It is a matter of general regret among Medford and Jackson county motorists that State Traffic Officer Herb Moore was recently relieved of his duties, which he had held in southern Oregon for the past several months, with Medford as his headquarters. He was originally employed only for the rush of the summer tourist traffic, but nevertheless, motorists say that his services are also necessary during the winter months. He was well liked and was regarded as an accommodating officer.

When disaster strikes, the nation turns to the American Red Cross. Only in major catastrophes does the Red Cross ask the public for a relief fund. But the Red Cross must maintain a strong organization to aid in lesser disasters. It is your privilege to contribute to this organization once each year through membership in the Red Cross. Join! "THE HOME OF BREAD LIKE MOTHER MADE"

Eighth Anniversary

Eight years ago the Economy Groceteria introduced to southern Oregon a new system of marketing foods—A system whereby the buyer was relieved of all the annoyances that go with old-fashioned methods in use for so many Years.—Waiting for clerks, asking prices, being urged to buy strange brands, hurrying because the store was busy and looking across the counter at goods stored beyond reach for inspection—all so characteristic of the old-time store were done away with. Goods, with all prices plainly marked—on tables so arranged as to permit leisurely inspection—and prices which reflected the big saving resulting from the lower expense immediately appealed to southern Oregon buyers—so much so that our business has steadily grown until today Medford has the largest and best food store in Oregon—a store built on the principle of uniformly low prices—not a law price on an occasional leader—but a lower level of prices on all foods which makes the saving so much greater—a price level which although never changed in the eight years—still earns the Groceteria the distinction of being—"The Price Makers of Southern Oregon."
