A new Reo Flying Cloud the Mate

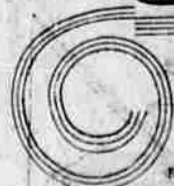

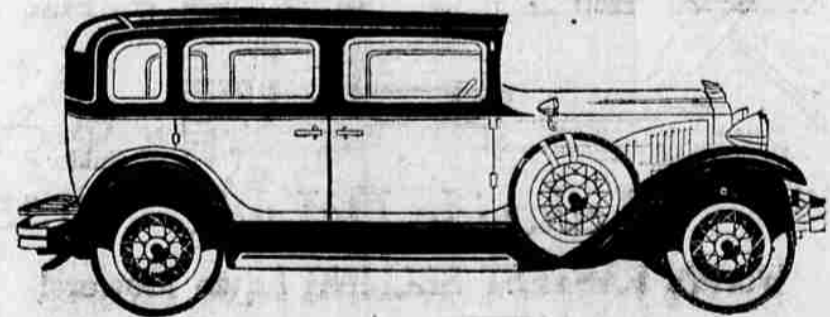

Different, but not too different—the requisite of good fashion.

Reo is readily distinguished from all other cars by its distinctive new wave line that accentuates the graceful contour of the fore-fenders.

A modish car, well proportioned, built for swift motion. And, of course, the same fine car, mechanically that Reo has always been.

Now you can have a Reo Flying Cloud at a lower price than ever before.

OTTO KING GIVEN HEAVY SENTENCE ON STILL CHARGE

Another example that liquor law violators may expect little leniency when they appear before Circuit Judge H. D. Norton was shown this forenoon when Otto King, arrested last month by officers for the possession of a moonshine still, was sentenced to serve one year in the state penitentiary and fined $500. The sentence might have been more severe had it not been for King's wife and small daughter, these facts being taken into consideration before sentence was passed.

King, also known as "Hattling King," a boxer, entered a plea of guilty in circuit court early this week, following plans to have a trial. He had been under the surveillance of officers some time before he was arrested at the same time a dismantled still was seized at his home on Benson street, where a quantity of moonshine was also seized.

Several character witnesses, including George Porter, Verne Marshall and George Browne, testified in behalf of King, who, before sentence was passed, also spoke in his own behalf. Facts of the raid were given on the witness stand by Chief of Police McCredie.

King's wife, accompanied by her little daughter, broke into tears following the sentence and left the court room sobbing.

In passing sentence, Judge Norton declared possession of a still implied operation, making possible a source of supply for bootleggers selling moonshine to the retail trade. He indicated the only proper way to quell liquor violations is to strike the source—eliminate the maker from further production.

GRAND LODGE SESSION IN MEDFORD NEXT MAY TO BE BIG GATHERING

A choice bit of publicity is given Medford in the current issue of the Pacific Oddfellow, monthly magazine published by the I. O. O. F. grand lodge, on the cover page of which is an air view of the business section of Medford, where the grand lodge will hold its annual session during the month of May. The issue includes several interesting articles on the convention and tells of preliminary plans so far.

In regard to the convention, the magazine says:

This far we have been unable to get the full list of committees from the grand lodge city, but in a letter dated February 25, A. B. Williams, secretary of the local lodge there, and also chairman of the publicity committee, informs us that the program is in the making. He says, "We expect to have the usual routine of proceedings and in addition a series of pleasure excursions. The Chamber of Commerce has promised us its heartiest co-operation and we expect the business men to respond splendidly in making the city attractive. We will have adequate quarters for all the proceedings and will have a live committee to arrange for accommodations of all who may attend."

There will be the usual schedule of official gatherings, the department committee and ladies' auxiliary meeting on Monday, May 20; grand encampment and Rebekahs meeting the next day, and grand lodge proper convening the 22nd.

Frank E. Reiden is general chairman and Anna J. Bateman, secretary.

IT'S NOT HARD TO GROW THIN

People all about you can testify to that. Most of the slender figures seen today have been won in easy ways. Many have been won by Marmola prescription tablets, based on a modern scientific discovery. People who have used Marmola for 20 years—millions of boxes of it. Now slender figures in almost every circle show what Marmola does.

A book in each box of Marmola gives the formula and states the scientific reasons for results. So users realize how and why effects are beneficial. A way which has done so much for so many deserves a test from you. Make it now, watch the results for a little while, then decide. Ask your druggist today for a $1 box of Marmola.

NEW THEATER ON EAST MAIN WILL OPEN ON MAR. 30

The Playhouse Theater in the Childers building on East Main street, now undergoing reconstruction, will open and present its first moving picture, on March 29, according to Gene Childers, owner, who is supervising the work.

The little theater is developing into a real work of art, with colorful walls of green, stippled in gold and blending tones. A large lounge room and inner lobby has been designed, where soft carpets, upholstered chairs and comfortable resting place for members of the audience, during intermissions. Ladies' rest rooms and gentlemen's smoking rooms also open off of this, as an additional attraction.

The remodeled theater will also enjoy six exits, which is unusual in a theater so small, and a definite effort on the part of the local builder to guarantee the best in fire protection. An improved ventilation system has also been installed.

Runways stretch the entire length of the theater on either side, and seats will also be placed behind a railing, given the house a semi-Elizabethan aspect.

The theater is also suitable for legitimate productions, one of the first booked to be the Little Theater play, being directed by Tom Swain, and scheduled for early in April.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—(AP)—William J. Milliken, newspaperman, died here last night. The funeral will be Saturday. Milliken was a resident of California for 20 years and a member of a firm of publishers. He was business manager of the Argonaut Publishing company here.

SPENCER CHILDERS RAZING HOUSE HE ERECTED IN 1885

When Spencer Childers, now nearing his 80th birthday, dropped into Medford in 1885, he was here but a half hour when he signed a contract to build the first brick house in the city, on the corner of Ninth and Riverside. There was only one other brick building here then, according to the pioneer builder, and that was in the present location of the Nash Hotel.

This week, Mr. Childers, who looks many years younger than his age, fulfilled another contract at the same location—that of tearing down the house he built 44 years ago. The bricks are every bit as good as they were in those days, and part of them are to be used in a building now under construction in Ashland. In the same location the new Firestone Tire company's local headquarters are to be established.

IRRIGATION CASE CONTINUED TODAY

Although begun yesterday forenoon, actual taking of testimony in the case of Ed Smith against Frank Cameron, Miles Cantrell and other Appellate ranchers to condemn an irrigation canal known as the Farmers' Ditch, did not begin until this forenoon when the plaintiff was the first witness on the stand. Smith is suing to have the ditch condemned in order to obtain six inches of convey 1.5 second feet of water from the Appellate river to his land, which he claims is in need of irrigation during the dry months.

The jury was taken to the scene of the litigation yesterday afternoon and viewed the entire ditch, now used to convey water to several ranchers having an interest in it. Smith claims he wishes water for his own land, but due to the refusal of the ranchers, has not been able to obtain it. The case is expected to be completed today.

SIX CLAIMS FILED RECORDER OFFICE

Indicating a greater activity in mining in Jackson county, six placer and quartz claims have been filed at the county recorder's office this week in the Applegate and Evans Creek sections. The arrival of better mining weather is given as the reason.

Records today revealed claims, known as the "Gold Faithful," "Golden Horn" and other titles, were filed in the Applegate section by Eva, Doris and W. P. Gammill. A claim was also filed in the same locality by Edwin A. Pearson, while in the Evans valley section, two quartz claims, "Struckit, No. 1 and No. 2," were filed by S. P. Bull of Grants Pass.

INSURANCE AGENTS TO CONVENE IN EUGENE

Cole Holmes, one of the directors of the Oregon Insurance Agents' Union announces the annual meeting of the union which will be held in Eugene Monday and Tuesday, April 8th and 9th and urges all local agents, members of the union, to attend this meeting.

As usual, various items of mutual interest and benefit will be taken up at the meeting which will be attended by Insurance Commissioner Claude A. Lee and other lending insurance men of the Pacific coast.

PORTLAND, March 21.—(AP)—The young man that has been trying to get on Mt. Scott and Woodstock business houses during the past three weeks, roused itself from brief inaction last night to punch the strong box of a furniture store on Foster road. Cash and checks totaling $165 were obtained. The robbery was the fifth attributed to the gang within a six-day period.

One seed treatment to control 9 important diseases of grains

YOU no longer need purchase a different disinfectant to treat each one of your seed grains. Scientists have now developed a remarkable new dust disinfectant that can be used on all cereals.

This new disinfectant is Ceresan. With it you can treat wheat, oats, barley, rye and sorghums—easily, quickly and economically.

Ceresan effectively controls 9 important diseases that annually steal millions of dollars from grain growers. Note, too, that Ceresan is harmless to seed and does not corrode metal parts of the drill.

Ceresan is new—but you need not hesitate to use it. Impartial experts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and numerous State Experiment Stations have proved the value of Ceresan in controlling important cereal diseases.

WHEAT—Bunt or stinking smut, and seed-borne flag smut.

On 1928 spring wheat, Ceresan reduced smut to almost nothing; the check plots had up to 32% of smut.

JATS—Both loose and covered smut.

Dr. Benjamin Koehler, of the Illinois Experiment Station, reports

Ceresan gave perfect smut control on oats, and produced a yield increase about double that obtained by treatment with formaldehyde.

BARLEY—Stripe disease and covered smut in certain six-row winter varieties.

Ceresan is the first satisfactory dust disinfectant for the control of barley stripe. Dr. H. A. Rodenheiser of the University of Minnesota, reported it entirely checked this disease.

SORGHUM—Kernel smuts.

RYE—Seed-borne stem smut. Ceresan will not clog or corrode the drill. Treats seed for only 5 to 9 cents a bushel. Harmless to seed. Directions with package.

Diseases of many other crops can be controlled with Du Bay Seed Disinfectants. Ask your seedman, druggist, hardware dealer or general merchant for FREE Ceresan pamphlet; also pamphlets on Semesan Jr., for seed corn; Semesan Red, the instantaneous potato dip; and Semesan for vegetable and flower seed and bulbs.
