TALENT FRIENDS MOURN DEATH OF MRS. H. S. GLEIM

TALENT, Dec. 21.—(Special)—Mrs. Frances Gleim passed away last Friday evening at her home on Warner creek. Mrs. Gleim was born in Iowa December 27, 1858, aged 71 years, 11 months and 17 days.

Mrs. Gleim was a woman of fine character and dearly beloved by all who knew her. She was active in church affairs, and an earnest worker in Red Cross work.

A few years ago she suffered a severe illness which left her a semi-invalid, through this trying period of her life she has always had a gentle and kind word for all who she came in contact with, showing such fortitude and courage that it causes one to wonder, Mrs. Gleim's early life was spent in Iowa, Illinois and Texas, moving to Oregon in 1910 and locating at their present home on Warner creek.

She is survived by her husband, Harry S. Gleim, two sons, Charles W. and Harry N., both of Talent, and four grandchildren. The funeral services were held at the family home on Warner creek on Monday afternoon, Rev. P. K. Hammond of the Episcopal church of Ashland officiating. Interment was held in the Sierra cemetery on Anderson creek.

Take No Chances With Flu and Grip; Check All Colds

Local People Warned of Danger in Neglecting Colds

While there is no cause for serious alarm over the flu, at the present time, health authorities say that extra precaution should be taken to check every cold at the very start.

The safe and effective way to do this is to rub the throat and chest at bedtime with Vicks VapoRub.

Vicks brings relief in two ways: (1) Its ingredients, vaporized by the warmth of the body, are inhaled and direct to the infected air-passages.

(2) It acts through the skin like a poultice, "drawing out" all tightness and pain.

Also sniff Vicks up the nose when going into crowded places. Many cases of flu start from germs being breathed in. Vicks will help keep the air-passages in condition to throw off these germ attacks.

Waiting for Santa

Mrs. Wesley Vogel spent Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. George Briscoe, at their home in Ashland.

INFLUENZA WAVE BELIEVED PASSED FOR TABLE ROCK

TABLE ROCK, Ore., Dec. 21.—(Special)—Many in this district have been suffering during the past few weeks with colds, grippe and flu, but it seems that the wave of sickness has about passed, as the school attendance is back to normal, and this is generally considered a very good gauge to judge the district by.

Although the flu epidemic has apparently about spent its force here, there are some who still feel its effects, but it is hoped that every one will have sufficiently recovered by Christmas time to have a good taste in their mouths and to possess enough of the Christmas spirit to enjoy the greatest holiday of the year.

Mrs. Lulu Penland of Medford is visiting relatives here prior to going to Southern California for the winter.

Playground equipment of steel and concrete construction has just lately been installed at the local school grounds.

Howard Mayfield, cattle man of the Central Point district was a recent business visitor here.

The annual sale of Christmas seals is being carried on by the school children here.

Con Devore, the Medford meat market proprietor, was a business visitor here Tuesday morning. Mr. Devore was in the Hoagie section Sunday, where he butchered the famous bull at the Frink ranch, which caused the death of Mr. Townsend a few days before.

Many car radiators are partially frozen these cold mornings, and it is a common sight to see clouds of steam following automobiles as they travel along the highways.

When men report that the dry, frosty weather is doing heavy damage to fall sown grain, which has been in some places to change color.

Since the cold spell there has been a marked increase in the demand for hay in this section, most of the demand coming from dairymen in neighboring districts.

A young shepherd dog, which had become lost from its owner, was found a few days ago in the west end of our district, with two heavy tin cans tied to its tail. Chancy Harper discovered the unfortunate dog's plight and removed the cans, afterward reporting the incident to your correspondent, who in turn will pay a liberal reward to anyone furnishing proof of who the guilty parties are.

The soliciting committee for the local Christmas tree funds report about the usual contributions, which will provide a fund of some $40, which will be ample to insure a generous supply of goodies for the kids and grown-ups alike.

The committee was composed of Mrs. Tuttle and Mrs. Schafer, who were assisted by Phil Gordon.

Mrs. Lora Gregory, who is head of the decorating committee, will have a crew of helpers at the school house Friday night when the tree and house will be dressed up with the usual holiday attire.

The other visiting committee report that their work will be completed in ample time for the big entertainment Monday night, which is a yearly feature in this district, and always draws a big crowd.

Mrs. Purcell and Miss Brown, who are in charge of the Christmas program, announces that some excellent numbers are being prepared by well known entertainers and that the program will begin promptly at eight o'clock, and Santa Claus will appear in person during the evening.

Adam Emig reports the loss of a fine young cow through being shot with bird shot during the pheasant season.

This cow was shot by careless hunters, who made their escape before Mr. Emig could get close enough to identify them.

Not only did Mr. Emig suffer the loss of the cow, but the time and worry of a month's treatment in trying to save her. At least one other like instance was reported locally this year and yet some people seem surprised at the attitude of farmers in regard to hunting on their premises.

Miss Alice Seabrook, who is attending the normal school at Ashland, returned home Friday to spend the holidays.

Donald Wilson from the U. of O. at Eugene and Evelyn Hamilton from O. A. C. at Corvallis are both expected to arrive during the next few days for the Christmas vacation.

My children despise eggs, yet they ought to have them

Delight them with this sugar, vanilla and milk egg-nog!

WE RECENTLY heard a mother say that her children simply despise eggs, and yet she knew how much her children needed eggs in their diet.

There are many adults also who do not like the taste of eggs. Not only that, but many people, both children and adults, who do like eggs tire of them rather quickly.

Here is a very simple recipe for an egg-nog so delicious that it will satisfy everybody and it is almost impossible to taste egg in it.

Beat the yolk separately and blend in two teaspoons of sugar, then add half a pint of milk and whip in the beaten egg white; add 1/2 teaspoon of vanilla and beat until frothy. This delicious blend may be varied by adding a tablespoon of chocolate syrup or a spoonful of ice cream.

This tasteful drink encourages an appetite for eggs and milk, both of which are such beneficial foods for children and adults. As every mother knows, it is absolutely necessary that her children have milk, and it is very important that they have eggs.

Note what a little sugar does for taste. Sugar is nature's ideal flavor. Sugar is not only nutriment in its most inexpensive form—it adds zest and enjoyment to nearly every healthful food that is known. There is no substitute for sugar in the daily diet. The Sugar Institute.
