Mr. and Mrs. Worland and family have taken possession of the Clapp place in Bellview and three children have entered the school. The Worland family arrived here recently from an eastern state. Mrs. Clapp will be missed in this community as she was an active worker in the Parent-Teachers' association and had charge of the girls' sewing class.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Byrd, who recently purchased the landrout place, are busy clearing off some new land preparatory to planting alfalfa seed. Their children are attending the Bellview school.

Ernest Applegate of Dead Indian was in Ashland on business Wednesday.

The Bellview Parent-Teachers' association is planning a very interesting program for the regular meeting which occurs on Friday evening, February 15, at the school house. This is the anniversary of the P. T. A. and a program in keeping with the occasion will be rendered by the pupils of both the upper and lower grades.

Mrs. Geo. Helms and Mrs. Simpson are the hostesses for the evening and will serve refreshments consisting of Valentine cookies and other delicacies. Thursday afternoon a program was arranged by Mrs. McKinney and Norma Reeder, teachers of the Bellview school. The birthdays of the following noted men were observed at this time: Lincoln, Loperstlow, Edison and St. Valentine.

A Valentine box was prepared by the pupils in each room and at the close of the afternoon the Valentines were distributed. This was enjoyed by the parents and friends of the youngsters. The teachers in this school are planning to put on a play some time in March to secure funds for some playground equipment for the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Talbot were in Ashland Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robertson.

The Upper Valley Community club held its regular meeting in the club rooms Wednesday afternoon with about 20 ladies present. A very interesting meeting was held, at which time a report was heard from the various committees which were gathering information in regard to the making and printing of a book. After a discussion it was decided by the members to abandon the plan for the time being.

After the business of the meeting was completed a social hour with refreshments was enjoyed. The Valentine suggestions were carried out in table decorations, Valentines also served as a means of finding the proper partner to escort to the dining room.

Mrs. Hazel Merriman and Mrs. M. G. H. Taylor were hostesses for the afternoon. Mrs. Coffin and Mrs. Jones of Ashland, former residents and also members of the club, were present. Mrs. E. E. Robinson of Ashland was a guest of Mrs. Barnes. Mrs. Martha Frederick, who has been unable to attend the meetings, was also present. The ladies were glad to welcome her back to the flock.

On February 20 Mrs. Mabel Mack, home demonstration agent, will meet with the ladies to discuss kitchen arrangement and decoration. This promises to be a very interesting meeting.

Another drive of horses was shipped to Portland the first of the week by the cattlemen's association. This is the third bunch removed from the range. This movement was sponsored by the cattlemen so that more feed would be available for range cattle.

Mr. Cluckos, agent for the Balfour Guthrie company, was interviewing farmers in this vicinity the first of the week in regard to hay for the dairy stock on their farm. He reports that there is a shortage of good alfalfa hay.

G. M. Wilton was a business visitor in Bellview from his home at Shale City. He reports the roads in very bad condition.

It has been reported that Charles Lindsay of Dead Indian and Fred Henry of the Cove district have disposed of their timber.

Roy Taylor is getting his sawmill at Shale City ready for operations. He has his lumber already contracted for to parties at Hill, Cal.

Mr. Ciackas sold over a hundred head of hogs from the Balfour Guthrie farm to Virgil Chapman, owner of the East Side market in Ashland.

slightly improved at this time and it is hoped he will be out soon. The dance committee has everything in readiness for the Valentine dance to be given at the Community club house Friday evening. The Tucker orchestra will furnish old time dance music for the occasion. The ladies will serve cake and coffee during the evening.
