JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., wins his fight in the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and Colonel Stewart is defeated.

There have been few more bitter fights in the history of high finance.

On Tuesday, John H. Perry, learned editor of Reading, Pa., Jacksonville, Fla., and other places, predicting the Indiana result, said:

"It is hard to fight dollars. In fact, you can't do it."

He added as an afterthought: "It is absolutely impossible to fight dollars when they happen to be right."

Colonel Coblenz, of San Francisco and New York, remarked:

"To the victor belong the spoils."

Colonel Stewart, bidding farewell to Standard Oil of Indiana, and probably preparing to run some other big oil company, had the satisfaction of reporting financial success for 1928.

In the last year Standard Oil of Indiana has earned more than eighty million dollars profit, or 16.76 per cent on its capital. Earnings of the company increased more than fifty millions, as compared with 1927.

President Hoover, who summons the extra session of Congress to meet on April 15, is not an emotional man, but must have been moved on writing the words, "Now, therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim, declare, etc."

After you have done farm chores as a small boy there must be considerable satisfaction in writing, "Now, therefore, I, President."

On April 15 farmers will have their day and Congress will tell them, if it can, how to put a disorganized industry on a substantial, paying basis.

No manufacturer could make his plant pay if he had to close down all winter. The farmer must do that, and it is part of the problem.

Henry Ford's plan to expedite farming operations with more farm machinery and build factories in which the farmer can work in winter time might help.

Leaving his house Thursday morning for his old law office, where he worked for several hours, Mr. Coolidge may have said, like the bride and groom, "Alone at last."

At his front door there was not a photographer in sight, not a reporter to ask how he had slept, how he planned to earn a living. That has not happened in a long time.

M'NARY TO HAVE PLAN FOR RELIEF

Oregon Senator Calls On Hoover Regarding Farm Action—Both Branches of Congress to Present Legislation at Special Session—Only Week Needed.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—The legislative program of the coming special congressional session and the question whether farm relief legislation should originate in the house or senate was placed before President Hoover today by leaders of both branches of congress.

Chairman McNary, of the senate agricultural committee, and Chairman Snell of the house rules committee, called at the White House to ascertain Mr. Hoover's views and it developed that both house and senate propose to have a farm bill ready for consideration when the special session convenes on April 15.

Chairman Snell said that as drawn up at present the legislative program of the house is, first of all, farm relief, then the tariff, and later, if a measure is passed by the senate, congressional reorganization. He predicted that the house would dispose of farm relief within a week.

Chairman McNary said he expected his committee also to have a farm bill drawn up by the beginning of the special session and he predicted, too, that his branch of congress could dispose of it in a week.

LINDY RETURNS WITH AIR MAIL FROM MEXICO

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, March 9.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh flew over Brownsville at 1:30 p. m. and the wheels of his plane touched the ground at the Brownsville municipal airport at 1:34 p. m.

His flight was made in fast time from Mexico City in inaugurating the Mexico City-Brownsville air line. He carried the first official air mail ever flown northward to the United States from Mexico City.

Lindbergh made a perfect landing as vast throngs at the airport cheered and crowded to obtain a glimpse of man or plane.

In the ship with him was a group of Mexican government officials.

Despite the overcast sky, he arrived on time. The crowd at the field was said to have been one of the largest ever gathered here for a celebration.

POSTERS TO TELL EVILS OF LIQUOR

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—Posters, suitably illustrated, will tell of the evils of the liquor traffic and the benefits of prohibition, as seen by the government.

Commissioner Dorn of the prohibition bureau has decided that an advertising campaign by the government will aid law enforcement and specimens of posters carrying appropriate sentiments are in the hands of a committee of the national conference of organizations supporting the 18th amendment. They will report recommendations to Mr. Dorn.

Fifty thousand dollars for educational purposes was made available to the prohibition bureau by a bill passed at the last congress and this will be used in the poster campaign.

CHICAGO, March 9.—(AP)—Wine, women and the music of taxicab meters have been drawn into the investigation of the Chicago sanitary district's payroll scandal, with the seizure of records belonging to an auto service company.

Notes and bills taken by state's attorneys in their raid on the Central Auto Service company yesterday bore such items as, vanity cases, powder, women, whiskey and checker, etc., indicating, prosecutors said, that certain employees and trustees of the sanitary district made much whoopee at public expense.

One bill indicated a four-day automobile tour, which cost $2200 and included such items as: One case of whiskey, $300; Beer, $150; Vanity case and powder, $95; Ginger ale, $35; T. J. Crowe, $400; Five women, $150; T. J. Crowe was president of the sanitary district at the time the alleged payroll grafting took place.

Prosecutors are before a grand jury seeking indictments against certain sanitary district attaches.

In setting forth the position of the Associated Press in regard to the radio allocations, Kent Cooper, its general manager, through Milton Garber, his executive assistant, has presented a statement to the commission in which he cited 1250 newspapers of the country as Associated Press members and said "We confidently believe the commission will find that it can consistently take care of the needs of such an important press association effort."

SALEM DEFEAT SURPRISE FOR LOCAL FANDOM

Chemawa Indians to Represent Seventh District in Hoop Tourney—Tillamook, Astoria, Washington and Medford Leaders.

SALEM, Ore., March 9.—(AP)—Although Salem high school registered two victories over the Indians earlier in the season, the basketball players of the Chemawa school will represent the seventh district at the annual state interscholastic tournament which will be held here next week, by virtue of their 26 to 21 defeat over the locals Friday night in the deciding game of the district series.

Decidedly off form all during the two days' series of games, the Salem shooting ability and general work was of a mediocre character Friday night. And while the locals were milling about, taking long shots and missing set-ups, the Indians consistently followed their fast passing system. Their shots from the corners of the floor featured their scoring attack.

Chemawa went after the locals with determination right from the start and scored 40 points while Salem was gathering two, both on foul shots. Salem's scoring was considerably better during the second quarter, which ended with the score, Chemawa, 15; Salem, 9.

Salem began to creep up on the Indians during the third period and the score at the end of the third quarter was Chemawa, 23; Salem, 19. Bob Kelly counted on one of his long shots to make it 23-21. Bravagale then added one to Chemawa's count with a free shot. Stegmund followed shortly after with a nice one from under the basket and Salem was one point behind. For a while it looked as if Salem might win out, but in the next scramble which ensued during the final two minutes, Chemawa played a cool game with George Fox center, going down the center of the court for the final two points.

The unexpected defeat of the Salem high school basketball team last night by Chemawa, 26 to 23, came as a surprise to local basketball fans. It removes from the state meet, a sturdy rival of the Medford squad and cuts the leading contenders to four, Astoria, Tillamook, Washington High of Portland, and Medford.

The Chemawa team is no great slacker at basket shooting, according to all reports, but is faster than greased lightning in their floor work. They played Salem twice during the season, and their inability to hit the hoop gave Salem the victory.

The Salem team has been a tourney contender for years, and was never out of luck in the drawings. One year it bordered on the miraculous. This was the year Medford played more games in a day than Salem did the entire meet.

The Salem team is an important cog in the tournament finances, as their appearance brings the student body of Salem to the games. This year their team will probably turn its rooting for the team that plays Chemawa, Medford and Salem have been athletic rivals for years, but Salem has lacked Medford to win, when not contenders themselves.

The Medford team will leave for the tournament Tuesday, reaching Salem that evening and will spend Wednesday resting after a short workout on the Willamette University floor.

Each tourney team is allowed tight players, and the Medford representation tentatively, is as follows: Al Melvin, William Bowman, and Charles Thomas, forwards; Fred McDonald and Harold Pierson, centers; William Moore, Clifford Garnett, and Harold Anderson, guards.

DOUBLE DEALING SANDINO LEADER SHOT BY PATROL

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Native papers today said General Manuel Maria Jimen, former Sandino insurgent leader, who has been in the custody of marines for the last month, had been executed by members of the Nicaraguan volunteer constabulary.

Jimen accompanied a volunteer patrol, promising to lead it into a location where he said the insurgent leader, Augustin Sandino, could be captured. Instead, members of the patrol found he was leading them into ambush.

The leader of the volunteers placed Jimen under arrest, tried him by court martial, and ordered him shot.

O'Neill has been abroad for a year. He is now in France after a trip through the Orient in which his attempts at secrecy attracted attention.

O'Neill's first marriage, to Kathleen Jennings, ended in a divorce in 1912. His present wife was Mrs. Agnes Boulton Barton when they were married in 1918. They have two children.

INCOME TAX IS SIGNED TODAY BY PATTERSON

SALEM, Ore., Mar. 9.—(AP)—The house income tax bill, the intangibles tax bill and the excise tax bill were signed today by Governor Patterson.

These three bills are the three big revenue bills passed by the 1929 legislature. The excise and the intangibles measures came directly from the property tax relief commission. The income tax bill was a result of conferences representing various elements after two other income tax bills had been introduced. These were withdrawn in favor of the bill that passed. The revenue measure is effective in 1930.

WEST AND OLCOTT AT FUNERAL AGED PORTLAND CHINESE

PORTLAND, March 9.—(AP)—The body of Toy Quo, pauper, aged 100 years, today rested in the Chinese section of Lincoln Memorial Park here, and not in a pauper's grave.

Toy Quo, peddler, philosopher, philanthropist, died Sunday in the county hospital. Funeral services were held yesterday and attended by many prominent in Portland's civic life, including two former governors, Oswald West and Ben W. Olcott.

For 30 years Toy Quo peddled flowers, cigarettes and philosophies on Salem streets. Then he moved to Portland and for 20 years followed the same pursuit. Of the earnings of 50 years he kept only enough to feed and cheaply clothe himself.

The rest he gave to those who had less than he.

WILL PUT PAY CASE THRU USUAL COURT

SALEM, Ore., Mar. 9.—(AP)—W. Jones' complaint in the case against Secretary of State Bass and State Treasurer Kay, to prevent payment to members of the recent legislature of $5 a day expense money, today advised Custer E. Ross, his attorney, to have the case go through the usual channels, and he heard first in circuit court before Judge McMahon.

CAPITAL IS OBJECTIVE OF REBELS

Mexican Revolutionists Announce Drive On Mexico City to Be Made Soon—Gil Forces Gather for Northern Blow—Former President Calles Takes Lead of Army.

(By the Associated Press)
 Former President Calles himself took the field against the rebels today at the head of one of the largest armies collected in Mexico since the Sanchez Villa rebellion in 1915.

Definitely crushing the insurgent movement in the south the government was putting its full strength in the field toward the north and a possibly decisive battle was expected in the region of Torreon.

Federal forces estimated at 18,000 were concentrating at Irapuato ready to move on Calles, Zacatecas, where several thousand insurgents were gathered. To the north, at Torreon, was General Escobar, commander-in-chief of the rebels.

General Almazan, loyal federal commander, reached Saltillo and has asked for artillery, presumably to bombard Torreon if necessary.

While the federals were pouring northward, the revolutionists announced that a drive on Mexico City would be made immediately. General Montero, insurgent representative in New York declared that two main bodies of insurgents numbering 30,000 were moving southward.

General Almazan, loyal federal commander, reached Saltillo and has asked for artillery, presumably to bombard Torreon if necessary.

Will Rogers Says:

NEW YORK, March 9.—All I know is just what I read today in the papers. Mr. Coolidge took the dog out. The cabinet had its first meeting, and Vice-President Curtis introduced Hoover to the members.

There is no end to that fellow Curtis' acquaintances. Say, that Rockefeller-Stewart thing certainly ought to be a lesson to us all. Never go up against a Rockefeller when he's got an oil can in his hand.

It took a war in Mexico to rim Lindy and Annie off the front page. Yours, WILL ROGERS.
