

PROTEST IS FILED IN ROAD CLOSING AT JACKSONVILLE

Residents of Jacksonville to the number of 24 have filed a signed remonstrance with the county court against the closing to public use of the old Krutzer road. The hearing on the remonstrance has been set for Wednesday, January 9, 1929.

The closing of the road, is represented to the county court, as a step in the proposed industrial development of the Jacksonville district, as a large concern desires to build a packing plant in that section, to cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. The closing of the road, which is little used, is desired to comply with the state law, prohibiting the building of a packing plant, near to a public road.

The Krutzer road was built in pioneer days, and was an outlet for the old Krutzer mill. It is a feeder to the Appleton-Stirling road and has a grade too steep for auto traffic. Of late years, it has been but little used.

At the January hearing of the case, both sides will be presented.

ORDERS RECEIVED FROM EGYPT FOR VALLEY'S APPLES

The merchants over in Alexandria, Egypt know their Spitzbergen, when it comes to attracting tourists—and that's no applesauce. Following a wire received from a large produce concern of Egypt a few days ago, the American Fruit Growers, Inc., here, shipped a carload of the largest and choicest Rogue River apples direct to the ancient city yesterday.

Today, another carload left thru the same canal company for Paris, France. This latter order came from the Fruits de France company of Paris and the carload of extra fancy apples, will be loaded onto a steamer in New York some time the middle of next week, according to Earl Coe, manager of the local company.

These direct demands, from distant points, are unusual, as the foreign buyers are generally supplied thru the fruit commission houses of the east, to which points the Rogue River valley products are shipped. That this is indicative of the fame the local products are reaching thru the mediums of far-reaching advertising, and the excellent quality of southern Oregon fruit was a statement made by valley shippers today.

LOCAL MAN ESCAPES INJURY IN CAR CRASH

O. T. Bitner, manager of the Medford Ice and Storage company is being congratulated today over his narrow escape in a car accident on the Ashland highway yesterday.

Mr. Bitner met a truck coming up the highway at the first short turn between here and Ashland, north of the Southern Pacific crossing. In attempting to steer to the side of the road and dodge the truck, Mr. Bitner's Studebaker sedan skidded on the ice glazed pavement and went through the fence off the highway. Another car, coming from the rear, also skidded and followed the local man's Studebaker, bumping it still further into the field.

Although the Studebaker was badly damaged, Mr. Bitner said that no one was to blame for the accident, and that it was impossible to hold a car on account of the ice. None of the drivers were injured.

Let me write your fire insurance. Carl Y. Tengwald, Hotel Holland, Phone 952.
