

FIRST SESSION OF STATE D. A. R. ON TOMORROW

Vanguard of 100 Visiting Delegates Arrive Today—Many Prominent Women to Attend—State Board to Meet This Evening.

The Hotel Medford, headquarters for the D. A. R. state convention opening here tomorrow was the scene of bustling activity today when delegates from various parts of the state continued to arrive throughout the morning and afternoon. More than 100 visiting delegates are expected to attend the local meeting and participate in the full schedule of activities.

Mrs. E. E. Apperson of McMinnville, state regent of the organization, and a prominent personality in D. A. R. circles for the past 10 years, is expected to arrive some time late this afternoon, as is Mrs. I. L. Patterson, wife of the governor, who is chairman of the Champoux Memorial committee, Mrs. C. G. Smith of Portland state historian and other well known officials.

The local convention headquarters, which will be used for the entire three days of the session has been made attractive with the flags and significant decorations and trophies, and the city has taken on a pre-convention atmosphere since early this morning. Local merchants have taken occasion to decorate their places of business, and flags and streamers decorate the main streets in the downtown section, as well as the front windows of many local residences.

Preparatory to tomorrow's opening program, the state board of 25 members will meet in special session at the Hotel Medford tonight, according to Mrs. G. O. D'Albini, local regent, who with her committee, spending the greater part of today, welcoming the visitors.

Local residents and patriotic civic organizations are extended a special invitation to attend any or all of the meetings held during the convention period, and enjoy the talks and entertainment features arranged.

URGE ORCHARDISTS TO HURRY TESTS OF THERMOMETERS

Good news for the fruit growers of the Rogue River valley brought back from Washington state by Floyd Young, the fruit expert, who arrived here yesterday from a visit of a week or so in the Wenatchee and Yakima fruit sections, is that those sections, which had a bumper fruit crop last year, will have a 25 per cent pear crop this year, especially of Delicats.

This is important, in view of the fact that the pear fruit belts of Washington are coming more into competition with the Rogue River valley fruit than the California pear sections.

The big thing here now, Mr. Young says, is for all orchardists, who have not yet done so, to hurry their thermometers into the county agent's office for testing. He and Roy Rogers, his assistant, are here to do their part, but they complete frost warning program will necessarily be held back until all the thermometers have been tested and the smudge pots placed in the orchards. Already a number of orchardists have placed their smudge pots.

HAVANA, March 20.—(P) Five young society women in the suburban town of Sagua La Grande have died from burns received while taking part in a tableau at a fashionable dancing club Sunday night.

COUNCIL FORBIDS ROLLER SKATING ON SHORT NOTICE

The city councilman and mayor, after passing an ordinance last night forbidding roller skating in the streets of Medford, with an emergency clause that puts the measure into effect at once, as a protection to the youth of the city, then got busy at preparing an ordinance to protect the flower beds and gardens of the city from dogs running at large, and following much discussion of the subject, they deemed this matter of sufficient importance to be passed at a special council session to be held next Tuesday evening.

The new illuminated sign ordinance to prevent blanketing of signs, and an ordinance to lower the license fee for boxing and wrestling exhibitions will also be acted on at the coming special meeting.

Roller skating by the children and older boys and girls on the streets and sidewalks had become such a nuisance to traffic and a menace to the limbs and lives of the skaters, that the situation had become alarming, hence the passage of the ordinance. The new municipal law does not forbid skating on the sidewalks, but forbids it in any street. By the terms of the ordinance, when a skater wants to cross a street he or she must remove the skates and walk across. The penalty for violation of this ordinance is a $5 fine.

Unless the skaters are very careful in their movements from now on, the ordinance is liable to be amended to forbid skating on the sidewalks.

The dogs at large nuisance, tearing up freshly made flower beds and gardens and upsetting garbage pails, has caused Mayor A. W. Pipes and the police to be flooded with protests from angry citizens for weeks past. Then, too, there seems to be an unusual number of dogs, both home and stray canines, running about all sections of the city. Councilman E. M. Wilson said he saw six dogs on his lawn the other morning.

The unanimous decision of the mayor and councilmen was that the dog ordinance requiring licenses and the confining of dogs on their home premises during the spring months should be amended and strictly enforced. In fact, the sentiment was for a general spring cleanup of stray dogs. It was also the sentiment that the time for the dog ordinance to go into effect should be made earlier, March 15 by the latest.

It was finally decided to have the present dog ordinance revamped by the city attorney to include needed reforms and acted on at a special meeting Tuesday night, and enforced vigorously.

The humane society is considering making a tentative proposition to the city council to handle the dog nuisance question in co-operation with the police, and provide a suitable place for keeping all captured dogs until they are either claimed or killed by some humane method, for $1000 a year—that is, that the city government guarantee to pay up to $1000 annually if needed. This proposition will probably be formally made by the society and acted upon by the council at the special meeting.

The council also favored a proposition to make a uniform license fee of $15 for boxing or wrestling exhibits, instead of charging a maximum fee of $30, as the present ordinance requires, and making all organizations pay that fee, be it any fraternal or civic body, theater or professional promoter.

As it has been for some time past while the license fee by ordinance is $30, permits for wrestling and boxing exhibitions where admission was charged had been issued for much less—sort of spotted like.

The matter was brought to the attention of the council by W. E. Morris, member of the city boxing commission, who asked that the license fee of $30 be much lowered, to say $15, and that price for a permit be charged to individuals or organizations promoting such contests.

Mr. Morris also brought up the question of where a wrestler or boxer loses his head and strikes the referee, being thereafter deprived of his share of the purse—he wanted to know if such procedure was decided on by the city boxing commission, whether the council would back up the commission. Mayor Pipes and the councilmen declared that the matter was in the hands of the boxing commission, that the latter body could make its own rules, and that the city council would back the commission.

It was decided to have the city attorney revamp the wrestling and boxing exhibition fee, to make such fee $15 instead of $30, and that the council would also act on this ordinance next Tuesday night.

The new tentative illuminated sign ordinance prepared by the city planning commission to prevent the blanketing of such signs in the business district, and handed to the city council at its last meeting for study and passage, had its first reading last night, and after discussion it was voted to have the city attorney dress the ordinance into legal shape for further consideration and passage, probably at the special meeting Tuesday night.

An ordinance which had been prepared by the fire committee of the city council, providing for the removal or reconstruction of dangerous and old buildings was passed by the council, and much routine business was also transacted.

JAZZ SINGER'S CAR HITS PEDESTRIAN

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—(P) —Al Jolson was a sad singer today because his automobile ran down Leo Kinn, 36 years of age, breaking his leg and several of his teeth.

The accident occurred last night as the "Mammy" singer and Jack Conway, motion picture director, were being driven by Jolson's chauffeur along Sunset boulevard.

The comedian picked the injured man in his car and sped to Central Police station, thence to a hospital. After Kinn had been treated, Jolson announced that he would have him removed to the Hollywood Hospital and would pay for his care. Kinn said he was a sign painter and motion picture actor.
