

NEWS of the DAY in PICTURES

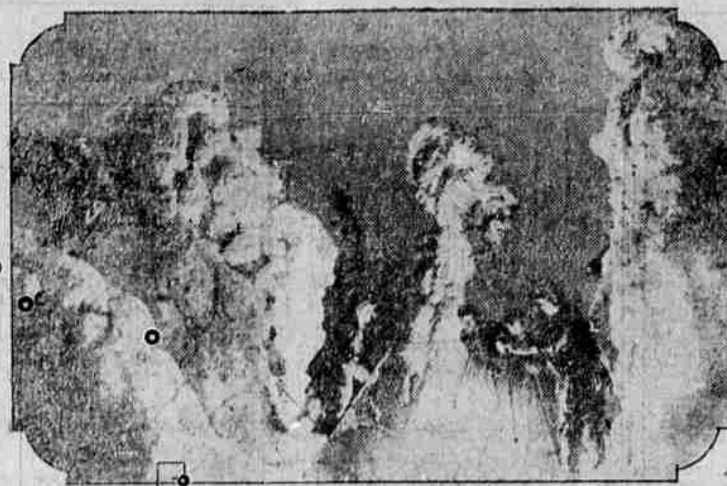

TOWERING LIKE A GIANT, the mighty ocean liner Leviath, an presents an unusual appearance in this picture, taken as she rested in the drydock at Boston for her semi-annual overhauling.

WIVES in America are badly spoiled, but American husbands are the best in the world—this startling conclusion was the parting greeting of Countess Marie Loschi of Rome as she sailed from San Francisco on the liner Sibetsu Maru after a tour of the United States.

GRANDSON and heir-apparent of the Gaekwar of Baroda, Shrimant Baharajikumar Singh Gaekwar, is shown here in the royal robes he wore on the occasion of his recent wedding to a princess of the Indian state of Kolhapur.

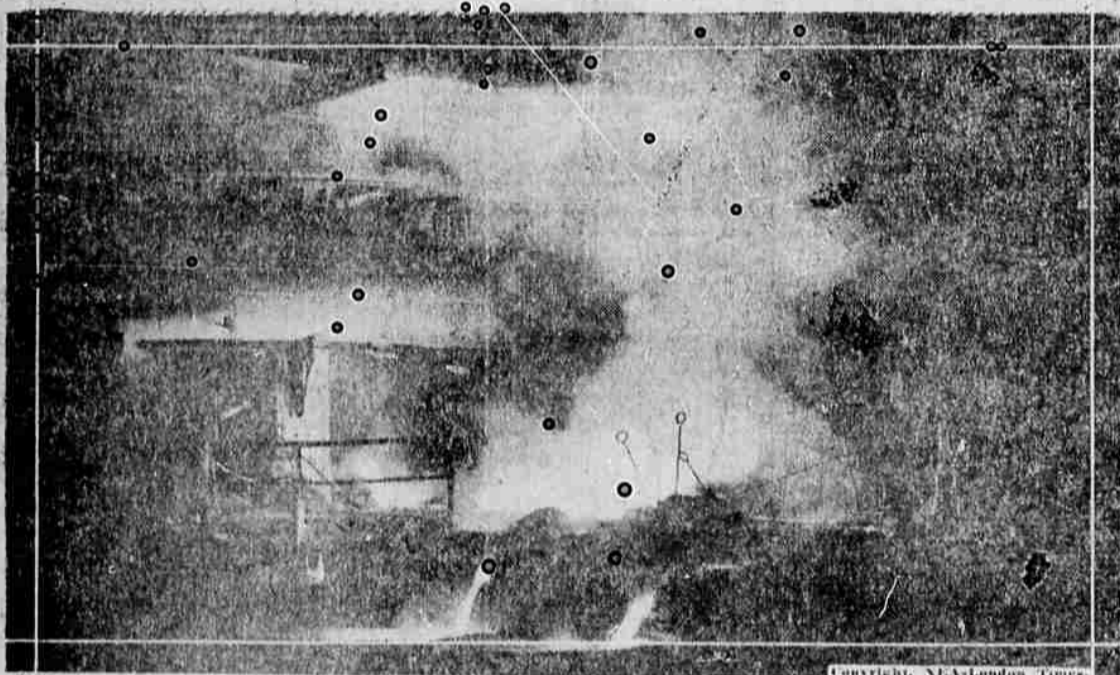

ALL THE WORLD IS WHITE AND SILENT WHERE THESE SOLDIERS DO THEIR DRILLING—for they're members of the German infantry performing winter maneuvers on skis in the Silesian mountains. At left a squad is shown making camp—note how the trees are encased almost solidly in snow. At the right a detachment is shown on the march.

THE DEER IN GLACIER PARK ARE WILD NO LONGER—because park rangers and tourists have fed them by hand so often. Here is a group of the supposedly shy animals who permitted Ranger Lorence to come within 10 feet of them to get their photo.

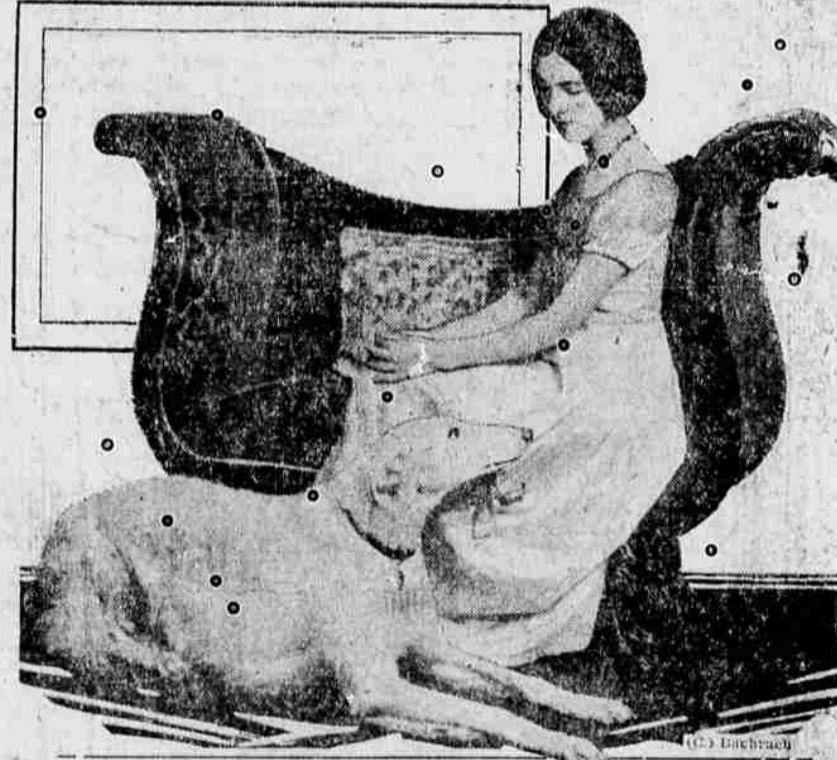

FROM THE RANKS OF THE EXTRAS, 17-year-old Loretta Young climbed so rapidly in the film world that this winter she was made a Wampas baby star. She's rated one of the youngest stars in the movies.

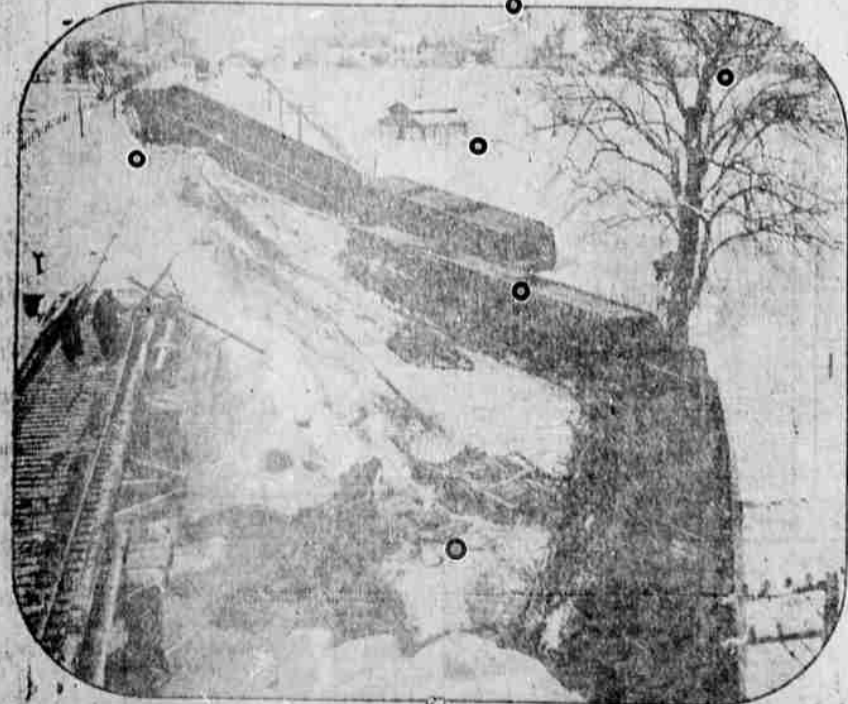

BLINDING WHITE LIGHTS AND JET BLACK SHADOWS STAND OUT in sharp contrast as molten metal is drawn from a blast furnace at midnight. This picture was taken in a furnace of the Ayrsoe Iron Works, Middlesborough, England.

HARD JOBS like this are the sort of things the movie actor must put up with—but Richard Barthelmess, shown here with Betty Compson in a scene from his latest picture, doesn't seem to mind it so much, at that.

POPULAR IN WASHINGTON SOCIETY is the charming Senorita Maria Hortensia Diaz de Medina, daughter of the minister from Bolivia. Diaz Medina, shown here with her favorite Russian wellhound, Nicholas.

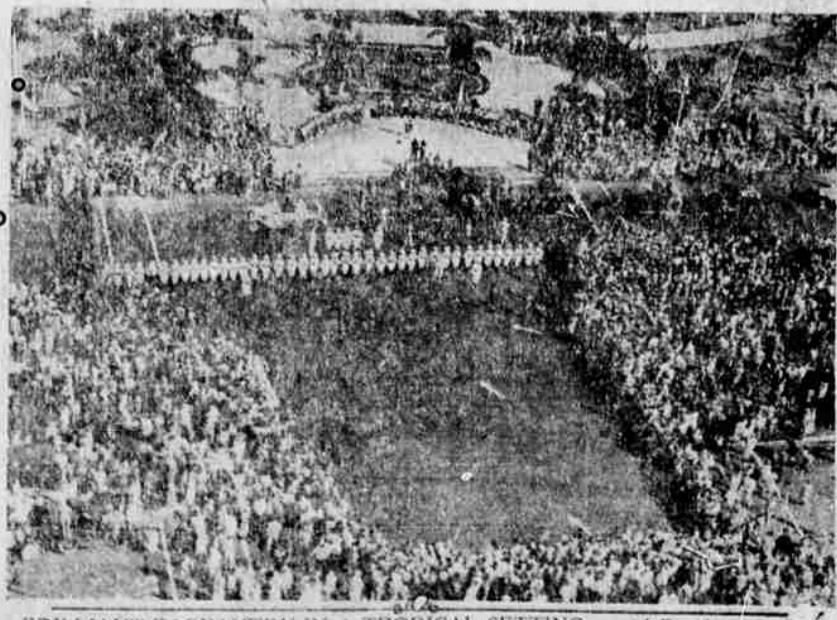

EIGHT EXPRESS CARS FELL ON THEIR SIDES and six more left the rails when a broken brakebeam wrecked a fast Chicago & Northwestern train south of Kewaskum, Wis. Main line traffic on the railroad from Milwaukee north was blocked for 12 hours.

PRETTY LENA MELINA of Berlin is Hollywood's latest recruit. The German film star is shown as she reached New York en route to the film capital.

GRAND PAIR of shoes is this worn by Margaret Joyce of Brooklyn at the Mid-Atlantic Shoe Retailers' Convention in Philadelphia. Studded with diamonds, they're priced at just $1000.

BRILLIANT PAGEANTRY IN A TROPICAL SETTING greeted President-elect Herbert Hoover when he arrived in Miami, Fla., for a brief rest prior to beginning his official duties. Here is an aerial view of the welcome in Bayfront Park. The Hoover car is in the upper center of the photo.