Enthusiasm and gratification over the early completion of the remodeling program carried out in the senior high school auditorium, the debate coach and local faculty officials have decided to hold the first bi-intercollegiate debate, which was formerly scheduled at the junior high, in the senior high auditorium. This will be the contest next Wednesday, February 6, at 8 o'clock, between the Medford affirmative team and the Ashland negative team. The public is invited to attend and may take this opportunity to inspect the remodeled auditorium.

The high school auditorium, which was originally designed to serve both that purpose and that of a gymnasium, has been in the process of reconstruction for the past six weeks. Two class rooms have been built out of some of the surplus side space and a ceiling built over the stage so as to insure better acoustic effects. The auditorium now, according to reports, is ideally suited to stage production, public speaking and musical performances, will not be used as a gym.

JIM ALLEN NAMED OVER KNX RADIO

Listeners Medford and valley radio listeners who tuned in on KNX about 10 o'clock last night to hear the program from the Ambassador hotel, Los Angeles, by the Columbia Gray orchestra were surprised to hear the announcer say: "The first number on our program will be dedicated to James Arthur Allen, a devoted young author of Medford, Ore., who is visiting relatives here."

The writer referred to is A. C. Allen, J. C. former Medford high basketball star, familiarly known by his nickname of "Jim," who has his own short magazine story published and another accepted. Inasmuch as his father, who is the author of several books and some short stories writes under the pen name of Albert Cooper Allen, the son took the pen name of James Arthur Allen.

Jim left here about a week ago for Los Angeles on a business visit. No one here knows just how the above quotation came to be sent out over the radio, but his friends know the modest "Jim" had nothing to do with it.

LUMBER PRICES STIMULATE WORK

Since January 10th, when they inaugurated bargain prices on all kinds of building materials, the Medford Lumber company of this city has enjoyed a remarkable increase in business, which has necessitated augmenting the staff of that firm with additional employees, according to an announcement made today by J. H. Conroy and Mr. Andrews. The reduced prices were announced to stimulate the building of homes and other structures during the quiet season of the year when employment is so much in demand.

"It is seldom that the public is afforded such an opportunity to secure strictly up-to-the-minute high grade materials at such remarkable saving," Mr. Andrews said today.

BOY SCOUT EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE IN ROSEBURG

A conference of the scout executives of the southern Oregon was held Tuesday at Roseburg, with the Douglas-Cook council as hosts. Problems of troop administration, plans for anniversary week celebration, summer camp and council problems were discussed. Papers dealing with special scout work were read and followed by discussions of practical methods of putting suggestions into effect.

LOCAL DIARY HERD BRINGS HIGH PRICE

Fine bred dairy cattle gathered from various parts of Oregon by Hoover and Hanley and pastured this winter on the firm's winter blue grass, and which consisted of 42 head of Jerseys and Guernseys, after having gone thru tests for contagious abortion, cream yield and tuberculosis with perfect ratings, were sold this week at a very high price to the Dairy Cattle Dairy of Dixon, Calif., reported to possess the largest herd of accredited dairy cattle known.

The price is not made public, but is said to be the highest ever paid for Oregon cows. Pat Doyle of the Doyle dairy represented the dairy here in the sale of the stock, which was shipped at Dixon on Wednesday.

LOCAL ROTARIANS ASHLAND VISITORS

A group of local Rotarians attended yesterday's meeting of the Ashland Rotary club held at the Lathia Hotel and enjoyed an excellent program. Talks by Secretary Mosser, the new head of the Ashland chapter of commerce and Prof. Irving Vining were supplemented by a clever musical number by three girls of the Ashland high school, C. R. Bowman, former school executive of this city was in charge of the program. Among those who were present from Medford were Jack Carie, E. C. Corn, H. L. Bromley, Wm. Bolger and Al Hayden.

December, according to figures compiled at the city building department today. The month had a total of $33,335, of which $31,799 was listed for new buildings, as compared to $17,594 for December.

The largest permit of the month went to the Kimball Fruit company for the construction of a backing house on North Fir street while others were issued for the construction of dwellings and repairs.

Among the California people registered at Medford hotels are J. C. Sacher and daughter of Hollywood, Frank Grant of Covina, W. J. Wolf-der of Los Angeles and the following from San Francisco: P. M. Winchell, A. H. Miller, J. A. Micklas, Rex Alloway and R. W. Bolten.
