The cold weather of the past week, with its fog and frost, has not been of benefit to radio reception, according to local fans, who report in some cases that it is even difficult to receive coast stations with the usual clarity. This condition is attributed to the aerial wires being covered with frost and in some cases causing short circuits with the ground. However, the frost also has its benefits, according to City Electrician Harry Hinabarger, who reported today that less street lights have been burning out, the frost preventing usual short circuits and preventing the lights from taking too much voltage.

SERVICE That Saves

SAVING STORES CHRISTMAS CANDY

Santford's Saving Stores are saving you money on every pound of candy you buy. Some other stores not being able to sell as cheap as Santfords undoubtedly will use the same old argument that our candy is so cheap it's no good. This is usually the argument the ordinary small store uses when they are unable to give you the cheap price you get at Santfords Saving Stores.

For this reason we want to tell you that every pound of candy we sell is made fresh each week in Portland—it's fresh, it's an Oregon product and it contains only pure cane sugar, chocolate, pure color and flavoring. How could candy be made better? How could better materials be used? When better candy is made, we will buy it for you because we know you want the best at a saving price.

NOTE—Prices quoted in this ad Do Not include Delivery Service—It is the price we charge you when you personally make your purchases at our store and take them with you.
