PUNCHBOARDS ARE SENT TO ASH CAN BY SHERIFF'S BAN

The death knell of candy and merchandise punchboards, which have been flourishing in Medford and Jackson county for the past several months, was sounded today by Sheriff Ralph Jennings in the announcement that punchboards in Jackson county must be discontinued at once, meaning that every punchboard in use today must be put away tomorrow, with confiscation threatened for any found in use after this evening.

STUDENTS SUFFER IN FLU EPIDEMIC

Because there is so much sickness from severe colds or influenza among the public school pupils, it is regarded as somewhat fortunate that this is a short week in the public schools, which adjourn Wednesday afternoon for the Thanksgiving vacation until Monday.

In the Junior High school alone today, 96 of the students were at home with colds or the flu, and in the senior high school between 50 and 60 students were absent for the same reason.

In each of the grade schools the average number of pupils at home with colds or the flu numbered 50.
