. The first carload of Rogue River valley turkeys for New York mar-kets will be shipped out by ex-press tomorrow by the Poultry Growers association of the Farm Growers association of the ratio Bureau. The first carboad will consist of 2000 birds Similar sized shipments will start Friday and Saturday and between 6000 and 7000 turkeys will be shipped, rep-

,000 tarkeys will be shipped, representing a cash outlay to valley rulsers of close to $40,000.

Turkey raisers have responded briskly to the call and a force of workers are kept busy preparing the fowls for shipment. The fowls are packed in barrels for snipment first being picked thoroughly, for if there is anything a New Yorker hates it is a turkey with patches of feathers remaining. The turkey is left intact except for the feath-

The majority of the birds are The majority of the bros are fine corn and grasshopper fed spec-imens, with clear white hides. There are a few scrawny tough-looking No. 2 grades. There are a few of large size, but most of the lot are the right size. Growers who will have fowls in the first shummen are C. C. Clem.

the first shipment are C. C. Clemmons of Griffin Creek, Henry Hansen of Griffin Creek, Mrs. George Stowell of Rogue River and Mrs. Carl Ash of Eastle Point.

The turkeys are being shipped on the concernities wood hosts.

on the co-operative pool basis, through the efforts of Manater Clay D. Parker and enables the growers to procure better prices without running the risk of meeting the usual California turkey price slump, which generally comes about this time.
