Marguerite Scott of the high school who reviewed the late book of Arthur J. Ruhl, "The Central American," Mr. Ruhl is a native of Illinois, graduated from Harvard in 1913 and worked in newspaper work. During the war he was in Berlin and Belgium. He has written a number of books. He made his first trip to Central America in 1913 and again a short time ago. The comparisons made and the changes he found make his book very interesting. We are proud of the influence of the United States on the sanitation and the mode of land travel. A railroad built in 1878 from Atlanta to the Pacific Mountains not like those in the United States. Coffee and banana are the chief exports; companies formed of foreigners who can handle them better than the natives.

This year's calendar is of striking color and design and promises to prove popular with all who receive a copy. Being of small size, it is a constant help to the man who carries it in his vest pocket or card case, or to the woman who keeps it in her purse. These little calendars are being enclosed with all light bills during the month of December, which customer will receive a calendar.

KRAMER REVIVAL
ATTENDANCE GOOD
DESPITE WEATHER

Notwithstanding the fog, sickness and other interruptions, the revival at the First Baptist church has gained momentum every service and the interest increases nightly.

Dr. Kramer has never failed to attract crowds and few auditoriums have been able to seat his audiences all over America. In Jacksonville, Fla., in the Billy Sunday tabernacle recently, 1,000 heard him, and in Colorado Springs in the auditorium, scores were turned away.

Dr. Archibald of the well known Baptist church in Columbus, Ohio, writes: "Dr. Kramer has not equal on the American platform as a speaker, and never fails to hold his crowd. He can do more things than any man I know of."

Dr. W. O. Anderson of Tulsa, Okla., said: "He put our church on its map and made this great city sit up and take notice of the claims of the kingdom."

Sunday promises to be a record-breaking in the church. At 11 a. m. service the evangelist will preach on "How Much Are You Worth?" At night, "Big Jim" will give his famous baseball sermon, "Don't Die on Third," which has caused so much comment all over the country. In Los Angeles, the Los Angeles and San Francisco teams attend in a body, and the players look up to the offering that night. At Jax, for years sporting editor of the San Francisco Examiner, said: "Kramer is the Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth of the preachers. The fans are for him 100 horsepower." Kramer was chaplain of the Los Angeles baseball club when there.

Monday night the subject will be, "Was Your Daddy a Mark?" Tuesday afternoon, after school, children's meetings will start, Wednesday a great drive will be put on for church members, from 2 to 5 p. m. One night during the week the evangelist will give his well known address, "Are You for Uncle Sam?"

Last night the evangelist hit from the shoulder, after speaking of modern ways of living and from all over the congregation came hearty amen. Here were a few red-hot Krameriens last night:

"Many a boy and girl needs a mother more than they need a preacher or church. The world's first church was the home and the first preacher mother."

"God pity any child who has to call a dog-fearing, cat-bugging, cigarette-sucking woman mother!"

"A lady may smoke cigarettes and drink, but not God Almighty's type of a woman!"

"The average society dress reminds me of a butcher shop—all you see is a spatter and back-bone!"

"Over two hundred millions spent for lipstick and powder last year. No wonder men die of painters' colic!"

"There is no place in some hotels for a woman with a babe in her arms, but a flapper with a sore-eyed dog can stay!"

"The world is in a mad race for the land of flapperism, free love, immorality and hellism!"

"The home needs Jesus Christ!"

"Get the church on fire and the world will come to see it burn!"

Wednesday Study Club
 Have Enjoyable Meeting.
 The Wednesday Study club held its regular meeting at the library on December 5. The program dealt with history of the United States and descriptive material on certain sections.

Mrs. L. E. Williams made the Accessions of Territory of the United States up until the time of the Civil war, read like the marvelous tales of Oregon, the romantic boundaries of Louisiana Purchase lands were some of the interesting things she told. She also read a few passages from Woodrow Wilson's History of the American People.

Mrs. M. N. Hogan reviewed "Mostly Mississippi," by Harold Speakman. This book is a description of a trip by canoe and house boat from the source of this great river to its mouth. Mrs. Hogan delighted her hearers with choice bits of humor and vivid descriptions by this artist-author. Shethen called attention to the book "Father Mississippi" by Lytt Saxton in which personal recollections of a Louisiana childhood present vivid tales of this great river and its floods.

The next meeting of the club will be on January 2, but Guest Day will be postponed until January 16.

Carnan E. Metcalf, pastor of the First Christian church, returned Friday night from Eugene and Portland, where he attended the Northwest Preachers' parliament. He had two places on the convention program and also was invited to sing before the Lions' club of Eugene.

House of Parent-Teachers
 Have Meeting.
 The Roosevelt Parent-Teachers' association met Friday afternoon at three o'clock in Miss Allen's room. About fifty members were present.

The circle decided to use some of the funds received thru the Hallowe'en Frolic to purchase a portable Victrola for the use of the school. Also ten dollars was voted to buy books for the school library. Each child at Christmas time may bring books from home that have been discarded or outgrown to help enlarge this library. Mrs. Dymann was appointed chairman of the committee to form a Girl Scout circle for the Roosevelt school.

Miss Allen presented two groups of children singing Christmas carols. Both numbers were greatly enjoyed by the parents. Mrs. Russell's Revelers of the Roosevelt school that she such a hit at the Hallowe'en Frolic, played several very pleasing selections. The program was concluded with Mrs. Dolph Phillips' report of the P. T. D. A. conventions at Roseburg. Delicious refreshments of tea and dainty cases were served during the social hour.
