BRUNDAGE TO ENFORCE RULES FOR AMATEURS

New President of A. A. U. for Strict Enforcement—Hopes to Line Up College Athletic Organizations by Using Diplomacy.

By F. G. Voshburgh. (Associated Press Sports Writer.) NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A firm hand, one which only a decade ago was being used to hurl 56-pound weights and hammers, is to guide the Amateur Athletic Union through the coming year.

Taking office as president shortly before the 40th annual convention came to a close, Avery Brundage of Chicago made it clear at once that the amateur rules are in for strict enforcement.

"It is not the rules that are at fault," he said, "but the administration of them."

Chatting informally, he brought up the cases of athletes who have grown in ability in, say tennis or track, to such a point that they are wanted in all sections of the country.

"Undoubtedly," he said, "I have done the sport of tennis a great deal of good, whether he is an amateur or not. About the merits of the case I know little."

"But my personal opinion is that unless a man has some income, some regular employment, outside of sport, he is a professional."

Promoters who offer financial rewards to amateur athletes are largely responsible for violations of the code, the new president added, indicating that a tight rein will be kept upon them.

The only move made by the convention during its sessions here to make the amateur rules more strict was the adoption of a rule making a man ineligible as an amateur for exploiting his athletic progress, whether or not he actually receives compensation for so doing.

As to Nurnal. Asked what could be done in the case of an athlete such as Paavo Nurmi, who might come to the United States, with additional prize through amateur triumphs, and then turn professional overnight, President Brundage replied, "I am afraid nothing—unless we knew that was the intention, and then we would withhold sanction."

"Men obviously brought over here for someone's private interest will not be allowed to take part in amateur competition."

On the Olympic games, too, this husky athlete of 42 has very definite ideas. He said he intended to propose to the Olympic committee that between one and two million dollars be raised in the near future in order that the interest accumulating before the ensuing Olympiad might be used to pay the expenses of the team. The principal would go on earning the necessary sum from Olympiad to Olympiad if once established.

There is diplomacy as well as iron in the makeup of the new head of the A. A. U. He hopes to break down the antagonism of the western conference colleges and the National Collegiate A. A. which have not allied with the organization, by winning the support and interest of former college athletes from that section, like himself.

His own unanimous election was a triumph for this plan of conciliation which is expected to make the A. A. U. a more unified and effective body.

CALIFORNIA CAMPS BILL SHAW MEETS IRA DERN TONIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 21.—(AP)—With the Stanford university student body focused to a fighting pitch, and the University of California students resting with utmost confidence in their team, the two rival camps today were waiting the clash of their football teams in the big game Saturday.

The Stanfordites were aroused yesterday when their huge bonfire scheduled to be burned at a rally tonight, was set on fire by a third bomb and was utterly consumed.

All yesterday afternoon and last night the entire Cardinal student body worked feverishly to build another pile so that the bonfire might be held.

The Berkeley lads last night had guards stationed on Charter Hill to prevent the big C there from being painted the Cardinal red. The guard will be maintained constantly until game time.

Meanwhile, little happened at the rival football camps, with both squads starting their tapering off practice. Thursday the Bears will leave for the Castlewood Country club to remain there in seclusion until game time and the Stanford gridders will leave for their place of relaxation a day later.

All of the California players were in first class condition, with among the Cardinal players, Sellman, tackle, and Heinicke, center, were recovering from attacks of the flu.

EUGENE HI PLAYS MEDFORD ELEVEN COMING SATURDAY

The Medford high school football team will play the Eugene high school at Van Sooye field next Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, in the annual game. There will be no radio broadcast of the contest, it was announced this morning by the high school heads.

The Eugene high school was defeated two weeks ago by Salem, 27 to 7, and a few weeks ago, was torn by disunion, five of the first string players at one time being under suspension.

Coach Callison said he would use his first string players, and take no chances with "an upset." As in all games this year, he will also use second string men.

The Medford team will engage in no scrimmages this week, but will limber up every evening. Several of the players are suffering from hard bumps, sustained at The Dalles.

The state press is loud in its praise of the Medford team, and rates them as state champions. The Bend team is not considered as much opposition. They defeated Corvallis, 7 to 6, and won the same kind of a victory over Klamath Falls, Astoria's challenge is not counted as carrying much weight, as they were decisively beaten by the Columbia prep school.

The Portland champion is considered as a logical contender, and a sure way to clear the state title, more than a score of pounds and experience and strength also favor the champion, but the team is expected to give Lewis a grueling battle.

Ira Dern, 200-pound Salt Lake grippler, is matched with Bill Shaw of Cleveland, Ohio, in the semi-windup, a one-fall, one-hour limit affair.

FARRELL CAN SING AS WELL AS SWING MEAN GOLF CLUBS

"You can tell by the way I walk. You can tell by the way I talk—that I'm Irish."

Thus sang Johnny Farrell, black haired, blue eyed American open golf champion, as he stepped off the train this morning with Walter Hazen, British open golf champion, and their manager, Robert Bank, for an exhibition game at the local links.

And Johnny, besides being a golf hero, an all-around athlete and what have you, possesses some tenor voice. In fact, he amused a crowd of local residents, newspaper reporters and the listening train crew with no less than three songs, while his manager, with the aid of a local committee, was trying to figure out the best method of disposing of a dozen or more pieces of luggage piled in a heap beside the track.

Asked why he didn't go into vaudeville, the handsome Irishman from New York laughed spontaneously and heartily.

"Just where would the golf ball land in a case of that kind?" he asked. "But seriously, Walter and I have been contemplating doing a movie picture. Haven't you, Walter?"

Walter, of the ruddy complexion and even eyes, came forth and shook hands with one of the reporters.

"Hello, sweetheart—of course we want you to come out and see our match," he said. "What is your name again?" Johnny Farrell turned a look of reproach and withering scorn upon his noted companion, and then gave the reporter a departing smile.

"We'll be looking for you out there now—don't desert us in this strange country. It's my first time in the northwest, you know." And the famous pair were escorted into an automobile, where their manager was playing an impatient "pat" on the door as he waited for them.

TEAM MEMBERS FORUM GUESTS HOTEL MEDFORD

The victorious Medford high school team were the guests of the Chamber of Commerce at their forum luncheon at Hotel Medford this noon. Frank Callison was in a merry mood and each of his men a hearty round of applause as they were introduced by the coach.

"We did plenty of worrying before the game," said Frank. "But after the first two or three minutes of the battle at The Dalles, we didn't worry any more. We were too busy." That they considered The Dalles the best team with which they contended during the season, was another statement made by the local coach.

Dave Brown Barker, executive vice-president of the University of Oregon, who was an honor guest of the chamber of commerce, began his speech at 12:15.
