European Powers Fear Peace In Balkans Menaced By Michailoff; Vendetta Rages Against Bulgarians and Battle Looms—The Reports Conflict.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The European powers today interviewed in the critical situation in Bulgaria caused by the continuing bloody Macedonian feuds. Great Britain and France were reported to have jointly demanded cessation of the strife, as not only menacing Bulgaria but jeopardizing the peace of the Balkans.

Foreign Minister A. Buroff, while not attempting to disparage the gravity of the situation, believed that the government had sufficient troops to subdue Ivan Michailoff, but that it was most difficult to capture him and his thousands of well armed Macedonian revolutionaries who, when confronted with danger, flee to inaccessible mountain retreats.

Buroff declared that while regular troops are within reach of Petritsch, the Michailoff stronghold, the government desires to give the revolutionary leader a last chance to capitulate before rivig the order to engage him in battle.

The government dispatched a peremptory demand to Michailoff this afternoon, saying that the sanguinary feuds must cease immediately or he and his partisans will be captured.

In a United Nations Macedonian chief had hurried back the defiant reply. "Any government official who signs a decree against me signs his own death warrant."

In ministerial circles it was said that War Minister Volkoff was in disagreement with the rest of the cabinet and that the Ljapcheff ministry had been weakened by the vigorous diplomatic representations made by Great Britain and France.

The vendetta between the Macedonian factions has claimed fresh victims. It was learned today that two men, Apostoloff and Popoff, had been slain here a few days after leaving a meeting. They were said to have opposed the Michailoff faction. Another killing was reported at Kustendil, Bulgaria, where the mayor of a village was assassinated.

In contradiction of these reports were statements by Finance Minister Moloff and the Bulgarian news agency. The finance minister categorically denied any serious troubles had arisen from the Macedonian disputes and said that rumors had been spread with the sole object of compromising the Bulgarian loan abroad.

The news agency statement read: "We are in a position to declare that not only in Sofia and Bulgarian Macedonia but throughout the entire country perfect order prevails."

SKOPLJE, Jugo-Slavia, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Private advices received tonight from Sofia said that it was believed that the government army corps dispatched to the Petritsch district soon would engage the forces of Ivan Michailoff in battle.

WILL CONTINUE HOME PRODUCT CO-OPERATION

Stimulation of Home Buying to Continue Indefinitely—Campaign Declared Successful By Mann and Baker.

While the intensive part of the campaign is over, the work begun last week by the Buy-at-Home campaign will be continued indefinitely in order to stimulate the purchase of home products. With good cooperation from the majority of the Medford merchants, the campaign today was declared a success by John C. Mann, president of the Medford chamber of commerce, and C. T. Baker, secretary. The chamber sponsored the campaign and spent several weeks in preparation for the event.

"Yes, the campaign was a success," said Mr. Mann this forenoon. "It was well planned and did much to stimulate interest in the purchase of home products, bringing the consumer and retailer in closer touch. Now that the campaign is over and it is probable that its good work will live on, it would be wise for the citizens of Medford to invite more payrolls to the city and discourage the peonishous establishment of new business houses when the city's payrolls can not afford their establishment."

The campaign was in charge of three committees, composed of a general committee, and publicity and window trimming committees. The general committee was composed of C. A. Meeker, John Moffatt, Elmer Wilson, Howard Schefel and William Lydiard, while the publicity was in charge of H. L. Bromley, Herb Grey, E. E. Scott, K. I. Dazey and W. A. Gates. The window trim committee was made up of John Moffatt, Emil Brophy, Marc Jarmin, R. B. Strong and Harry Jacobs.

CATHERINE BOOTH MENTIONED HEAD SALVATION ARMY

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Catherine Booth, daughter of Gen. William Bramwell Booth, 72-year-old head of the Salvation Army in the British empire, is being prominently discussed as the next head of the organization should her father's temporary retirement because of ill health become permanent.

Under the Salvation Army constitution General Booth has the right to name his own successor.

CATHERINE BOOTH

When the first General Booth died, there was considerable speculation as to who would take over the reins of authority until it was discovered that he had nominated his son to follow in his footsteps.

Miss Catherine Booth is a competent business woman, having been raised to that rank last year, and she is now in charge of the women's social work, which was founded by the first General Booth's wife, her grandmother.

JOHNSON AND DAVIS NOW IN TOKYO, JAPAN, ENJOYING WORLD TRIP

John W. Johnson and Scott Davis, the two well-known Medford men who recently sailed from San Francisco on their trip around the world, are now in Tokyo, Japan, after having spent some time at Honolulu, and are well and hugely enjoying their trip, according to a cable received in the city yesterday. A letter from Mr. Johnson, written at Honolulu has also just been received by Mrs. Ben Trowbridge, his daughter.

An oddity in connection with the receipt of the cablegram is that while it was dated at 12:12 on November 26 and stated that they had arrived in Tokyo that day, it was received here yesterday, November 25, apparently the day before it was sent. The difference in time between Japan and the Pacific coast of 16 hours, explains the at first thought seeming discrepancy.

Mr. Johnson's letter stated that they met Buster Coleman and Claude Klum, former well-known Medford residents, and also Mr. and Mrs. John Perl and Mrs. Montgomery of Medford, who were in Honolulu on an excursion trip.

After spending nine days in Japan, the local world travelers will spend nine days in China, and from there will go to the Philippines.

GIRLS ENDANGERING CHANCE OF MOTHERHOOD

(By request)

The national fad of dieting to reduce weight is permanently injuring the health of girls, women and men in the opinion of eminent medical authorities. How dangerously serious dieting has become may be judged from the following statement by a famous doctor. He says: "Many young women to whom motherhood has been denied have come to me to learn the reason why. I have to tell them, only too often, that they have sacrificed their children for the sake of a boyish figure." This doctor goes on to show that many adults, both men and women, do injuries to themselves by starvation diets from which they can never recover.

It is time to call a halt to this dangerous practice. Whoever said that two persons could have the same standard of weight. Medical science now declares that standardization in the weight of human beings is impossible, as well as undesirable.

Eat enough of a great variety of foods and enjoy them. Remember that sugar is the ideal flavorer of other foods and that it adds greatly to the zest and pleasure of eating. Sugar is also a food—the most inexpensive and purest known. Don't be afraid to sweeten grapefruit, cereals, dried fruits, and all canned vegetables. Delightful flavors demand sugar. ## RAILROAD NEED IDAHO-OREGON TOLD IN BRIEF

Central Oregon Line Would Build Up Industry in Southwestern Idaho and Southeastern Oregon Is Claim.

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Construction of a railroad across Central Oregon would build up industry in southwestern Idaho and southeastern Oregon to a point impossible with present transportation facilities, said a complainant's brief filed today with the interstate commerce commission on the complaint of Idaho and Oregon against the Central Pacific railroad and other railroads.

The brief was filed by the public utilities commissioners of the two states.

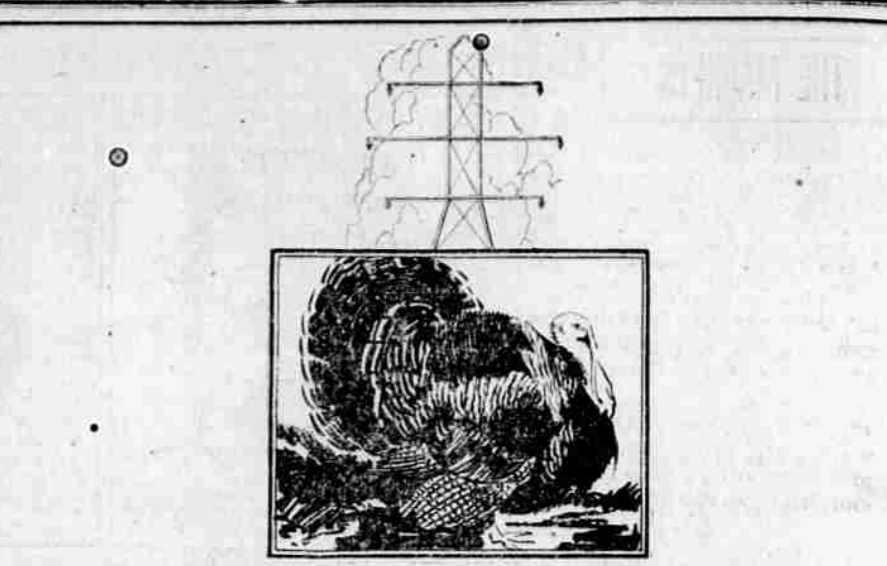

Demand for the railroad has been multiplied by the greatly increased agricultural and dairying production of the territory to be benefited by the line, the brief said, and quoted testimony taken at the hearing before the commission examiners in Portland two months ago.

According to the brief, the line was proposed by the late E. H. Harriman, railroad magnate, but was given up when the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads were separated. Since that time the southwest part of Idaho has troubled agricultural production and a like development has occurred in southeast Oregon.

The railroad would be supported by traffic, which now goes north by way of Ogden or Portland to northern California. The new line would save more than 300 miles of haul over either of the two systems and save as much as 24 hours in transit, which the brief contended was a vital factor in handling dairy products and fruit.

Northern California will furnish a market for practically all southwest Idaho can produce, the brief stated and pointed out that the district was a good market for manufactured articles such as automobiles, which were shipped from coast assembling plants.

Southwest Idaho cannot favorably use the Rockwood-Wells cut-off because of poor service, the brief contended and said shippers now almost invariably choose the longer haul by way of Ogden and Portland than to ship over the other route.

Priscilla Was a Good Cook

... but an early American kitchen didn't make for efficiency. Thanksgiving dinner in Priscilla Alden's home required many hard, hot hours before an open hearth, and while hearths are picturesque in the parlor they are but a handicap in the kitchen.

Today's cooks are able to set on the table even better dinners than any the Pilgrims ever enjoyed, and they do it with an ease and speed that the Pilgrim wives never imagined.

Electrical equipment—ranges and refrigerators for instance—have taken the discomfort out of cooking, and many a woman comfortably and happily preparing the Thanksgiving dinner in her cheery kitchen will give thanks for electricity, the great gift of science to the homemaker.

Older motors with big piston clearance could stand lots of carbon

The new high-compression motors have as little as 1/32 of an inch between the top of the piston and the cylinder head—flint carbon is ruinous to them, even in small quantities

A handful of flint carbon... and only 1/32 of an inch to put it in

You've probably seen mechanics working on one of the older type motors—scraping layers of carbon off the piston heads—a big handful of it from one motor!

But the newer engines could never stand such carbon deposits. Some of them have only the thickness of a knife blade between piston and cylinder head—no room at all for carbon.

What causes carbon?

The carbon that builds up in your motor comes from burned oil. And it is a strange fact that often the highest priced lubricants will give you large quantities of gritty, hard carbon.

In spite of all this it is easy now to avoid carbon-forming oils. For science has perfected one oil that is vitally different.

Only a little soft soot

Shell Motor Oil, the result of a new refining process, forms less than one-third the carbon of even the costliest oils; no hard carbon, only a little soot that blows easily away through the exhaust.

Its lubricant value is far greater than old type oils. Careful refining leaves all its "body" intact ready to resist even the most violent changes in temperature.

Insist on Shell Motor Oil every time you buy. It is almost a necessity in today's motors.

SHELL MOTOR OIL

Shell 400, the new "dry" gas that burns cleanly and keeps out of the crankcase, is the ideal running mate for Shell Motor Oil. Even Shell Motor Oil can be ruined by "thinning" with a "wet" gas
