

COLD ADDS TO FLOOD MISERY KANSAS AREA

Thirty-Six Hours' Rainfall Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma—Flood Sufferers Face Low Temperatures—Three Deaths

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Colder weather today, followed 36 hours of nearly continuous rainfall in Kansas, Missouri and northern Oklahoma, to add to the suffering of many persons threatened by increasingly menacing floods in the tri-state area.

While the wrenching torrents continued unabated the temperature slumped downward into the 30's here as fresh reports of inundations, washouts and marooned persons were received. Many persons, especially in southeast Kansas lowlands and in west central Missouri, were prepared for or experiencing the worst floods in local history, following the unprecedented November downpours, ranging in places up to nine inches.

Three deaths already have resulted from the storm, while two persons were seriously injured here by rain-blinded motorists. An unidentified motorist drowned when his automobile was swept into a flooded stream at Paola, Kans., yesterday. The body was not recovered. C. E. King, a driller, was electrocuted at Mulberry, Kans., when he slipped on wet planking.

Thirty persons who fled their homes in low sections of Augusta, Kans., were marooned in knee-deep water in the Santa Fe freight depot here early today. The water was rising steadily, and there was little hope of an early rescue because rowboats could not navigate in the swirling flood current.

Dr. Dorado, Kans., residents, following nine inches of rainfall in that vicinity, fled to uplands after the town was flooded. Nearly 50 families were driven from their lowland homes about Ottawa, Kans., by steadily rising waters of the Marate Des Cygnes river, following seven inches of rainfall, the heaviest in 20 years.

The highest flood in history of Pleasant Hill, Mo., drove 25 families from their homes. Arterial highways east and south of Kansas City were blocked by flood waters, and scores of motorists were reported stranded in small towns along the routes.

Hall service between Kansas City and Sedalia was stopped last night by washouts. The general rainfall over Oklahoma increased to a downpour last night with the mercury dropping at Oklahoma City from 68 to 46 degrees. The Texas Panhandle reported three inches of rain with moderate wind but no damage reported in other sections of the state.

MISSING STUDENTS REPORTED SAFE IN DESERTED STATION
LAKEPORT, Cal., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The four University of California students missing nearly a week in the mountains north of here staggered into a deserted forest ranger cabin on Mount San Hedrin, about 46 miles northeast of here, at 11 o'clock last night and telephoned another ranger's cabin for food, said a telephone message here.

Mrs. M. A. Durham, who received the telephone call, reported here that the two boys and two girls in the party said they were "well but hungry," and asked for food. Ranger Durham started immediately for the deserted cabin, some 18 miles away across a snow-capped terrain. Durham's cabin is on Elk mountain.

'BETTER HALVES' EXCHANGE HOMES EVERYONE HAPPY

NEW AUBURN, Wis., Nov. 17.—(AP)—An exchange of homes for the wives and children of two families has made both wives, each a party to separate divorce actions, far happier than they were with their husbands.

William Brown, who has sued his wife on a cruelty charge, asked Mrs. Lizzie Heidelberg to keep house for him. With her six children, she came and Mrs. Brown left.

Mrs. Heidelberg, whose wife seeks divorce also for cruelty, met Mrs. Brown as she left her home. At his request, she replaced Mrs. Heidelberg as his housekeeper. The three Brown children went with her. The Heidelberg furniture has gone to the Brown home and vice versa.

The "trade" also involved the women's engagement rings. Brown paid his wife to return the ring he gave her 20 years ago. Now it is on Mrs. Heidelberg's hand. Mrs. Heidelberg said she relinquished her original ring to her husband.

Neither defendant will oppose the divorce suits, and both families' claim the new arrangement is more affable than the old. Each household stops occasionally, they say, to chat with the other.

"We've never been happier in all our lives, and that goes for the children, too," the wives said.

FOG HINDERS GOLF PORTLAND TODAY, HUESTON HAS 242
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Thick fog settled on the Waverly Country club course early today and turned the $5000 Oregon open golf tournament into a guessing contest. Players could follow the course of the balls only about 20 feet.

Play was two hours behind schedule at noon, as a result. Frank Walsh, Appleton, Wis., played by dead reckoning and rounded the first nine in one under par. His score for the 36 holes of the third round was 160, which put him considerably higher in the list than he was last night.

John Junor, Portland, did the first nine in 37, and Johnny Golden, Patterson, N. J., made 38. Dr. O. E. Willing, Portland, and Walter Hagen, New York, made good drives from the first tee and then everybody started hunting for the balls.

Scores in tournament including first nine today:
Asa Smith, Portland, 248.
Gordon Charles, Olympia, Wash., 242.
Howard Bonar, Portland, 239.
Duncan Sutherland, Vancouver, B. C., 239.
William Miller, Spokane, 239.
Jack Hueston, Medford, 242.

JACKSON COUNTY YOUNGSTERS FARE WELL COMPETITION

The livestock and corn clubs of Jackson county fared exceedingly well at the recent Pacific International Livestock exposition held at Portland, and County Agent R. G. Fowler has just received a few of the check won by the county boys and girl members of the clubs, and expects the others within a few days.

In the corn exhibits the Jackson county youths did about the same as at last year's exposition, when Robert Martin, 12, of Rogue River, won first prize. This year his brother, James Martin, 13, won first prize, winning in heavy competition with the corn growing states of the northwest—Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

In addition James won $35 on 35 ears of corn. His exhibit has gone back to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago, which begins Dec. 2. In the pens of four fat hog competition for southwestern Oregon (all counties south of Linn county) this county won all prizes which totalled $125, and the Lathrop family of Central Point was especially conspicuous in this. Katherine Lathrop, 12 years old, winning first prize of $30.

The other prize winners up to the ninth prize were as follows: Second, $25, Delmar Smith, 15, of Central Point; third, $20, John Lathrop, 15, Central Point; fourth, $17.50, James Lathrop, 14, of Central Point; fifth, $12.50, Ernest Lathrop, 11, of Central Point; sixth, $10, Castle Wolfvorn, 16, of Central Point; eighth, $10, Donald Patterson, about 14, of Central Point.

The above exhibitors also entered in the open club classes at the exposition and won their share of prizes in the big competition of the northwestern states. These prize winning hogs at the exposition were all sold at the fat stock sale, bringing all the way from 9 1/2 to 13c a pound, whereas on the day they were sold the hog market was around $8.75.

The Jackson county boys' club judging team won 12th place at the exposition in competition with 40 teams from the northwest. This team was composed of Hurrell Kelly of Rogue River, Chas. White of Rogue River and John Lathrop of Central Point. The latter was not a regular member of the team, but because of the inability of George McCracken of Valleyview to attend the exposition was called upon to serve in his place.

MEDFORD INTEREST SHOWN BY CROWD CRATERIAN RALLY

Under the direction of Earle Davis, assisted by Curley Wilcox, cheer leader, students of the Medford high school held a "pop" rally at the Craterian theatre last night, in honor of the football team, which leaves at 6:42 tonight, on the regular S. P. train, for their state championship game with The Dalles Monday afternoon.

In addition to the school cheers and rally songs, led by Wilcox, all the members of the football squad were called on the stage and introduced by Davis, with appropriate and facetious comments. Ted Baker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, made the opening speech, in which he assured the team that they had a hard fight before them, but that in addition to the rosters who would cheer them from the sidelines, they could be certain that all Medford and most of southern Oregon would be by their loud speakers and radios, cheering them on to victory.

Coach Callison was called upon and made one of the longest and best speeches of his career. He praised the spirit of the team, said there was no spirit of overconfidence, they were determined to win, but if they lost he didn't want anyone to meet them at the train on their return.

"I always get nervous before a game," said Prink, "and I am nervous now. I can't eat much, and won't until the game is over. But when it is over, if we win, we will all have a real banquet, but if we lose, we won't eat anything but beans."

Prink was given a big cheer and Earle Davis brought down the house by declaring that talk about Callison having no appetite was all applesauce, as he had paid for his dinner and knew.

Following this, Davis gave a few remarks and maintained Callison had only one fault, he was too afraid of overconfidence. "Prink," said he, "is not afraid of losing to The Dalles, he is only afraid of hearing them by such a big score that he can't get any team to play Medford on Thanksgiving. I know something about this team," he continued, "and I want to say it is not only the strongest high school football team on the coast, it is, in my opinion, the strongest in the United States."

The theatre was packed with students, and fathers and mothers, and the speeches and incidental noises were all broadcast over KMED.

Tonight all Medfordites are invited to give the team and their coach a rousing send-off at the S. P. station when they leave.

JOHNNY FARRELL AND HAGEN PLAY HERE WEDNESDAY

Medford golfers will have the unusual opportunity of seeing the two foremost golf champions of the world, battle for honors on the local course this coming Wednesday at one o'clock.

Jack Hueston, local pro, now competing in the $5000 open at Portland, wired the Mail Tribune today, that he has secured Johnny Farrell, American open champion, and Walter Hagen, open champion of Great Britain, three times American champion, and regarded as the greatest exponent of the game in the world, to play an 18-hole match here the afternoon of November 21.

Tickets at $1.50 per may be obtained from local club officials the first of the week, or at the gate on Wednesday, and it is believed the greatest golf gallery ever to follow a local match will be on hand when the contest starts.

It was Johnny Farrell, who defeated Bobby Jones for the open title at Chicago last summer, in a play-off after they had ended all square in the tournament, while Hagen pulled the greatest comeback in golfing history last spring, when after being defeated ignominiously by Archie Compston in a special match, swept all before him to win the British open championship for the third time.

Farrell and Hagen are bitter rivals, and can be depended upon to stage a hammer and tongs contest, when they meet here Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Preposterous weight and speed in the back field, with an iron will for a line, gave Whitman college an edge on the College of Idaho in their northwest conference game here today.

GRIDIRON BATTLES COAST CONFEREES ON MENU TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—(AP)—A Pacific coast conference championship, dangled before the University of Southern California football team as it faced the Washington State Cougars on the Coliseum gridiron here today and followers of the Trojans felt a victory would clinch the prize.

In the steepie chase for the title this year, the Southern California war horse has cleared his hurdles, except for a stumble in the form of a tie game with the Bear eleven of the University of California. He leaped the Cardinal banner from Stanford 10 to 6 and the Cougars were seen as the only serious barrier before the flag, as the Trojans expect only a workout from Idaho, its last conference opponent. The Bears, also undefeated, might yet meet the Stanford threat—hence the belief that a Trojan victory today would clinch the title.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Nov. 17.—(AP)—A University of Washington eleven, with newly found strength, was on the Stanford Cardinals' program today.

Last week, in a mud battle at Seattle, the Huskies held the University of California team, as yet undefeated in conference competition, to a 6 to 0 score. This week they took the field entertaining hopes of defeating the Cardinals.

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Marking California's last appearance on the gridiron before the "big game" with Stanford, the Golden Bears today tackled the eleven from the University of Nevada.

With Moose Garrity and Ruessewing in the backfield the bears were supplied with an offensive punch and with speed, and took the field heavy favorites to win. Coach Nilsen predicted that only second string men will be used in the starting lineup.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The dashing, passing, bulldozing of Gonzaga university were determined to add another victory to their column today when they met the St. Ignatius eleven at Kezar stadium here. Fresh from their victory over St. Mary's last week, Coach Nilsen predicted that the Gonzagans were expected to depend chiefly on their air attack and the long runs of Fanny Hunting, quarterback, to bring their victory.

MISSOULA, Mont., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Idaho was expected to win by a comfortable margin over the University of Montana here today, although the Vandals' two weeks' rest apparently had been hard on their condition.

TURK WILL MEET BOB KRUSE HERE FRIDAY EVENING

Giving Medford wrestling fans the first smolder of the season Hassan Muhammad, the Terrible Turk, will appear in a main event next Friday evening at the armory against Bob Kruse of Portland, 210-pound heavyweight, and once a wrestling winner in the Olympic games. In addition to the main event, three wrestling preliminaries have also been arranged for the evening's entertainment, which will begin at 8:45.

Kruse is the athletic instructor for the Multnomah club and is rated high in the Pacific coast wrestling world. Muhammad is well known in Medford, having appeared here in several matches last summer under the promotion of Jack Wood.

Fred Mortensen of Grants Pass will wrestle in a preliminary against Young Gorch of Portland, with both men weighing 175 pounds. Next Friday's smolder will mark the return of Tex Porter to the wrestling ring, and he will grapple with Curly Woods, both of Medford. Porter made a good start last year but abandoned the game for several months. In a special event Tommy Ryan of Medford will wrestle a member of the local unit of the Oregon National Guard. The identity of the soldier has not been disclosed.

ECCENTRIC DOCTOR ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(AP)—With two self-inflicted bullet wounds near her heart, Dr. Virginia Alvarez Hussey, who last July created a sensation by "confessing" that she had slain her husband, Lindley M. Hussey, novelist, and "the other woman," was in a critical condition today at the Misericordia hospital.

After police had found Hussey and "the other woman," Mrs. Grace Tellow Saurver, wealthy divorcee, alive at an artists' colony near Seagrantsville, N. J., Dr. Hussey was pronounced mentally unbalanced and committed to the Norristown state hospital. She was released two months ago and friends said she and her husband had become reconciled, although they were not living together. At legal proceedings closing the incident, Mrs. Saurver denied having been friendly with Hussey.
