

BUSINESS WOMEN DECIDE TO HAVE VALENTINE DANCE

Ratification of the Kellogg peace pact, adoption of the local community chest, improvement of the Medford traffic situation, and support of the Near East Relief, were among the considerations to be disposed of favorably at the Business and Professional Women's club meeting at Hotel Medford last night.

The organization is to have a Valentine dance on February 14 for which Mrs. Clarbelle Elliott, president, appointed the following committee chairman: Mrs. Leota Thompson, general chairman; music, Miss Louise Fluhrer; Decorations, Mrs. Jacques Lennox; advertising, Miss Jeannette Butler; tickets, Margaret Morrison and social, Maud Lantz.

The Medford chapter of Business and Professional women's clubs, has won first place in the state federation in the point of personal research, was an announcement made by the president which elicited hearty applause from the members.

Margaret Huntoon Williamson, soloist, accompanied by Miss Mildred Knight, sang the three latest compositions of Miss Clara Edwards, who visited in Medford last summer. They were: "Yesterday," "Clementine" and "Lady Moon," each of which was enthusiastically received by her audience.

Fred McKeen, clever eccentric dancer, contributed a group of fifteen specialty numbers, which called forth considerable mirth as well as admiration. He was accompanied on the piano by Jana Karle, of Frank's Comedians. "New and Interesting Books to Read" were reviewed by Miss Fay Woolsey, city librarian, who chose from among the new fiction, poetry, art, music, biography and historical lists. Among the most interesting in the point of fiction, she said, is the book of best short stories collected by John Cournos. She also recommended Sarah Millan's "Coming of the Lord," Louis Untermeyer's "Moses" and Father Walsh's "Fall of the Russian Empire," which she claims is the most comprehensive and fascinating book on Russia written so far. "The City of the Sacred Well" is one on old Mexico, written by E. H. Thompson, which she also found worth while.

New Playhouse Reopens Friday

The new year will be ushered in to the new Playhouse theater, theatrically tomorrow night, opening night, and all during the month of January Frank's Comedians will offer to their patrons a bargain month of fun, with lower prices.

A lineup of brand new comedies and dramas will be offered. Mr. Frank, during his vacation, witnessed many plays that fit his cast, and leased them for production. The opening play is a fast-traveling comedy-drama, "For Cryin' Out Loud." The following week a comedy-drama of movieland, "A Hollywood Madonna," will be presented.

All amateurs who have signed for the contest will report Saturday at 2:30 at the theater, for rehearsal.

Honeymoon at Rialto Tomorrow

Those going through life with the matrimonial yoke and those still free of martial bliss are asked to witness the Rialto's next entertainment, "Honeymoon Flats," which open at two-day run tomorrow, with George Lewis and Doris Gulliver in the starring roles. It is an amusing and almost tragic story of a young husband who is trying to block the financial interference of his mother-in-law.

Lewis and Miss Gulliver will be remembered for their work in "The Collegians," in which they became one of the greatest romantic-comedy teams in the history of the screen.

JOINT CEREMONY ODD FELLOW AND REBEKAH LODGE

The officers for the semi-annual term of Medford Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges were placed in their respective stations at a joint installation ceremony last night which was a very picturesque and harmonizing affair. The installing was conducted by S. L. Bateman, as district deputy grand master and Carrie M. Rieckert as district deputy grand president, assisted by L. Demmer and Lona Bergman as marshals and other grand lodge representatives and received an intimate and careful preparation for their work. Many compliments were extended the installing teams.

There was a large attendance, all seating capacity being utilized, the men ranged on one side of the hall and the ladies on the other.

After the meeting all repaired to the banquet room and enjoyed a tasty repast served by an efficient committee.

INTENSE PROGRAM CENTENARY CALL SALVATION ARMY

With the new year the Salvation Army has embarked upon the concluding portion of the great Centenary call campaign as a program of intense evangelism in honor of the 100th anniversary of the birth of William Booth, its founder.

Throughout the 11 Pacific coast states and Hawaii, the area of the western territory, the Salvation Army, under the leadership of Commissioner Adam Gifford, will make special efforts to conclude the Centenary with an outpouring of religious zeal never before equaled by the army in the west.

"Our founder led the way in his passion for souls," state Evangeline Booth, commander of the United States forces, in a communication to America's Salvation Army leaders. "To him the souls of men were of incomparable and eternal value. He led the way in persistent indefatigable toil."

Every corps and outpost of the army in the west will hold special religious and revival services starting immediately, and western territorial headquarters at San Francisco is shaping up a number of intensive programs to be carried out on special designated dates including Washington's birthday; March 3, which will be Prison Sunday; the Commemoration Sunday, the Sunday preceding Founder's day, April 10. On Founder's day there will be open air meetings of special importance in each of the 222 corps of the territory.

JUNIOR HIGH P.-T. A. WILL MEET FRIDAY

The Junior High school Parent-Teacher association will meet Friday afternoon at three o'clock, at the school building.

Mr. Hedrick will be the principal speaker of the afternoon. He will discuss school matters with a special word of advice to mothers whose children will enter high school at the mid-year. Refreshments will be served.

Talking Comedy Hunt's Craterian

"Give and Take," the talking comedy special which opened at Hunt's Craterian this afternoon, touches one of the modern phases of business and shows the advantages and disadvantages of the system whereby employees share in the profits of the company for which they work.

The story concerns a fruit canning factory. The owner has built up his business step by step, bearing the entire responsibility of financing it. His son returns from college and feeling that he is a member of the firm and should demonstrate fair play to the employees, endeavors to put the business on a profit-sharing basis.

Jean Herholt plays the role of Blauer, owner of the factory and father of young Jack Bauer. George Sidney enacts the role of Kruger, lifelong friend of Bauer. George Lewis plays Jack Bauer and Sharon Lynn his sweetheart.

AL FRESCO TRIAL. LAST CRIME DUTY OF NEWT CHANEY

Among the pleasant reminiscences of form District Attorney Newton C. Chaney will be that of his last criminal case, which was tried out in the open, between Medford and Ashland.

It happened last Saturday, when the district attorney was on his way to Ashland to try the case of

State of Oregon vs. Sid Postel that Judge Roberts, in whose court the case was to be heard, was on his way to a funeral near Talent. So he called Mr. Chaney and Frank DeSouza, defense attorney, and asked them to meet him in front of the home of the deceased.

The two attorneys arrived, to find Judge Roberts waiting for them on the highway. Climbing onto a fence and looking as judicial as possible, the judge opened court and the hearing began. This was the last official case for the local prosecutor, whose term of office expired at midnight on Sunday.

GREENLEAF HEADS SANTA ROSA HIGH DRAMA ART CLASS

The many local friends of Wm. Lee Greenleaf will be interested to hear of his appointment as head of the department of dramatic art of the Santa Rosa High school. Mr. Greenleaf is regarded as one of the foremost Shakespearean actors in the west today and his many appearances in southern Oregon before civic clubs, schools and other local groups are recalled with much pleasure. Mr. Greenleaf also created a decided hit over the local radio station when he appeared on recent Copco programs presenting "Rip Van Winkle" and Dickens' "Christmas Carol." Mr. and Mrs. Greenleaf leave soon to take up their residence in Santa Rosa.

COPCO QUARTETTE PLEASURES ON KMED

An excellent radio program of a little different nature was broadcast last night over KMED by the California Oregon Power company, the bill consisting of numbers by the Copco concert quartet interspersed by pleasing solos by Miss Eleanor Curry.

The harmonious melody of the four quartet voices, in songs of the south, negro spirituals and other numbers, went out on the air and well provided a very satisfying hour's entertainment. The dainty little solos made a pleasing contrast to the heavier and deeper quartet songs.

Composing the quartet were D. E. Millard, first tenor; Marmie Olsen, second tenor; Chester Wendt, baritone; and John Kirkpatrick, bass. Miss Eleanor Curry, the soprano soloist, was accompanied by Miss Dorothy Baughman at the piano.

Canal Zone Invites. PANAMA, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The federated clubs of the Canal Zone has called the general federation of women's clubs at Washington, inviting the federation to hold its council next year at Panama. If the invitation is accepted it will be the first time in the history of the federation that the meeting has been held outside the United States.
