

PAPERS ECHO BRITISH SHOCK BY COOLIDGE

Armistice Day Speech Is Flayed By Literary Weeklies—Europe Denounced, Is Claim—Termed 'Nationalistic Imbecility'

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Great Britain's literary weeklies today echoed, and in most instances emphasized, the "shock" which has been sustained by President Coolidge's Armistice day speech.

The New Statesman is the most outspoken. "Peck-sniffing guff," it heads a special editorial. The Saturday Review, The Nation and even The Spectator, which is the staunchest exponent of hands across-the-sea policies, join in criticism of the president's utterance.

The New Statesman declares that President Coolidge broke the rule that an outgoing president should make no important speech or take any other significant step. "After years of somnolent silence only punctuated now and then by the utterance of some discreet profanity, he suddenly delivered a sort of dying kick with a viciousness which few people on this side of the Atlantic would have supposed him capable of," the paper says. "His Armistice day speech was in effect a denunciation of Europe and all its works from the standpoint of a 100 per cent New England backwoodsman."

Concluding a full page editorial along the same tone challenging the president's facts and motives, the New Statesman says that after all speeches like President Coolidge's or Lord Birkenhead's reply to it can do no very serious harm because the real relations between America and Great Britain do not depend upon mutual civilities, but upon common interests, institutions and instincts.

Imbecility "Still, harking back to the speech of the obsolescent president, it would probably be better if the statesmen on both sides of the Atlantic would avoid these nationalistic imbecilities, or, if that is asking too much, that their speeches should not be given extra territorial publicity," the paper says. This last clause refers to the issuing of the president's speech from American embassies abroad for use in the European press.

The Spectator says that the speech came as a shock to those Englishmen who have not been carefully noting the signs in America. "To others it was no surprise,

Medford-Dalles Football Game Over RCA Radiola

The Southern Oregon Electric Radiola, a No. 28 model, also a No. 194 Radiola dynamic loud speaker, by which The Mail Tribune will pick up the report of the Medford and Dalles football game Monday, from KMLC beginning at 2:30 p. m. and announce it in front of this office.

It must be to all a matter of profound regret," the paper says, "challenging the figures on comparative naval strength given by the president."

The Saturday Review declares that the speech is, above all, valuable on account of its frankness. "There is no probability that Mr. Hoover will be even as tolerant of European weaknesses as is the present occupant of the White House."

The Nation says that the speech was read in draft form by Mr. Hoover and must be taken as a formal declaration of the foreign policy which the new administration will take over. "It may be regretted," the Nation adds, "that on this particular day President Coolidge should have clothed himself so ostentatiously in the spotless toga of American virtue, but the speech will do much good if it makes the statesmen and peoples of Europe realize the dislike and suspicion with which the American people regard the post-bellum tendencies of European politics."

STORM STRIKES COAST SHIPPING

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Rough weather caused damage or distress to four vessels off the coast yesterday. The Ernest H. Meyer, en route from Portland to San Francisco, lost her deckload, mainmast and one of her life boats. The Dorothy Wintermeier lost her deckload and doors and ventilators while en route from Portland to Los Angeles.

The steamer F. A. Wagner, owned and operated by the Cook Bay Lumber company, arrived at San Francisco with a heavy starboard list, part of the cargo having shifted. The steamer Necanicum was reported to have lost part of her deckload while en route to San Francisco from Coos Bay.

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Nov. 16.—(AP)—A southwesterly gale off the coast of England was causing much trouble to chipping today and incoming liners reported severe storms in the Bay of Biscay and out in the Atlantic.

Several liners, including the President Roosevelt, felt the full force of the gale and had to seek shelter behind the breakwater before communicating with their tenders or with the shore.

A small steamer was driven ashore on the Kentish coast. A lifeboat was assisting in the rescue work. Several fishing boats along the coast were damaged at their moorings.

NIGHT HAUNTS OF NEW YORK IN DRY SWEEP

Greenwich Village to Show Sector Visited—Night Clubs and Blind Pigs Yield 18 On Liquor Charges.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Sweeping from Greenwich Village to the mid-town theatrical section, 200 prohibition agents shortly after midnight raided ten alleged speakeasies and night clubs and arrested 18 persons.

Arrests were issued during the last few weeks on evidence gathered by two special agents from Washington operating under the orders of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement.

The agents reported the seizure of a quantity of liquor in each place. Those arrested were all employees and were charged with illegal possession of liquor. Patrons were not molested.

The raiders gathered at prohibition headquarters late in the afternoon and were given their instructions behind closed doors to prevent any leakage of information. Even the telephones were temporarily disconnected.

Among the places raided were: The Gay Paree in West 59th street; the Clubman's Club in West 51st street; the Chat-O club in West 58th street; the Sixty-first street Grill in West 61st street; Mac's cafe in West 45th street, an alleged speakeasy in Sixth avenue; Martin's restaurant in West 45th street. In the Greenwich Village section, two adjoining restaurants in Sullivan street were raided, Jimmie Kelly's and The Roma.

At the same time city police raided a restaurant in West 51st street, arresting a waiter on a charge of unlawful possession of liquor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Mayor Walker has given police until Monday to produce some further facts on the killing of Arnold Rothstein, big Broadway gambler, or he will take action.

Calling Police Commissioner Warren, District Attorney Linton, Inspector John D. Coughlin, Deputy Inspector Arthur Carey, fourteen detectives and two patrolmen to his offices, the mayor questioned them fully as to what progress had been made. The questioning required a hour and a half.

At its conclusion the mayor issued the following statement: "I have insisted that either the detective bureau produce further facts in this case by Monday or else admit that they can't. Then I shall decide what action I shall take. They must be given a full opportunity and no more."

In the meantime it was revealed that the federal authorities for a year have been investigating the possible connection of Rothstein with what they describe as the "biggest drug ring" in the country. He is known to have furnished bail for three men arrested in July on suspicion that they were connected with the ring.

Inez Norton, the former show girl who was made a legatee of a large part of Rothstein's estate, returned from Atlantic City yesterday and was questioned by the district attorney. He said she told him she knew nothing of the shooting. Rothstein's wife, father and mother have started proceedings looking toward a contest of the will, signed by the gambler on his deathbed, in which Miss Norton was named. She is a divorcee and has a young son in a New York military academy.

OKLAHOMA STORM SWEEPS PATHWAY IN TWO COUNTIES

ORLANDO, Okla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—One woman was killed, a youth was fatally injured and three other persons were hurt here last night when a severe wind storm hit the edge of Orlando, demolishing two homes and a barn and damaging several other houses.

The body of Mrs. John Stevens was taken from the wreckage of her home shortly after the storm passed, and her husband, severely injured, also was found in the debris. Ernest Tedford, 17 year old high school student was fatally injured when a barn collapsed.

The wind, which had none of the peculiarities of a tornado swept along a narrow path across portions of Logan and Noble counties with terrific force being accompanied by rain of almost cloud burst proportions.

Light towers and communication lines were twisted and ripped away leaving the territory in darkness and without telegraph or telephone service for some time. The business section of Orlando escaped escaped damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens were sitting in their home when the wind crashed the house down upon them. The Tedford family, together with a brother, Walter, 18, and Leo Draper, 18, a cousin, were shooting sparrows in the barn when the wind hit. The other two boys ran outside and were only slightly injured.

NEW CHEVROLET SIX-CYLINDER LANDEAU SEDAN

DETROIT, Nov. 16.—Passing on to the motorist public the benefits of economies arising out of tremendous volume production, the Chevrolet Motor company today introduces "the outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet history—a six in the price range of the four."

In making this important announcement, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, points out that the sensational public reception accorded the car in recent years has enabled Chevrolet at this time to offer the added power, speed and smoothness of six cylinder performance at practically the same price that contributed so much to the world-wide popularity of the four.

The new car is powered with the highly successful valve-in-head type motor which has proven so successful in previous Chevrolet history and is of the high compression type with non-detonating head developing thirty-two per cent more power than the famous predecessor. The piston displacement is 194 cubic inches and the motor develops forty-six horse-power at low engine speed. In spite of this great increase in power, tests have shown that the new Chevrolet engine will operate with an economy averaging better than twenty miles to a gallon of gasoline.

Seven models of passenger cars and three commercial types comprise the line. Despite the score of advanced features, prices remain practically the same, chiefly as the result of the influence of tremendous volume production.

Advance showings of the new Chevrolet line will be held in leading cities strategically located throughout the country beginning November 24 and continuing until December 22. First deliveries to purchasers will start January 1. No deliveries will be made prior to that time, officials stated.

Showings of the new cars in the northwest will be made at the following points: Los Angeles, December 1-5; Auditorium, Ambassador Hotel, San Francisco, December 5-12; Portland, Oregon, December 18-22, Public Auditorium.

STOCK SALES ON WALL STREET GO TO NEW RECORD

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—With the ticker still running about an hour after the close of the market, the New York stock exchange today estimated that total sales for the day were more than 6,700,000 shares, about a million shares greater than on Monday, the previous record day. The curb market rolled up total sales of 2,151,809 shares in contrast to 1,825,100 the previous high record made on May 14th.

New high records were established by such popular issues as U. S. Steel common, Bethlehem Steel, Anaconda Steel, Amcoanda Copper, Texas Co., Packard Motors, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse Electric, Johns-Manville, North American Co. and Northern Pacific.

Waves of profit-taking swept through the market at intervals, carrying several issues down $1 to $5 a share below their high levels, but fresh buying support was invariably supplied and new leaders brought forward.

SALE TOMORROW PALMER MUSIC CO.
