It appears as if Chris Gottlieb and Fuji will meet next Tuesday night in their big game of the city billiard tournament, following the delay in week. The former became subject to a severe cold last Tuesday and is just now recovering. Chris recognizes a dangerous player in Fuji and is more appreciative of the fact since Fuji one day this week made an average of ten points an inning, almost big-champion style. Upon the close of this tournament, a three-cushion tournament will be played and will probably include eight or ten entrants.
