

NINE DELEGATES FROM COUNTY AT HEALTH MEETING

(By Mrs. L. E. Schuler)

More than 100 delegates and citizens, representatives from 27 towns and 17 counties of the state, met at Salem at the fourteenth meeting of the State Tuberculosis association, the first time in the history of the organization the meeting has been held outside of Portland.

Prominent men and women interested in the prevention of tuberculosis and in the public health movement were present.

Interesting and encouraging statistics showing the decrease in the menacing disease in the state were brought out. No longer is the death rate from tuberculosis the greatest of the dread diseases. It stands now far down the list, the first disease in death toll annually being organic heart disease, which is alarmingly increasing due to our rapid method of living, the second being cancer, also becoming more prevalent, and the third pneumonia, researchers believe it is not generally recognized as a communicable disease. Then follow apoplexy and neuritis.

However, many problems still present themselves in the effort to combat tuberculosis, one of the greatest being the unwillingness of the diseased to be known as such and another the carelessness often shown in his relation to others—sputum, discharge, etc. While the greatest number contracting the disease is around the ages from 15 to 25, it is a mistake to believe that older people are not also susceptible. Anyone suffering a cold, influenza or bronchitis, in order to be dangerously near tuberculosis, the germs of which may be lying dormant ready to spread. And there is positively no 100 per cent remedy or cure for tuberculosis outside of diet, sunshine and fresh air.

Many people have died in the attempt to be treated by a sure and quick cure. There are between 30 and 40 types of the disease.

Tuberculosis is almost always a house or indoor infection and is rarely or never caught outdoors where the sunlight—our best disinfectant—kills the germ. Thus the great danger of tuberculosis lies in poorly ventilated places such as shops, factories, sleeping places and dirty dwellings which have become infected with the germ by the careless spitting and sneezing habits of sick people.

It is almost entirely through the sputum that the germ reaches other people. Many people who think they have only a "bad cold" are in reality coughing up tubercular germs to be blown about, or ground under foot, inhaled by other people and may be finally lodged in the lungs. And it is to educate everyone with colds or coughs to be careful in their coughing that is one of the aims of the association.

While many virulent diseases strike older people, tuberculosis takes its greatest toll during the age of most productivity, and that time of life upon which others are most dependent.

The dominant note of the meetings was education, not legislation, education to be well, not prevention of disease.

The state superintendent of schools, Mr. Howard, in his talk, urged the linking of education with active life. Dr. Bellinger, superintendent and medical director of the State Tuberculosis hospital, stressed the education of health rather than compulsion to prevent disease. The county superintendent of Marion county demands of all new teachers some training in health hygiene.

Miss Carlton, president of the Jackson County Health unit, gave the best and most encouraging report of work done by individual units. Jackson county ranks next to Marion county, which is first in the scope and accomplishment of the health program.

Jackson county was represented by nine delegates: Mrs. Greene, chairman of the education committee; Mrs. Perry Crawford, Jackson county publicity chairman; Miss Glover, county nurse; Dr. Baleon, county doctor; Mrs. Wilcox, chairman of Phoenix unit; Miss Coolidge, teacher of health at Ashland Normal; and Mrs. L. E. Schuler, publicity chairman of Medford unit.

Essex Coach Goes Over Top

Driven by Hugo Lange of the local Hudson-Essex agency a stock model Essex coach negotiated a steep incline 25 feet long with grade of more than 25 per cent last week in the Siskiyou Heights section of the city.

A demonstration of a stock model Essex coach last week by Hugo Lange, vice-president of the Hudson-Essex motor company, brought forth striking examples of its power in hill climbing tests, the machine coming to a gradual stop in the latter test. In testing its system of brakes, the car reached the speed of 25 miles per hour in seven seconds, after shifting through all three gears and the same speed in 12 seconds from a dead-stop in high gear.

"I do not believe," said Mr. Lange yesterday afternoon, "that there is a car which can equal the Essex Challenge for the same price and I am willing to challenge any make on the market. I, as well as Mr. Armstrong, president of the local company, will be pleased to demonstrate the new to the Jacksonville country who are interested at any time."

In tests of its brakes, the car was stopped in 20 feet from a speed of 30 miles an hour, sliding the tires somewhat and in 120 feet from a speed of 64 miles an hour, the machine coming to a gradual stop in the latter test. In testing its system of brakes, the car reached the speed of 25 miles per hour in seven seconds, after shifting through all three gears and the same speed in 12 seconds from a dead-stop in high gear.

The steep Jacksonville hill was easily climbed in high using the old road, providing one of the steepest hills in the valley. Mr. Lange was forced to hold the speed of the car to approximately 30 miles per hour to negotiate the numerous curves, some of a degree of the local company, will be pleased to demonstrate the new to the Jacksonville country who are interested at any time.

SPARROW DENIES PLANS ON FIRE FOR COURT HOUSE

The rumors that have been in circulation in the city and elsewhere through the county for weeks past, that definite plans are under way by the county court for the construction of the new county court house, have no foundation, according to County Judge Alex Sparrow, so far as can be learned a site has not even been chosen.

Judge Sparrow stated that not only have no plans for a new court house been made, but that none would be as far as the near future is concerned. The present new city hall structure was turned over to the county to use for a court house for five years, and can be used for several years yet, according to the agreement with the city. Hence there is no urgent rush at present to build the new court house, it is said.

Yet rumors look up frequently as to plans for an immediate construction, and that this and that site had been chosen.
