COMMITTEE AGAIN POSTPONES VOTE KELLOGG TREATY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(AP)—For the third time the senate foreign relations committee postponed action today on the Kellogg treaty to outlaw war.

Although Chairman Borah had hoped that a vote could be taken on the treaty, several senators, including Reed of Missouri and Shipstead of Minnesota, desired to discuss the treaty's relation with the Monroe doctrine, and in general more fully to cover all of the documents which figured in the negotiations.

There also was some discussion of the possibility of offering a resolution in the senate merely as an expression that it was the sense of the senate that the treaty in no way implied the sanction that it had any effect upon the Monroe doctrine.

SEEK COMMISSION FOR SUPERVISION STATE'S STREAMS

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Creation by the legislature of a commission to supervise the streams of the state, so that recreation, manufacturing and irrigation possibilities may be protected, was suggested at a conference here late yesterday of hunters, anglers, recreationists, representatives of public and private power projects, and public officials.

Much of the discussion at the meeting centered on the method of naming the commission, and it was decided that the resolution propose to the legislature that the power to name the members be placed in the hands of the governor.

A proposal in the original resolution read by Charles Miller, member of the state game commission, suggested that the commission include the chairman of the fish commission, state health officer and state engineer. Speakers declared that this arrangement would give preponderance to the recreational element, and that a body of three men similar to the highway commission would best serve all interests.

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Violent fluctuations in the high priced specialties featured today's irregular stock market. The main price tendency was upward, with buying influenced by the further easing of money rates, the decline of nearly $219,000,000 in brokers' loans and the retention of the 5 per cent rediscount rate by the New York Federal Reserve bank. Except at the opening, when several blocks of 5000 to 10,000 shares changed hands, trading was relatively light in volume.

SEATTLE, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The "flu" death toll in the Pacific Northwest jumped overnight to more than 50 when Seattle health officers disclosed that more than 40 persons had died here in the last few weeks of influenza or pneumonia.

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Sixty-six new cases of influenza and one death were reported to the city health bureau today; Michael McKenna, 55, died at a hospital. There were 269 influenza cases officially reported in the city today.

RESIGNATION TENDERED BY MRS. F. CONKLE AS DEMONSTRATION AGENT

It became known today that following her tentative resignation some time ago of the position of home demonstration agent of Jackson county, Mrs. Florence York Conkle had sent in her formal resignation several days ago to Mrs. Jessie D. McComb, state leader of demonstration agents, at Corvallis.

The resignation becomes effective December 15, and her successor has not been selected, so far as known here, and probably will not be known until Mrs. McComb comes here next week.

The fact that Mrs. Conkle is relinquishing this position will be received with much surprise and regret among the women throughout the county, as during her nearly two years' service in that position she made many friends among them.

Florence York Conkle came here from Troy, Ohio, where she had been serving as home demonstration agent of Miami county of that state. She and Principal B. H. Conkle of the senior high school, were married in the early part of last September.

title, performed an operation on his majesty Wednesday, encouraged, perhaps, by the Prince of Wales on his return. A poisonous fluid was drawn from the base of the right lung and doctors announce that "further drainage will be necessary."

That "purulent fluid" has been poisoning and weakening the king's heart for days. The public clings to "signs of improvement" but with faint hope.

A negro boy, 16 years old, barricading himself in a Chicago flat, wounded eight policemen. Finally a police squad, protected by bullet-proof shields, invading the flat, tore the young fighter to death with lead. He was probably insane.

The individual's instinct of self-preservation protects human society as a whole. Each one wants to live, and fears to do anything that will end his life. When insanity, ambition, rage or jealousy wipe out the instinct of self-preservation a man becomes dangerous.

Bolivia calls her young men to arms, orders them into training to fight.

It is hard to keep men and nations from fighting when their minds are made up.

French newspapers rejoice that the League of Nations will intervene in the dispute between Paraguay and Bolivia.

The league, snubbed by Mussolini and others near home, might gain prestige if it could do something in America.

This country will approve anything that means peace instead of war.

But let us be thankful that the League of Nations can't come to North America to tell us what we must or must not do. And let's hope there won't be any world court or other kind to change that situation.
