

BLUE AND WHITE GOLF TEAMS WILL MEET ON SUNDAY

A tournament between approximately 84 players of the Rogue Valley Golf club, divided between sides to be known as the "Blues" and "Whites," will be played Sunday.

The play will be in foursomes and it has been the attempt of the tournament committee to pair experienced players with less familiar golfers.

The regulars are expected to arrange for appearance of their playing partners and also get in touch with opponents.

Clubs will be available for any members not supplied.

Any player whose name does not appear on the list of pairings, is eligible to play Sunday and should see the club professional, Jack Hueston as soon as possible.

CHAMBER PUBLICATION IS OFF PRESS TODAY

The March number of the Medford Chamber, official publication of the local Chamber of Commerce, was off the press today, and will be distributed among the members of that body tomorrow. The leading article in the number is devoted to a forecast of the March forum meeting of the chamber, to be held in conjunction with the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs at the Hotel Medford next Wednesday evening. All the talks of which will be broadcast by KMED. Naturally much space is devoted to aviation matters, especially the coming election on the question of a new airport, April 2nd, and the importance of the people voting for it. There are also articles on the dirigible base site, the cham-

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK, March 15.—(AP)—A broad buying movement in today's stock market was temporarily checked by profit taking, but speculators for the advance quickly regained control of the price movement and bid up a wide assortment of issues to new high records. Trading showed a further expansion in volume, blocks of 5000 to 35,000 shares appearing on the tape at frequent intervals throughout the day.

ers a two point lead by ending both of them. Garnett fouled Ingram as he came into the basket, but the lad from eastern Oregon missed one of them.

Medford's shots went wild, all of the members having a chance under the basket, but failing to count.

Ward took Gibson's shot off the boards and put The Dalles in the lead with a nice shot at 12 to 11. It was said before the game that The Dalles overshoot themselves in yesterday's game, but the little lads, all of them smaller than the Medford players, were making it plenty tough.

The pace was too fast for the boys to last and it was expected the Medford stamina would count in the long run.

Robinson committed his third foul of the game, but Bowerman, who had just gone into the game, missed.

Gibson went down fast and made a nice one to put The Dalles three points ahead, but Bowerman came through with one to make the score stand 14 to 13 for The Dalles.

These little lads from the northern part of the state were fighting like demons and giving Medford very little chance under the basket.

Ingram added further to The Dalles count when he converted as the half ended, making the score The Dalles, 16; Medford 12.

Second Half. Gibson, "The Dalles" man yesterday, was being watched carefully, but Ingram took advantage of this and went down fast to do the heavy part of the scoring.

"Red" McDonald was likewise being closely checked, three men watching him part of the time, and Melvin's sickness made him incapable of seizing the golden opportunity.

The Medford captain had made but three foul shots up to this point.

Third Quarter. Melvin shot from the side of the floor, hit the rim and rolled off, but McDonald put it in.

The Dalles team were not following up shots, being content to shoot and prepare their defense for McDonald.

The Dalles scored their first basket of the second half when Gibson made a long one.

The game had been one of the most hectic of the series, Melvin, clutching the entire Dalles team, dribbled down under the basket nicely, but missed.

Morgan, however, was there, and he converted. Bowerman took the tipoff and added another two points.

The score was Medford, 23; The Dalles, 18, as the easterners called time out.

Medford showed a flashy offense and defense, and it appeared to be but a question of how big the score would be.

Callison's team had a 13-point lead and he eased the boys off.

Ingram cut the lead to 11 when he shot a nice one. Gibson took the ball away from McDonald, and the Medford pivot man fouled him in the act. The versatile little Dalles man scored the free chance.

"Red" went in again to make the score, 25 to 22. The game was "red hot" thru-out and both teams were tired. The Dalles especially.

McDonald scored again. He was just hitting his stride and had converted three nice shots in the second half to go a long way toward changing the tide of battle.

Pieron fouled Gibson, but he missed the chance as the game ended.

The final score: Medford, 27; The Dalles, 23.

Piggly-Wiggly Store Official Visits Medford

Jack Althouse of Portland, assistant District Manager G. O. Hatch of the Northwest Piggly Wiggly Stores, is in Medford in connection with the local store, managed by T. J. Hampson.

This company recently took over 25 stores in Oregon, and will open 30 new stores this year in different parts of the state.

They have, besides the Medford store, two stores in Klamath Falls and one at Grants Pass.

Mr. Althouse says the company looks forward to a very prosperous year, especially in southern Oregon.
