ASHLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO HOLD MEETING FOR NEW MEMBERS TO EAGLE POINT P. T. A. PROGRAM DEVOTED TO TIMELY TOPICS.

ASHLAND, Ore., Nov. 16.—(Special)—A meeting of the Ashland Chamber of Commerce on November 22 will be held as a reception meeting for the new members recently secured in the contest drive with Medford. The board of directors at a recent meeting, planned the event and the active older members of the chamber have been chosen to welcome the new members. V. Y. Mills is chairman of the committee to work out the details of the entertainment.

The Alpha Chapter of the Oregon Eastern Star are inviting their friends to a dinner at 6:45 p. m. on Nov. 16th in the Masonic hall, which has recently had a third story added and has been rearranged on the second floor. Following the dinner will be an evening of entertainment.

In a lively game at Arleta, Cal., on Monday the Southern Oregon football team defeated the team from Humboldt State college by a score of 21 to 12. Claude Hines, the colored member of the team, did splendid work and made more than half the touchdowns for the Ashland team. Jack Brandon received an injury to his knee and Harry May has an injured ankle.

S. O. Rice, who has been the proprietor of the Ashland Creamery for more than a year past, has sold his interests in the concern to Portland parties and left Tuesday for the metropolis. He has no definite plans to announce for the future, but may engage in the creamery business later at some other point. Meantime J. H. Harker, bookkeeper, is in charge of the creamery.
