

CLOSING OF MINT RECALLS GOLDEN DAYS OF NEVADA

CARSON CITY, Nev.—(AP) Silent, brooding, gray, the United States mint building here stands in massive silence as a reminder of the days of silver and Nevada's golden age of mining.

The treasury department of the United States has recommended its complete abandonment. For nearly two decades only two persons have employed the building—a secretary of the civil service commission and an assayer.

The recommendation for its abandonment includes omission of an appropriation for the assayer. The civil service office would move to the federal building a few blocks away, thus emptying the structure.

The building of the mint, starting in 1866, was heralded as an event of major importance and meant great prosperity to Carson City in those hectic days of Comstock lode. But mines do not yield precious metals forever and evil days fell upon mining in Nevada.

On September 24, 1866, the Masonic lodge of Carson City laid the cornerstone of the mint. From this cornerstone arose a large building, covering a block, constructed of granite from the state prison quarry.

It was opened in 1868 to receive ore and bullion from the Comstock and adjacent mines.

The Comstock, Silver City, Gold Hill, Dayton, Carson Creek and Placerville communities saw their names "piped out" and with that, a distribution of the mint ore until today the assayer has very little to do and the need for a mint has passed.

MID MONTH MEETING EAGLE POINT GRANGE CLOSED FOR PUBLIC

By Mrs. Gertrude Orp., Grange, Eagle Point, Ore., Jan. 21.—(Special)—A short time ago our by-laws were amended to make the mid-month meeting a closed meeting. This meeting has for some time back been an open meeting in charge of the lecturer.

However, the members have felt the real need of more than one business meeting a month, hence the above amendment.

Our first mid-month meeting was held on the 15th, and was a most interesting meeting.

The first and second degree work, which is composed almost entirely of young people, conferred these degrees on a class of twelve. The drill work was especially fine. And in this way the Grange can render a real and much needed service to the community.

In gathering the young people together and encouraging them to take an interest in at once entertaining and uplifting. Some older friends may feel that the young people do not take the beautiful lectures and essays as seriously as older people might, yet we know that some youngsters take things far more seriously than we are sometimes led to believe.

However, the impressions made upon their minds by the study of these beautiful thoughts must be salutary, and they in turn will come to realize that a wholesome influence must be made on the minds of those coming into the Grange, that they may from the beginning have a respect for the Grange, its principles and ideas. And so, in the words of Edwin Markham:

"We are blind until we see. That, in the human plan, Nothing is worth the making if it does not make the man. Why build these cities glorious if man unbuildeth them? In vain we build the world unless The builder also grows."

The lecture hour was most entertaining. A male quartette and a male duet pleased the audience, while a reading on "Philosophy in the Bible," by Mrs. Violet Spencer were both very interesting.

The legislative committee is prepared to keep in close touch with the business at the State House during this legislative session and with the help of the state Grange legislative committee, will carefully watch any proposed legislation which may be for or against the best interests of the farmer. The legislative committee of the various county Granges will work as a unit and a joint meeting will be held at the Pomona Grange at Talent on February 5.

Kellogg Products Popular in Medford

C. W. Spencer of Portland, representing the Seattle house of Kellogg's Corn Flake company, was in Medford and southern Oregon recently in the interests of his company and especially of Kellogg's All-Bran, one of the most popular and universally used products on the market.

Mr. Spencer not only called on the trade but installed window displays in the different stores. He reports Medford one of the best cities in his territory for the sale of Kellogg's products and that the sale of All-Bran increased materially during 1928, which is attributed to the influence of the advertising in the Mail Tribune.

WOMEN'S INFLUENCE BROUGHT REFINEMENT MODERN MOTOR CARS

"The automobile of today would be an excellent riding car, probably little more, had it not been for the undeniable influence of the woman to motor car design," says T. G. Jarward, general sales director of the Marmon Motor Car Co.

"Formerly, in fact, has been remarkable for its mechanical improvement and refinement in the comfort and appearance of the automobile.

"Probably the first improvement that can be attributed directly to the woman was the windshield, an invention which was unquestionably the result of the fashion of the period. Women of that time had a double vision, one directed at the 'horseless buggy ride' that left them with their eyelids closed and high-collared suffices wind-blown and torn. Hence, therefore, the automobile windshield.

"Countless other inventions followed to satisfy the dictates of the feminine sex. They were improvements made in comfort and lightness, for women demanded cars that were comfortable as well as attractive and finely appointed. They paid attention to mechanical improvements and what was the result? The hood mattered little as long as the hood was good-looking.

"The closed car, most assuredly was built so that the woman passenger could travel in comfort no matter what the weather.

"The first cars had to be cranked. When women became interested, however, motor cars had a woman found that the crank-starting crank would no longer do and the self-starter was invented. The chain drive was another feature eliminated because women did not like its noise or its looks and it was a hindrance to the four skirts of the time.

"Beauty of course, is the direct result of woman's desire for attractiveness in the automobile she must ride in and look at day after day. Many played a stellar and almost exclusive role in bringing about the low, graceful lines and curves of the highly-developed modern motor car.

"The woman of today has a different idea of days gone by was dictated to her and she demanded brighter and more beautiful colorings. Do shades therefore, dark, gray and more attractive exterior.

"One has but to look at the interiors of today's automobiles to realize the extent to which women have influenced and directed the destinies of the motor car. Inside, modern automobiles are as luxuriously furnished and tastefully adorned as a woman's own boudoir.

There are mirrors, side rails, foot rests, lights, notebooks, pencils, white and deep pockets, arm rests, window shades and even adjustable steering wheels, seats and pedals.
