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Bohnert will return about the first of the year to their pretty and modern country home, where a host of friends wish them many years of happiness.
