George J. Stevens of Portland has become associated in the management of Kiser's, Inc., studio in Grants Pass. Mr. Stevens is to devote his time to active management of the business of the concern, allowing Fred H. Kiser to devote his entire time to the production department. By this arrangement, Mr. Kiser will be able to have a supply of pictures on hand for the tourist season as well as to fill a number of orders received recently. Mr. Kiser returned a few days ago from a business trip through California, where he made contracts with a large number of stores to carry the product of the local studio, and found that the tourist business this year will probably exceed that of any previous year.—Grants Pass Courier.

HUNT'S CRATERIAN

ONLY TWO DAYS LEFT TODAY AND SATURDAY

Medford, Oregon, March 8, 1929.

Mr. Geo. A. Hunt, Hunt's Craterian, Medford, Oregon.

Dear Mr. Hunt:

You are to be congratulated on being able to secure the picture now playing at your theatre with Fannie Brice, the world's greatest comedienne, in the stellar role of "My Man." I saw this picture some two months ago in Seattle, and I have never seen a picture I enjoyed as much as "My Man." Miss Brice has a way of her own of putting her song into the curtain till the end, your interest never drops behind. You laugh at her antics when she sings "In my opinion" on one of the tables in the costume shop where she works. Her recitation of "Mrs. Cohen at the Beach" gives you more laughs than the cartoons of the Toonerville Folks. You are touched by the feeling she portrays singing "My Man" on the eve of her wedding.

This picture played Seattle for eight consecutive weeks to packed houses at each performance. So popular was it that they were compelled to have a morning matinee starting at 11 and on Sundays at 9 a. m.

The Vitaphone is the biggest feature that makes this picture an outstanding success of the year, and my advice is: Don't miss this picture, "My Man." Very truly yours,

(Miss) Helen Millard

"THE HOME OF BREAD LIKE MOTHER MADE"

GOOD EGGS

With the coming of spring more care is required in the handling of eggs in order to assure their goodness—

During the heavy laying season there is always a surplus of eggs—and to assure their freshness when delivered to you they must be candled—We employ our own expert candler and every egg is guaranteed to be good; and also to be strictly fresh.

This is just another example of the care we take to fully assure you "that it costs no more to be sure of quality."
