These are 14 inches of snow at the top of the lake, 12 inches at the bottom. Skating will probably be done at all at the south or Klamath straits, according to a report received this forenoon at the Crater national park office here from the caretaker of the lake. It is not known how much snow is at the Medford entrance to the park, as that entrance was not visited.

Some of the local wrestling fans are talking up a match between Fred Mortensen of this city and Sator Jack Wood of Medford. Most of the fans seem to have the impression that Mortensen can toss Wood without too great difficulty and believe this would be worth the price of admission. Wood, however, wants the match in Medford and Mortensen is holding out for this city. The local wrestler is perfectly willing to meet the challenger, but says there won't be a bout unless it is in Grants Pass—Grants Pass Courier.

"What could be more appropriate," inquires Dr. J. E. Reddy of Medford, "than for a monument to be erected to Sam Hill somewhere on the Pacific highway? It has been suggested that a large granite boulder be placed near the summit of the Siskiyou on the Pacific highway, and on this boulder the following inscription: 'Sam Hill, Road Builder.' It was in southern Oregon that Mr. Hill started his campaign for good roads in Oregon, and the first pavement was laid from Central Point toward Medford. Mr. Hill is entitled to recognition for his pioneering and I am pleased to hear that there is talk of something of the sort being done." Dr. Reddy says that some time ago Mr. Hill suggested that flowers be grown along the highway and sitting on this suggestion an artist from Hollywood bought several packages of flower seeds at Crescent City and sprinkled the seeds at favorable spots between Crescent City and Grants Pass—The Oregonian.
