Phoenix hands rogue river 35-18 defeat. Phoenix won from Itonga River last night in a one-sided contest, 35 to 18. This game practically decided the county championship among the second class schools.

A capacity house thoroughly enjoyed the fine work of the Phoenix quintet. Phoenix has one concert game yet to play, with Central Point, Friday, March 1. This should prove to be no obstacle in winning the championship.

Tuesday, February 26, Phoenix plays the Ashland high school football game at Phoenix. The local fans are looking forward with interest to this contest. Large crowds are expected at both the Ashland and Central Point games.

Herb Alfard's versatile orchestra will contribute a number of late and original song hits at the American Legion meeting to be held in the Armory Monday night, beginning at 7:30.

This meeting which promises to be one of the most interesting to date, has been planned by the Main Street merchants, Maurice Leonard, chairman, Roland Hubbard, Bob Strang and Wilfred Miksche.

In addition to the orchestra selections, Leland Brophy will give his famous "Silent Hunter" concert drama, to which he has been given a considerable pathos since the last rendition.

These and other features, yet unannounced, will more than repay the local organization for its large turnout, expected Monday night.

ZERO HOUR NEAR IN SALE CONTEST BOYS AND GIRLS

Approaching the zero hour, the junior sales contest which has absorbed the interest of all southern Oregon for the last two weeks, finds 20 or more boys and girls in a last minute drive to place among the first eight cash prize winners, which will be awarded to the eight highest in sales of Golden West coffee. Heetic, accurately describes the scene at the Jackson Hotel. Each and every order caused a shifting in the standings, the contestants were so closely grouped.

Friday night, marking the 8th day of the contest and the night before the closing date, found a newcomer in the lead displacing Jessie Offord and Woodrow Reich, former leaders in the person of Dick Sleight. Dick was off to a rather slow start, but is furnishing plenty of finishing fireworks.

Asil Walker, another live-wire has been pulling a Garrison finish and Friday night found him second, within hailing distance of first. Woodrow Reich, probably the most consistent worker of all the junior salesmen was in the third spot, not many pounds under the leader and just a few pounds ahead of Jessie Offord, in fourth. Lou Dodson and Albert Randall were tied in the fifth bracket with little Dorothy Tedrick gaining steadily in sixth position. Myron Fleas was seventh, followed by Rachel Fry, eighth, John Millard, ninth, and Don Anderson in the tenth place on the board.

Keen competition also developed for the ninth day's gold star award, Dick Sleight, Asil Walker and Woodrow Reich furnishing most of the noise. Dick finally won the honor with an extra dollar by five pounds of coffee.

The final contest winners will be announced in the Sunday Mail Tribune and also the exact place and time of the big pay day the extra show will be given. At the theater party all commission books and all prizes will be awarded the junior salesmen, and a brief talk will be made regarding a future contest. The present contest is sponsored by the Mail Tribune and Golden West coffee.

"Abie's Irish Rose" Opens Here Monday

"Abie's Irish Rose" is now a movie. The world's most successful play the play which ran on Broadway, New York, for more than five years, has been translated to the screen, and is scheduled to open at Hunt's Craterian theater on Monday with sound synchronization and voice.

The story of "Abie's Irish Rose," which was written and originally produced by Anne Nichols, is one of tremendous theme. It tells of the love of a Jewish lad for an Irish girl, and how they overcome the intolerance of their orthodox parents.

According to Miss Nichols, who personally supervised the filming of her "Abie," love makes the world go round, and it can conquer all odds.

"I have taken a popular situation," she says, "and about the intolerance and racial hatred, we find here and there in our lives I have woven a love story that is full of entertainment.

"Abie's Irish Rose" is not a farce comedy, nor is it a heavy drama. It is a cross between the two, a cross section of life itself, told in a series of dramatic scenes, to which a touch of comedy lightness has been added occasionally.

POACHING CHARGE AGAINST ASHLAND MAN DISMISSED

The alleged deer head found on the little ranch of Anton Ring south of Ashland, which occasioned his arrest by Deputy Game Warden Roy Parr Tuesday afternoon, was a calf's head, which he had purchased at a butcher shop for his sick dog, was the testimony of the man, who refused to plead guilty when brought into justice court the same day.

His refusal to plead guilty prompted the court officials to set the date of his trial for yesterday afternoon. But the case was dismissed for lack of evidence against him, according to the Ashland Justice.

Anton Ring is a well known cougar hunter, and is said by his friends to have killed enough of these animals to have saved the lives of numerous deer in Jackson county during the past few years.

WOULD-BE GROOM FINDS OREGON HAS CUPID HURDLE TOO

"Well, that's a new wrinkle," said a prospective California bridegroom when he applied for a marriage license at the county clerk's office this forenoon and learned the Oregon law demands a medical certificate from the groom. He first had become somewhat confused when the bride-to-be suggested that the accompany him thinking that a certificate was also demanded of women.

How was sent to Dr. Emily Bolcom of the county health unit, but upon finding her absent he hurried to reach the closest doctor on Central avenue.

He is not the only one to go through the same procedure, as the majority of the Californians apply here for licenses without certificates, it is said by members of the clerk's office staff. This has been especially true since California passed the "gin marriage law," providing that intentions to marry must be published three days before issuance of the license.
