

PERMIT GIVEN BUILD PACKING PLANT IN CITY

Council Acts Favorably for Kimball Concern — Opposed By Planning Commission — Revised Fire Hall Bid Accepted.

The city council last night at a special meeting called by Mayor Pipes not only granted a permit, despite opposition from the city planning commission, to the Kimball Fruit company, Inc., to build a new $25,000 packing plant on North Fir street about opposite the Southern Pacific depot but accepted the revised bid of the Childers Bros., contractors, for the general construction of work on the new fire station building, rejected the plumbing and heating bids for that building and decided to re-advertise the latter bids.

The council also passed a resolution to heretofore co-operate with the city planning commission in an effort to improve the physical appearance of the packing house district.

It will be remembered that the bids submitted at last week's meeting of the council were not acted on because they exceeded the $30,000 bond issue voted for the new fire station and fire equipment. Since then Architect Frank Clark had been working with the bidders and making changes here and there in efforts to have the bids revised to come within the authorized bond issue expenditure, with the result that Childers Bros.' revised bid of $11,709, which was about $1200 less than their original bid, was accepted last night. However, the council still deemed the plumbing and heating bids as too high and will re-advertise.

The main objection of the city planning commission to granting the Kimball Fruit company a permit to build its new plant on Fir street opposite the depot was that this location was outside the warehouse zone, and also fear that it would be unsightly to passing tourists in that prominent location. This was explained by Larry Schade, president of the commission. For these reasons the commission at its meeting Monday refused to grant a permit.

After hearing explanations from Richard S. Kimball, son of Carl W. Kimball, owner of the company, and C. C. Darby, its local manager, that the new plant would be a very ornamental and modern one and that the company would exercise care in seeing that the new plant and its surroundings were clean and attractive at all times, the council granted the permit.

ager for the Southern Pacific railroad, who also attended the council meeting, said that the railroad company favored the plant's construction on this site, which the Southern Pacific owns, and stated further that the railroad company would like to see its entire right of way covered with fireproof warehouses and the like.

It will be no trouble to have the property owners in the zone vote for the change, as the Southern Pacific company owns most of the property in the zone.

was discussed. Thefts of range stock by rustlers using auto trucks and the efforts of stockmen to curb the evil were also discussed and steps taken to bring both matters before the coming session of the legislature.

A committee composed of H. D. Howell of Grants Pass, G. F. Billings of Ashland and R. Shopard of Rogue River was appointed to frame resolutions.

Successful dairying under irrigated conditions was discussed by Ray Brewster of Deschutes county, who declared that success in dairying is not limited to any breed and that personal preference is the best guide. The four fundamentals were given as breeding, feeding, testing and culling. Many practical suggestions on feeding and care of good cows were also given. A good Ladino clover pasture, under Deschutes county conditions, may carry as many as five cows to the acre.

Feeding Experience

Mr. Kay, also of Deschutes county, gave his experience in a system of feeding alfalfa hay in which the animals were "hayed" as many as seven times daily. A yearly average production of 440 pounds of butterfat from a good grade of Jersey, which also are fed grain in moderate quantity all year, bore out the idea that care pays.

Governor Patterson, on the program to present the medals to owners of this year's high producing herds. In a telegram read by Professor Brandt, stated press of legislative matters would prevent his presence at the convention. S. G. Simmons, first vice president, is ill and also unable to attend.

AUCTION OF BOOKS SETS NEW RECORD

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The auction of rare books for a total value of $274,952 at the Anderson galleries last night was believed by booksellers to have established a record for a single session of a book sale in this country.

The collection was the property of Jerome Kern, composer, and the greater part of the money was paid for 113 Dickens items. The three sessions of the Kern sale have brought $615,387 to date and it is believed the remaining seven will send the total far past the million dollar set before the auction began.

The highest price, and declared by booksellers to be a new world record, was $28,000 paid by Alwin J. Schouler for a "perfect" copy of Dickens' "Pickwick Papers" in parts. The Kern copy was bought in 1929 by Gabriel Wells, New York dealer, from the London firm of Henry Colver & Co. for $4500, the value of the books rising 800 per cent in about nine years.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO RICKARD PAID BY SILENT THROUGHS

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(AP)—With fully 19,000 persons silently looking on in the vast, somber-draped arena, the world of sports paid its final tribute to Tex Rickard today at the funeral services in Madison Square Garden.

The services were begun at 2 p. m. by the Rev. Caleb Moor, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, an hour after all doors had been closed to the general public by the police and admittance restricted only to those bearing special cards.

It was estimated that nearly 19,000 were standing around in Eighth avenue, 49th and 50th streets, the boundaries of the garden. Two hundred policemen controlled the crowd but it was necessary to halt all traffic on these streets. One hundred additional police were stationed inside the garden.

The great and the near great of the boxing game, the business and society worlds, associated with Rickard, sat with members of the family, garden staff and newspaper men in 1000 floor seats. The balconies were open to the public generally.

Rickard's body rested in its huge, silvered bronze casket surrounded by hundreds of floral tributes. One of the last to arrive, red roses, bore the card of the retired heavyweight champion, Gene Tunney, now in Switzerland.

On organ, especially installed for the services, played for a half-hour prior to opening the funeral services, and a quartet sang hymns.

MRS. LINDBERGH HAS TEMBLOR EXPERIENCE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of the trans-Atlantic flyer, experienced her first earthquake when a violent shock, accompanied by a terrifying subterranean roar occurred at Angora last night during a reception at the American embassy in her honor. No accident to life or property was reported. Mrs. Lindbergh has been teaching chemistry at the American college.

Tonight Ambassador and Mrs. Grew will give a dinner at the American legation in her honor. The guests will include the foreign minister and Madame Tewfik Ruchdi Bey and other prominent Turks.

The Turkish Aviation League, which is paying the host to Mrs. Lindbergh during her stay in Angora, is leaving nothing undone to honor her.

COLLAPSE OF BALCONY HURTS 30 CAGE FANS

GALESBURG, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—More than 30 persons were in hospitals today with injuries suffered when a balcony in the Knoxville high school gymnasium collapsed during a basketball game.

Although many were only cut and bruised, others suffered broken legs and arms in the accident that terminated the game between Knoxville and Abingdon last night. About 100 fans were in the balcony when one side gave way as they stamped their feet and cheered. It fell upon scores of spectators seated beneath and in falling scraped the control box of the electric light system from the wall, plunging the gym into darkness.
