SOCIETY SHUNS TRAINING RINGS OF EVERGLADES

'Best People' May Be Present On February 27, But Patronage Withheld for Stribling Vaudeville and Sharkey Stunts.

By Edward J. Neill. Associated Press Sports Writer. MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Under blazing skies, in the heart of a winter playground of the rich, where society basks in royal fashion by the sea, two pugilists, incongruous in their surroundings, are making ready for the battle of the everglades. The fight arena on the night of February 27 will hold most of the "best people" of the city. Jack Dempsey, the man he made a millionaire, is luring them to the box offices with all the magnetism of the old master of the ring. The strong boy and his Georgia rival are getting along without the patronage of society and wealth, as far as their training periods are concerned. The small crowds which watch Sharkey in his training stunts in the sunny ring pitched beside the dog track Tex fashioned, are made up of the curious, the casual traveler who may not be here for the fight, and the orange-looking attendants who hover around all night camp. Society, for the most part, is neither talking nor thinking about Stribling Vaudeville. Stribling attracts an audience that would enjoy any vaudeville show in addition to a share of the fight, and the vaudeville comedian announces the attractions and contributes a running fire of jokes, while "Pa" Stribling does a balancing act with the boxer's two-year-old son. Despite all this, the heavyweight engagement Rickard planned as an advertisement for other ventures here, promises to net the Madison Square Garden corporation a handsome return. When William P. Carey, broad builder and vice-president of the Garden, took over promotion of the match with Jack Dempsey, he considered a loss of $100,000 a good investment in order to maintain the corporation's prestige. With the fight still a few days away, the match seems well on the way to $100,000 profit. Both Sharkey and Stribling are far along the road to perfect condition that they are in danger of overdoing. Stribling, boxing an average of once a week, has out to the south and southwest, is down to 185 pounds, as low as he has to go. Sharkey, with a hard-won victory over K. O. Christner just under his belt, is within two pounds of being ready at 194. He planned to schedule a rest today and Stribling will return from labor both today and tomorrow.

INDIANS REFUSE INAUCURAL BID

David W. Scott, right, chief of the Nez Perce tribe in Idaho has declined to march in the inaugural parade of Herbert Hoover, saying it is undignified to dress up in feathers and march before anybody, even the Great White Father. NO 'SEEDING' FOR BASKET TOURNAY, LEWIS MAY PLAY

Regarding the state basketball tourney the coming month, in which the Medford high school is practically assured of again representing this district, the Salem Capital-Journal of Salem says: "The drawings for position on the schedule of the state inter-scholastic basketball tournament which will be held here March 13, 14, 15 and 16 at Willamette university, will be held March 13 and the games run off in a manner very similar to that of last year, when the tournament proved such a success, according to Roy E. Cannon, secretary of the board of control of the State Athletic association. Mr. Cannon was in the city during the week and conferred with Coach Roy Keene and his assistants regarding the forthcoming tournament. "Three cups will be awarded this year, one to the winners, one to the runner-ups and the third to the victors in the consolation series. The question of 'seeding' the stronger teams, such as Medford, Washington and Salem was brought up but nothing definite done. It was the belief, however, that the same objections to this method will again prevail and the schedule will be allowed to stand as drawn by chance. "The association has taken the stand that they have no jurisdiction over Ed Lewis, the lanky center who was such a factor in Washington high school's wins last year. If he is declared eligible by the Washington school authorities, that settles the matter as far as the tournament is concerned, providing, of course, that the Colonials win the title in Portland. "The teams to represent the different districts will not be known much before the fore part of March, with some exceptions. A great many of the districts hold tournaments to decide who will make the trip to Salem."

SPEED CAR DOES 80 IN LOW GEAR WITH 3 ENGINES

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., (AP)—A gear ratio that would enable Major H. O. D. Serravallo to attain a speed of 81 miles an hour before shifting from first to second gear and a speed of nearly 170 miles an hour before shifting from second to high gear is one of the features of the powerful "Golden Arrow" machine which the British race driver brings here in March seeking a new world's speed record. The car is described as being bright golden in color with slim, wind-cutting lines incorporated for reduction of resistance. It follows to a marked extent the outline of the fuselage of the famous super-marine 8-5 airplane with which Flight Lieutenant Webster of England won the Schneider cup trophy for England in 1927 with a speed of 281 miles an hour. The hood of the car has three streamlined bulges to make room for the three blocks of the 12-cylinder motor, and these project farwise from the crankcase. The driving power, which is conveyed to each rear wheel independently, is produced through a multi-plate clutch and a three-forward speed gear box. To prevent airplane powerful springs have been used in the clutch to place a load of more than 1 1/2 tons on the plates, pressing them together. Located centrally in the car is the steering gear, which controls each front wheel through a separate mechanism, there being no rod between the two wheels. To aid the driver in steering at such a high speed a streamlined projection has been installed at the front of the car, which is directly in line with a back sight immediately in front of the driver, following out the idea of the front and rear sights on a gun. The car, which weighs approximately 2 1/2 tons, is equipped with internal expanding brakes on each of the four wheels. The wheel base is 13 feet four inches. The car stands three feet nine inches high and has an outside width of six feet four inches, although the actual width of the body is much less. The overall length is 26 feet, with a ground clearance of seven inches. Major Serravallo is expected to arrive in this country about February 15 and proceed directly to Daytona Beach for the speed trials to be held March 1 to 15 under the direction of the American Automobile association with city officials acting as sponsors.

GRID RULE MAKES FUMBLE DEAD AT RECOVERY POINT

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Adoption of a radical new gridiron rule, making fumbled balls dead at the point of recovery, when recovered by the defensive team, was announced today by the national football rules committee as the chief result of a two-day secret session. The committee's decision, which approves a recommendation having the widespread support of football coaches, was made public by W. S. Lamford, secretary. "The new rule," said a formal statement, "will not apply in case of forward passing nor to backward passes which are intercepted before striking the ground, nor will it apply to blocked kicks which will be played as heretofore."

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 18.—(AP) Hundreds of men and women enjoying winter sports in the Burgenland region today were terrified by the sudden appearance of wolves driven out of the forests by hunters. BRIDE USES KNIFE IN TRIVIAL SPAT

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—(AP) A bride of seven months plunged a butcher knife into the breast of her husband early yesterday and then ran screaming for help, that he might not die. Monte Tenness, H. a power in a syndicate for dissemination of race track information, had quarreled with his 19-year-old wife over "practically nothing." "Mont and I had gone to a party at a friend's," Mrs. Tenness told police, "and I guess we had too many drinks. When we got home early yesterday morning we started to quarrel. "I insisted that we retire and Mont said, 'won't.' He sat down and began to read. We quarreled some more and I ran to the kitchen, got a butcher knife and rushed at Mont."

For the DORMANT SPRAY— use S-W Dry Lime Sulfur

This modern insecticide is the best all round orchard spray that chemical science has developed. It is especially recommended for the control of San Jose Scale and Blister Mite, and is enjoyed everywhere by horticulturists and practical orchardists.

S-W Dry Lime Sulfur is effective and economical when used according to our recommendations.

Jessie M. Minor, Prof. Mt. Sunset Orchard, Medford, says: "I advised in our letter to you of October 28th, 1926, we used your Dry Lime Sulfur for the control of San Jose Scale during that year and we were very well pleased with the results. We used your Dry Lime Sulfur again in 1927 at the rate of 60 pounds to 200 gallons and our experience of the previous year was repeated. The material is much easier to handle, with less waste than the liquid."

Why punish yourself with the many disagreeable features of Liquid Lime Sulfur when you can buy a 33° Baume test Lime Sulfur in dry form, eliminating the high trucking cost, excess weight, extra cost of handling leaky barrels, and other objectionable features of Liquid Lime Sulfur.

GONE ARE THE DAYS

... When windows were sealed tight in sickrooms "to keep out night air"... when we "fed a cold and starved a fever".... when hot applications consisted of:

- HOT BRICKS—that often gave warm surprises...
- HOT IRONS—that made us anxious to get well at once—
- HOT WATER BOTTLES—that leaked on critical occasions.

A revival of even the fittest was sometimes necessary after a "hot application" in the "Gay Nineties."
