The completion of this new addition to Copeo service marks a new record in line construction.

In order to supply the town of Butte Falls with electric service it was found necessary to build approximately 17 miles of power line and move the substation for line and move the substation for-merly located at Mansfield to a point about a mile above McLeod. Twelve miles of the power line was over rough mountainous country from McLeod to Butte Fulls, miking the construction work extremely difficult and presenting serious transportation problems. The survey for this part of the line was finished October 16 and a crew was put to work the following day cutting brush and digging holes. As soon as this crew had covered a few miles a second crew was started after the first, delivering and electing poles. This group commenced work on October 22. On Navember 1 the second crew had a good many poles erected and a third crew was sent to follow up the second unit and string up the wire. was over rough mountainous coun-try from McLeod to Butte Falls.

The new line is a fine example The new line is a fine example of modern line construction, the section from McLeod to Butte Falls being a two wire eleven thousand voit line. On the first seven miles No. 4 aluminum wire, reinforced with a steel core, was used and on the remainder of this section No. 5 Hitenso wire was installed. Modern methods were employed throughout the construction job making possible to complete it in record time.

The moving of the substation from Mansfield to McLeod necessitated the installation of a 2200 voit line from Mansfield to the new substation location. This 2300 voit line was installed on the transmission line poles and the installation was continued at this time as far southwest as "Sunset on the Rogue" Resort in order that the people living along this line could also receive the benefits of electric service. Aufong others, this service was made available to Carey's Auto Camp, the Fish Hatchery at Elk Creek, the Rogue Elk hotel and "Sunset on the Rogue."

The building of this new line The building of this new line will not only prove a big benefit to the community in the future but it also meant a considerable extra payroll for the valley during its construction. The largest number of men employed at any one time on this new line was stay five. The bulk of the material was hauled from Medford by truck and living accommoda-
