

FILM PATRONS IN APPREHENSION AS LAURA IN DANGER

ROTARY IDEAL IS GOLDEN RULE AS BUSINESS ETHICS

"Look Out, Laura!" fairly shrieked in terror and apprehension a woman in the audience during one of the performances at the Hiato theater last evening at Laura La Plante, the leading lady. "Yes do!" came a feminine chorus of somewhat less excited but just as apprehensive and terrorized women and girls, all of which illustrates that "The Last Warning," now showing at that theater afternoon and evening until Thursday, is one of the best comedy mystery films ever seen here, and makes even the men folks gasp and shudder at times.

To all persons who enjoy an exceptionally well acted and fascinating play filled with surprises and the mysterious from beginning to end, mixed with comedy, and which is not solved until the very end, "The Last Warning" furnishes a delightful evening.

And what a cast of stars and prominent film players! This cast is in itself surprising. Who would ever dream of Mack Swain, the huge comedian who became nationally famous in the Charley Chaplin and other comedies, and Bert Roach, another comedian of note, playing heavy parts when such deep eyed, hated film scoundrels as Roy DeArce, the man with a perpetual alien face, swarthy grin, and Montagu Love, whose equally sarcastic smile is just as hated, are in the cast.

We must dress here for fear of spilling the beans, but among other featured players in this nerve racking film are Burr Mitchell, John Bole, Slim Summerville, Chas. K. French, Fred Kelsey, Tom O'Brien and Harry Northrup.

A gang used to rouse volunteer fire fighters at Millport, Ala., for a quarter of a century, sounded recently after a 20-year silence. A house caught fire.

The principles of Rotary, as applied to business, means nothing more than a serious consideration of the Golden Rule, according to Henry Manny, beloved ex-governor of Oregon, who was the guest and principal speaker at a meeting of the local organization this noon.

Mr. Manny gave illustrations of the expansion and development of certain lines of business, in various parts of the country, which found their source in the simple principles of giving service. Mr. Manny has been a Rotarian since 1909, and for the past 12 years has never missed a meeting.

Dr. W. E. Lantis, the newest baby Rotarian was formerly introduced to the club and given the organization's code of ethics by Former District Governor Manny.

The musical program for the day was furnished by Burle Thornton, and Darrel Hughson, two students of Wilson Waite, who played the cornet and musical saw, respectively, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. H. C. Corn.

The first number was "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," a cornet solo, "Mother Macree," a musical saw solo, and two short duets.

It looks like business again. Above is a group of the New York Giants limbering up with the medicine ball at San Antonio. NINE DEPUTIES IN FIELD WORK WITH ASSESSOR OFFICE

The deputy assessors began their work of appraising the goods and chattels of Jackson county yesterday morning, after receiving instructions and preparing data under the direction of Assessor J. B. Coleman last Friday and Saturday. There are nine deputy assessors, one each for the cities of Medford and Ashland. The remainder of the county is divided into seven divisions.

According to the assessor, the country districts are the most difficult and Saturday the poorest day of the week for assessing. A large per cent of the people in the country are in town that day and a large per cent of the townspeople are in the country that day. Saturday will probably be used to check up on the week and strike a balance.

Another of the difficulties that besets a deputy assessor is to find the man of the house at home. Last year a deputy assessor would make a trip of 25 or 30 miles, only to learn that the man of the place would not return until tomorrow. Upon the morning the deputy would make the long trip at a cost of $6 or $7 to the county to receive the information that he had "left half an hour ago, and will not be back until tomorrow." After three or four failures of this nature, the deputy generally stays on the place until, like the Canadian mounted police, he gets his man.

This practice, in a different form, is also the vogue in the cities and towns, many home owners feeling that failure to answer the doorbell will thwart the assessor. But here, also the deputy, like the Israelites, "scarcely get in country" and finally accomplishes his purpose.

Constipation is almost sure to be the result and physicians agree that for a real trouble starter constipation stands near the head of the list.

If you use laxatives regularly there's something wrong. That "something" can perhaps be remedied by your physician through simple advice regarding diet and exercise.

Whatever its cause may be, he will locate it and if you follow his advice carefully the trouble will probably be permanently corrected.

Your physician can be of immense help to you if you will consult him oftener, rather than as a last resort to be tried after your own ideas of treatment have failed.

RADIO LISTENERS CLEAN HAPPINESS IN DX RECEPTION

CLARK COMPLETES ROOF REMODELING PLAN FOR TEMPLE

The magic of the radio brought happiness and wonder to local folks the past week.

Miss Margaret Ames and sisters Sunday morning, rambling thru the ether about three o'clock, made contact with the leading radio stations of Japan—Tokyo, Nagasaki, and a Korean station. The reception was clear and strong and in the Japanese language. The Misses Ames telephoned Mr. and Mrs. John I. Kado, well known local Japanese residents, and they came to the Ames home, and announcements, and were highly pleased to hear the voices of their native land.

A member of the diet (Japanese legislature) made a speech; there was a report on the condition of the rice crop, stock market reports and the information that Y. Tachibana had thrown M. Kikuchi with a flying mare, after wrestling since Saturday noon.

L. Murray, 85 years old, father-in-law of H. L. Harvey, insurance adjuster, all his life a follower of political happenings, also found rapt pleasure in the radio. From 7:30 o'clock in the morning until the close, he listened to the inaugural of Herbert Hoover, and marvelled at the wonders wrought by modern science. He listened in the word of the reception, and was gratified beyond words. Mr. Murray recalls the inauguration of the president for more than half a century, and this was the crowning event.

Plans have been completed by Frank C. Clark, architect, for the remodeling of the Old Fellowship hall on Sixth street between Grape and Holly streets, entailing an expenditure of about $5000. Bids for the work will be opened Friday night, and the work will be started at once, to be completed by May 1, in time for use during the state meet of the Old Fellows here during that month.

The front of the building will be moved out five feet, to the street line, eliminating the jog therein. The lower floor will be arranged to suit tenants.

The ladies' parlor and ante room on the second floor will be remodeled and enlarged, as will the banquet room on the third floor. The present stairway to the third floor will be widened to four feet, and afford a direct entrance to the lounge room, which will be left at its present size.

The front of the building will be finished in pressed brick, laid in the Dutch cross band style, with plenty of windows, and giving the structure an imposing appearance.

ELKS WILL ELECT THURSDAY NIGHT

There will be another big outpouring of members of the Elks lodge next Thursday night, for it is not only the night of the annual election of officers, but a class of 16 candidates will be initiated immediately following the election, with some very very special initiatory work, and then the night will be topped off with a big feed in the basement.

The installation of the new officers will be held the first Thursday night in April.

As to the doings relating to the initiation of that class of 16, gossip is unobscurely silent, other than the circulation of the word among the members that if they are not present they will miss the time of their lives.

ROBINSON LEADS SENATE MINORITY

WASHINGTON, March 5.—(P)—Senator Robinson of Arkansas was re-elected by the Democratic caucus today to be the minority leader in the senate during the next congress.

Senator Walsh of Montana was chosen assistant minority leader; Senator Sheppard of Texas, the Family without sickness for years.... mother tells secret

"I'm so grateful to LIFEBOUOY and its wonderful antiseptic lather," says Mrs. J. H. Doerres.

Mrs. Doerres is only one of millions of mothers who know this simple Lifebuoy way to guard family health. Her interesting letter is typical of many written us.

A safeguard your family needs

As a careful mother, could you deny your family such an effective means of health protection? It's a simple safeguard—yet very important. For hands can't escape germs. Every day we must touch things which others may have left germladen—such as telephones, money, car straps. The Life Extension Institute lists 27 germ diseases that hands may spread.

Why, then, take chances when Lifebuoy's mild and abundant antiseptic lather removes germs? Keeps skin fresh and clear, too, prevents winter chapping.

Your family has to wash with some toilet soap anyway, so why not use Lifebuoy which gives added health protection—at no extra cost. You'll quickly learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant extra-clean scent which tells you it purifies. It vanishes as you rinse. Adopt Lifebuoy as your regular toilet soap today.
